First of the Submarine Fleet Requires an Extra Boost

The Cuttlefish, the first of the four submarines being built at the works of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. was launched at 9.30 this morning.

A launch of a submarine is quite a novelty as the greatest secresy is and a large crowd of spectators lined maintained during their building and the shores of Fore River. those receiving cards to the launching were fortunate.

The launching was not as successful Mr. and Mrs. James Geddes and as might have been wished as the enroad leave today for a ten days' trip to daughter Mildred, of Standish avenue, cline of the ways was not steep enough

It was 9.15 when the workmen begun to drive home the wedges that lifted the vessel from her keel.

Fifteen minutes later the soul pieces were sawed off and at exactly 9.31 she began to move. As she started Miss Eleanor Gow, the 8 year old daughter of Commander John L. Gow, pulled the colored ribbon that severed a string which held a bottle of Munn's extra dry over her bow.

The bottle dropped and as it struck this week at the New Fountain Inn, weeks with Mrs. William Chase of the steel side and the sparkling wine flowed down her sides, Miss Gow said: "I christen thee Cuttlefish."

The vessel slid slowly down the greased ways until she was clear of the building when she stuck. A tug immediately made fast and tried to pull her off but was unable. It was only until three tugs, two hydraulic rams and an electric wrench united their strength that she moved. It was 10.40 when she finally entered the water and as she left the ways she spending a few days with his sister dived like a turtle and for a minute was almost submerged. She then rose gracefully to the surface and was towed to the fitting out dock. The whistles at the works sounded their word of cheer when she started

It was quite a distinguished party that occupied the launching platform, the guests including the following: Commander M. M. Taylor U. S. N. Commander John L. Gow, U. S. N. Asst. Naval Constructor G. S. Radford, U. S. N. Lieut. Emmet R. Pollock U.

Miss Eleanor Gow who christened the Cuttlefish was a pretty little girl. She was dressed entirely in white, her dark hair being in two braids, each tied with a pink ribbon bow. She also wore a bow of pink ribbon of the same cofor at the back of the waist.

In her hand she carried a large bunch of pink carnations.

She was attended by Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Dorothy Tardy and Miss Georgie Magoun daughter of the late ensign Magoun. Immediately after the launch the party were entertained on board the steam yacht Starling by the Holland

The Starling steamed out for a two hours' cruise in the harbor. Before she came back a lunch was served on the after deck which was covered with a canopy. Although the general public were not permitted to obtain a close view of the queer looking craft there was nothing to prevent seeing her from a distance

In addition to this there was a large fleet of pleasure sailing craft in the river which had an unobstructed view. The arrangement for breaking the bottle of wine over the bow was an unique

It was suspended upon an end of a price of joice which was fastened in the centre like a sea-saw. At the other end was a fine cord which ran through a system of pullies to the enclosure where Miss Gaw stood. When the vessel begun to move it was only necessary for her to pull a ribbon which brought the cord against the edge of a sharp knife. In an instant it was severed and the pottle fell with a crash on the bow of boat. The Cuttlefish is a queer looking ressel and resembles a cigar.

Insurrection Appears to Be Rapidly Spreading

Three Thousand Armed Insurgents In Vicinity of Cientuegos -- Guerra Still Holds Forth In Western Part of Island

Hayana, Sept. 1 .- The situation is far darker at present than at any previous time since the insurrection broke out. News of an uprising in Santiago province, while not yet published here is spreading about the city and causing the gravest concern. When Mr. Sleeper, the American charge here, was told the contents of a press Santiago dispatch, he endeavored to verify it through the state department, but was told it was absolutely untrue. Subse quently the dispatch was verified from private sources and from newspaper sources,

The extent of the rising in Santiago is not known, but it is the opinion here that the worst calamity of all to befal the Palma government would be an insurrection in eastern Cuba.

The press was informed by two re liable eye-witnesses that Cardenas, which hitherto has been considered a perfectly peaceful city, was the scene of desultory fighting between police and rural guards on the one side and roving insurgents on the other.

The only province remaining perfectly peaceful is Puerto Principe. Americans having great cattle interests there are more apprehensive lest it, too, become the field of insurrectionary operations.

There are 3000 armed insurgents in the vicinity of Cienfuegos and all the small towns in Santa Clara province are controlled by insurgents, who attack and loot trains and seize the property of foreigners as well as Cubans. Trinidad is surrounded by insurgents, and the government appears powerless to protect the property of Americans and other foreigners. Railway trains are held up at will and passengers are searched. The Cuban Central railway has declined to assume responsibility for the safety of passengers or freight.

The troops in the western portion of Pinar del Rio province have not yet come up with Pino Guerra, and, according to the press correspondent with the troops, there is no present likelihood of their doing so because there are thousands of confusing mountain trails with which the insurgents are familiar, and the facility with which Guerra's sharpshooters can pick off the government troops. The government has no cavalry in Pinar del Rio and its only real soldiers are the artil-Jerymen, but as they are afoot they cannot cope with the well-mounted veterans on the insurgent side.

With a view to calming public feeling a dispatch from the governor of Santa Clara province was given out at the palace, but its statements are not borne out by any other testimony.

To add to the general apprehension, the American Protestant missionaries of Havana, who are in general charge of the field, say that reports from missionaries outside of Havana are practically unanimous in stating that the insurrection is sweeping all the country districts in the western half of the island and that they are unable to continue their work or ride over the isolated routes in their several districts.

The increasing gravity of the situation has revived discussion of the possibility of intervention by the United States. La Discusion, the semi-official organ of the administration, in an editorial, calls upon Cubans to lay down their arms and save the republic from the danger of intervention. The article appeals to the patriotism of the people, saying: "Permanent intervention would be worse than death."

The article appeals to racial sentiment by declaring that Americans hate and despise negroes; it says the war can have no other end but intervention.

Cubans Open New York Junta

New York, Sept. 1 .- In an old office building here the Cuban junta has established offices. There were no ceremonies. Colonel Aguierre says that the junta in New York is not to be used for the purpose of actively supporting the armed officers of the revolution. Its efforts, he said, will be directed solely to keeping the American people informed as to the true course of the movement.

Minister Wheeler Home Once More Fall River, Mass., Sept. 1.-Rev. Frank Wheeler, who disappeared from his home in this city two weeks ago and who was found in a freight car at Schenectady, N. Y., returned to his home here, accompanied by his wife. Wheeler declined to be interviewed, the statement being made that he was too il! to see reporters. Shortage In Borough Funds

Madison, N. J., Sept. 1 .- Hubert Van Wagner Myer, for 12 years clerk of the borough of Madison, is locked up in jail as an alleged defaulter. It is said that the amount of the defalcation may reach $10,000.

Murder Indictment Against Gillette Herkimer, N. Y., Sept. 1.-A special grand jury reported an indictment charging murder in the first degree against Chester Gillette, who is alleged to have killed Miss Grace Brown at Big Moose lake.

THE BERRY INQUEST

Medical Examiner Thinks That Woman Was Killed by Husband

Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 1.-The inquest which was begun yesterday on the death of Mrs. William M. Berry, who was found in her home last Sunday night with a bullet wound in her heart will be held open until Mrs. Berry's daughter, Mary, who has been in a highly nervous condition and practical ly prostrated since the tragedy, is able to give her evidence.

It was Miss Berry who, on returning to her home for the night from her work at a sanitarium, found the body. Her evidence as to the discovery of the tragedy, as well as to the relations existing between the individuals of the family, which included her stepfather, her mother and herself, is particularly desired.

Judge Tenney presided at the inquest. The medical examiner's report concluded with the opinion that Mrs. iam M. Berry, and that she came to her

Honesty the Best Politics

New York, Sept. 1 .- Governor Folk of Missouri was the guest of the Missouri Society of New York at a banquet given in his honor here last night. Folk delivered an address, in which he said: "Politicians today are beginning to realize that honesty is the best politics as well as the best policy. It is now generally conceded that a rascal is a rascal still, whether he calls himself a Republican or a Democrat. Partisanship is a good thing sometimes, but patriotism is a good thing all the time."

Open Switch Caused Wreck

Concord, N. H., Sept. 1 .- Two merwere seriously injured in a collision between a passenger train and a loaded freight car at West Concord. The injured men are Ola Anderson, owner of the Anderson granite quarry, and Nelson B. Braley, engineer of the passenger train. The accident was caused by an open switch. The passenger coaches remained on the track and none of the passengers was injured

Postoffice Safe Looted

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 1 .- The autodepredations in Long Island have probably appeared in this vicinity. Three men and a woman, all masked, all entered the postoffice at Highland. Realization of Fact That New England Is Not a "Breeding Place For Democracy"--Familiar Topics Threshed Over

New Haven, Sept. 1 .- Surrounded by representatives from every state in New England, William J. Bryan, former Congressman Williams of Massachusetts, former Governor Garvin of a conference held in the Tontine hotel. The conference will be followed by others for the purpose of spreading Democracy through the New England states, which Bryan said "had never the original law so that a reasonable 10 percent, may, by petition, propose specific amendment to the state constitution and have the propositions so made, submitted to the qualified electors for adoption or rejection, to the end that the people may possess direct and complete control of the state's fundamental law."

Perhaps the most important speeches at the conference were made by Willjams and Bryan, both of whom scored the alleged workings of the big corporations in congress and state legisla-, tures. Williams said that there were two issues for the Democrats of today, one the public ownership of public utilities, as advanced by Bryan in his New York speech, and the other a direct legislation by the minority contained in Governor Garvin's resolution before the

He was glad to see the railroad own ership question supported by the man who was to make the Democratic policy for the next two years. He thought that if the Republican rate legislation could be carried out successfully it might make desirable a postponement of government ownership, but that the "logical result of the Roosevelt rate policy would be to drive the railroads deeper than ever into attempted control of congress and state legislatures.' nt that the Bryan program would attract three classes of voters who made up the majority in the country, the labor element, the farmers and the small tradesmen.

Mr. Bryan spoke with great emphasis and during his brief remarks he was applauded with vigor. He dwelt principally on the question of public ownership of railroads which, he said, was one of the most important to be considered by the party, although he did not hold it as the paramount issue. He said that one harm the great railroad and other corporations did was "the corruption of young men all over the country who ally themselves with them and not with the people."

Mr. Bryan said that the first thing to do by the Democrats of New England was to make the Democratic party a trusted party. A man cannot serve two masters, he said, and we must center fielder dayy jones, captain eliminate the man who will not see to

Bryan Talks at Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 1 .- Enthuslasm for Mr. Bryan marked his appearance in this city last night. After dinner Bryan was escorted to the armory. Here he proceeded to a discussion of the trust, tariff and labor questions. For an hour Bryan assailed the Re-

Philadelphia lost a hard luck game to Cleveland in the old twelve club league. The score was close. Philadelphia had two men on bases and the late Ed Delehanty was at bat.

He cracked a long line drive across the left field fence, a sure home run. The ball was going over the fence high in the air when suddenly it changed its course, dropped straight down, hit the top of the fence and bounded back into the lot.

The crowd, which had given up in despair, was astonished. The Cleveland left fielder got the ball and by a quick throw cut down a runner at the plate and Delehanty was held at second. The next man went out and

The first intimation of change in the usual order of events came when Mildred refused to play golf on Sun-

"When a person can play all the week," she said, "I think he ought to make a difference on Sunday."

"But it is my only opportunity to play with you, and I spend my week ends here for that sole purpose," pleaded Whitney. "I cannot understand this sudden access of conscience." Mildred looked offended, and Whitney was about to apologize when Tom slipped a hand through his arm. "Come and go around with me, Mr. Whitney. Mildred is a little morbid just now, but it won't last," and as they went away together Tom explained. "It is that curate chap-he came out here last Monday and spent the weekall the women are crazy about him. Heaven knows what there is about a collar that buttons behind, but girls always go down before it like nine-

"Was he-was he especially attentive to any one?" Whitney's voice shook. "Sure-stuck to Milly like a barnacle to a lamppost. I thought when she saw him play golf she'd break away. It was enough to make angels bawl."

"Did you say she was pleased with"-"Couldn't drive six feet-made eleven strokes and six foozles to the first green, then"-

"But do you think she enjoyed"-"Then putted out in five. What do you think of that?"

"It was a hideously excruciating, revolting spectacle! Did Miss Mildred appear interested in"-

"He drove four balls into the brook and instead of cussing like a gentleman he said, 'Dear me, what an exasperating game!' It was no use trying to get any satisfaction from Tom. He talked of nothing but the curate's foozles and failures, and the only information Whitney obtained was that the parson intended to be at Windcliff every week during the remainder of the summer.

The next Saturday Whitney found Mildred more than ever ensnared by play golf Sunday, but read a book called "Narrow Paths" all the evening. Tom walked to the station with Mr. Whitney Monday morning and asked if there was anything he could do for

"Get rid of the foozling parson," said Tom. "He uses his irons like a gravedigger, and he has lost three of my new handmade pneumatics."

"I wish he was a missionary," sighed Whitney.

"In the cannibal islands," added Tom.

The following Friday Whitney received a postal card with these words: "Plot thickens. Take a vacation.

Whitney, panic stricken, went to Windcliff on the next train. He found Tom on the ninth green about to try a difficult stroke, and, laying hands suddenly upon him, asked breathlessly: "What did you mean by that postal card?" "Lucky you didn't grab till I had made that put. I might have jiu jitsued you," said Tom. "Let's see," counting on his fingers, "four to the brook, one on to the green; that is five"-

"Answer my question." Whitney shook him roughly. "Two puts in seven. Oh, that was just a threat. Thought you better be on the spot. Here comes the foozling fascinator now." After introducing the curate, Tom inquired anxiously:

"How is your head today, Mr. Seton?" "All right when I am up and about, thank you." Turning to Whitney: "I have suffered from the most peculiar symptoms lately. When I lie down at night I have a rumbling sound in my head that prevents my sleeping."

"How do you account for it?" asked Whitney. "It's the beastly dampness," Tom remarked. "A man here last summer began with exactly your symptoms and his doctor told him if he didn't go away from the lake quick he would be a raving maniac." The curate turned pale.

"Dear me, I should hate to leave this delightful place, but I cannot run such a risk as that." By August so many boarders arrived before long," said Tom. "She appears to be in love with him and his symptoms."

"She has some notion about a life of usefulness as a parson's wife. She'll drop it once he has gone." "Catch him going," Whitney groaned.

"I have hopes," said Tom.

That night Whitney lay awake with an aching tooth. He heard the curate's bed creak as the poor fellow tossed restlessly. "Roller skating in his head." thought Whitney. Then he heard Seton pacing back and forth. Presently he appeared to try sleeping again and gave forth a gentle snore. Suddenly chased after him. Reaching the garden, he was horrified to see Seton making a full tilt straight for the lake. Whitney picked up an apple and threw it, hitting Seton in the small of the back. He stopped and turned slowly around. His pursuer was upon him in an instant and, grappling the aston-Ished cleric, threw and held him down.

"Shut up," said Whitney. "I've saved

"Help! Murder!" he yelled.

"Why, it is Mr. Whitney. What do you mean?"

A young surgeon camping near the shore heard the cries and, seizing his emergency outfit, ran to the spot. "What's the row?" he asked.

"It is the curate; he was just going to drown himself." "Dear me," said Seton. "I was just going to take a plunge.'

"At this hour!" sneered Whitney. "You doubt my word?" The curate's blood was up; he fought and struggled vigorously. It took both men to handle him, but they got him down again. Whitney sat on him; the doctor took out his chloroform can, saturated a handkerchief and held it over Seton's face until he was uncon-As they lifted him to carry him in Whitney. "Do you suppose he really was only going in swimming?" "Looks confoundedly like it," said the doctor grimly.

As they passed Tom's door he looked out, and, seeing their burden, his eyes dilated with horror.

"I told him he'd be drowned going in by those rocks after dark," said Tom. "He's been there every night lately." "He is not dead-his head struck a

"Safer-for us; he has not had dope enough to hold him long." The curate left on an early train next morning before anybody was about. Tom took Whitney into the room va-

The "rumbling" was produced by pulling the thread so that it unwound rapidly.

"It was like putting an incubator baby in the refrigerator," said Tom, "but foozling disgraces a club. The sure way to stop it is to remove the cause.'

Won by Quincy Boys and Girls For Flower and Vegetable Gardens

Comparatively few people are aware of the fact that over seventy children, this summer, entered the prize contest for children's gardens, carried on under the Educational Committee of maintained between Quincy and Quincy the Quincy Women's Club. Of this Point. number, a few failed to plant the seeds at all, some had most difficult conditions to contend with, poor land and little of that, while others had either hens, cats, dogs and small children, with little helpful sympathy or suggestions from their parents.

Others have done excellent, faithful work and twenty-eight secure prizes of varying value from $3.00 to 10 cents. The prize flower garden of Elizabeth Duran on Phipps street, is well worth a visit by all. City Treasurer Fay Assumes Office of Tax Collector

Tax collector Cunningham who was elected to the office made vacant by the death of County Treasurer Smith completed his duties as Tax Collecter last night, and this morning

Mr. Cunningham tendered his resignation some days ago but it was not accepted until last night. Mayor Thompson when seen this morning said that he had received many applications for appointment to the office.

It was a bad time of year to make a change as the yearly tax bills are now going out. The office of City Treasurer is closely allied with that of Tax Collector and as the charter permits the offices of Treasurer and Collector to be held by the same person he deemed it for the best interests of the city that City Treasurer Fay be

City Treasurer Fay was therefore appointed for the unexpired term and assumed the office this morning.

HIPPLE WAS SOLE BOSS

Company's Books Not Examined by State Officials For Three Years--No Regular Meeting of Directors For 2 1-2 Years

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.-Receiver G. R. Earle of the Real Estate Trust company, which failed on Tuesday, is directing his efforts towards ascertaining if other officials or employes of the bank had guilty knowledge of President Hipple's transactions. He expresses surprise that William F. North, treasurer of the company, and Horace Hill, auditor, did not acquaint the directors with the condition of affairs if they were aware of the entanglements.

Before any of the loans were paid to Segal or other borrowers it was North's duty to approve them and Hill, Earle points out, in examining the accounts, must have observed the extensive amounts paid to one man. The fact remains, however, that no intimation was given by either man to the directors of the large loans made to Segal.

Hill declines to be interviewed. He says he has made a statement to the receiver and that Earle had instructed him not to talk for publication. Earls denies this and says he would be glad if anyone possessing information would talk. It was learned from one of the directors that Hill was Hipple's personal choice for the position of auditor. From the same source it was learned that Hill's method of auditing the accounts of the company seems to have been to check up the securities offered by Hipple and then place his seal of approval upon the total amounts of the various loans. This statement was presented to the directors.

It has become known publicly for the first time since the suspension of the company that there had not been meeting of the directors of the failed bank for nearly three years, every detail having been left to President Hipple. It was this state of affairs which caused the Clearing House association to hesitate about coming to the aid of the company at the meeting on Tuesday. During the meeting of the Clearing House bankers, Counsel Junkin for the Real Estate Trust company was asked:

"When was your trust company last examined by the state board?" "About three years ago," replied

Junkin. This frank admission caused a mild sensation among the bankers present, but when he was asked: "When the directors of the trust company examined its affairs?" his answer, "not for two or three years," caused the men who guide Philadelphia's financial institutions to gasp.

Receiver Earle said he unearthed in the bank securities aggregating about $1,000,000 face value in the name of Adolf Segal. Until he investigates more fully he will not be able to say how much they are worth. Earle reiterates his firm belief that the officers of the bank must certainly have had knowledge of Hipple's transactions with Segal and others.

The fire caught on the roof and around the chimney of the Oxford house and was beyond control from the be ginning. The occupants, of whom there were about 100, had time to save only a part of their personal effects, and the furnishings were lost. The furni-

An unsuccessful effort to stay the progress of the fire with dynamite was made, two houses being blown up, but the fire jumped over the debris to the buildings beyond.

Control finally was gained, as far as the village property was concerned, by means of the hard work of 30 firemen who arrived in a special train from Portland with an engine and wagon of hose. The flames caught in the timberland later, ran into the plains in the direction of Brownfield and burned freely, the firemen and villagers being unable to check them because of the great headway gained while they were saving property in the village. The fire in the woods was under control at 9:30 o'clock last night, and it was found that the damage there would not be extensive, although about two miles of territory was covered by the rush

Advance Did Not Suit Girls

Rumford Falls, Me., Sept. 1 .- No apparent change in the strike situation developed last evening after the meeting of the 250 girl operatives of the mill of the Continental Paper Bag company. The strike is the second which has occurred at the mill within two weeks, the girls having gone back to work in the first instance after being idle two days, with a promise of an adjustment of the wage question. The most economical and satisfactory range for cooking. company announced an increased wage schedule, but as it did not meet the expectations of the young women they went on strike again.

Grand Jury to Hear Aldermen

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 1 .- As the result of statements made by Alderman Hayes at a meeting of the board, District Attorney Sanderson has summoned before the grand jury, which is to sit in Lowell next week, Aldermen ingstone. Though the charges against these men have not been made public, it is generally supposed that they will be asked to explain their actions in certain matters relating to the recent telephone fight in this city.

New Records by Pacing Mare

Readville, Mass., Sept. 1 .- The closing of the two weeks' grand circuit meeting at the New England Breeders' track saw two more world's records established by a pacer through the efforts of Ecstatic, who went the second hear in the free-for-all in 2:013-4 and the third in 2:02 3-4. The first is the fastest, by a second, ever made by a pacing mare in a race, while the combined time of the two heats averaged faster than before made by a pacing mare in competition.

Auto Owners to Test New Law Providence, Sept. 1 .- A meeting of the Rhode Island Automobile club here to protest against the action of the Warwick town authorities in arresting and jailing autoists charged with violation of the town regulations, re sulted in a decision to test the legality of local restrictions under the existing general state law. The committee is empowered to engage legal counsel for the purpose.

Price of Ice Raised

Boston, Sept. 1 .- The wholesale ice price was raised in this city today with a view to husbanding the available small supply and to preventing a greater shortage. The retail price will not be changed, it is stated. It is expected that if the wholesale prices are increased the consumption will immediately be considerably reduced.

Editor Declines Offer of Bail Boston, Sept. 1.-Lamberto G. Mar-

Another Pacing "Ringer" Exposed

George F., Winner of Seventeen Firsts, Is Really Pacer Walter H.

After one of the most successful ringing tours ever made, during which in one season he started in twenty-one races, winning seventeen firsts, two seconds, two thirds and $2,880 in purses, George F. has been identified as the pacer Walter H., 2:141/4. George F. was owned by George F. Barnard, Royalton, Minn. He was an iron gray gelding, about fifteen hands. During the latter part of his career at least he was driven by Bert Matthews. The search which ended in his being identified as Walter H. has been pursued by Secretary W. H. Knight of the American Trotting association with great persistence and patience.

During the early spring of 1905 Mr. Barnard wrote to a party in Mechanicsburg, O., and, after some correspondence, bought on the statement of the owner and photo a gray gelding called Walter H., with a pacing record of 2:141/4. The horse was shipped from Woodstock, O., to Barnard, care of the Berry sale stable, Union stock yards, Chicago, and there delivered to Barnard or his agent by the man in charge. He was then shipped to Minnesota. where his name was changed to George purchased from a party in Minnesota a gray colt by Jubilee.

Walter H., now George F., was placed in training and soon began to show great speed. When the racing season opened in Dakota in June he was sent out and started in the green classes and made a very good showing. After several races in that state and Minnesota he was shipped to Ashland,

By this time rumors had become rife that he was a ringer and his real name was Courtland, 2:151/4, a gray pacer by Manager, 2:06%. Mr. Knight, in company with a trainer named Herr, went to Ashland to see George F. last September and found that he was not Courtland, as was claimed. Mr. Barnard furnished identification for the gray colt by Jubilee, and, as it could not be proven otherwise, the matter was dropped for the time. Mr. Barnard continued to race the horse through Wisconsin with unvarying success until the close of the season. During the winter he made strenuous efforts to sell him, and late in the spring it was reported he had done so, a man named Harris in New York being mentioned as the purchaser. About the same time Mr. Knight learned that | ferred to the "dummy" signers and sethe horse was none other than Walter H. He demanded another photo, but | Barnard claimed he could not locate the horse, as he did not have Harris'

address. Through the secret service work of the association the horse was located, and it was learned recently that he would start in a match race at Duluth, Minn. Mr. Knight, in company with J. H. the harness race fiends by eclipsing all of her past meritorious performances. At the grand circuit race meet at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., recently, in the free for all trot, Sweet Marie went a mile in 2:041/2, making the season's mark for the fastest heat trotted in a race or against time, lowering the track record from 2:06, made by Angiola, and making a world's record for the fastest heat trotted in a race by a Moon mare. She reduced her own race record by a quarter of a second.

To Sell Under Foreclosure

Providence, Sept. 1 .- Steps in the foreclosing of the mortgage held by F. E. Perkins on the Narragansett Park property have been taken and the property will be sold at auction on Sept. 24. The park was bought from Perkins in the spring of 1905 by a corporation of men identified with the running horse interests, the price being $100,000. Of this amount Perkins retained a mortgage for $65,000. The last payment of interest was due on July 20 last and has not yet been paid, this causing the foreclosure proceedings.

It is not necessary to consider those who consciously take either side for reasons purely selfish: it is sufficient to know that on both sides there are those who with great earnestness and sincerity present their theories, convinced of their correctness and sure of the necessity for their application to human society. As socialism is the newer doctrine, the socialist is often greeted with epithet and denunciation rather than with argument, but, as usual, it does not deter him. Martyrdom never kills a cause, as all history, political as well as religious, demonstrates.

Moral Passion Pervades Socialism.

No one can read socialistic literature without recognizing the "moral passion" that pervades it. The Ruskin club of Oakland, Cal., quotes with approval an editorial comment which asserts that the socialistic creed inspires a religious zeal and makes its followers enthusiasts in its propagation. It also quotes Professor Nitto of the University of Naples as asserting that "the morality that socialism teaches is by far superior to that of its adversaries;" and it quotes Thomas Kirkup as declaring in the Encyclopaedia Britannica that "the ethics of socialism are identical with those of Christian-

It will be seen, therefore, that the socialists not only claim superiority in ethics, but attempt to appropriate Christ's teachings as a foundation for their creed. As the maintenance of either position would insure them ultimate victory, it is clear that the first battle between the individualist and the socialist must be in the field of ethics. No one who has faith in the triumph of the right (and who can contend with vigor without such a faith?) can doubt that that which is ethically best will finally prevail in every department of human activity.

Best Means of Development.

Assuming that the highest aim of society is the harmonious development of the human race, physically, mentally and morally, the first question to decide is whether individualism or socialism furnishes the best means of securing that harmonious development. For the purpose of this discussion, individualism will be defined as the private ownership of the means of production and distribution where competition is possible, leaving to public ownership those means of production and distribution in which competition is practically impossible, and socialism will be defined as the collective ownership through the state of all the means of production and distribution.

One advocate of socialism defines it as "common ownership of natural resources and public utilities and the common operation of all industries for the public good." It will be seen that the definitions of socialism commonly where competition begins to be possible, but differing as to the wisdom of can have free play.

Probably the nearest approach that we have to the socialistic state today is to be found in the civil service. If the civil service develops more usefulness and more altruistic devotion to d Nepon the general welfare than private em- e Pope's Hill. ployment does, the fact is yet to be discovered. This is not offered as a criticism of civil service in so far as civil service may require examinations to ascertain fitness for office, but it is simply a reference to a well known fact-viz, that a life position in the government service, which separates one from the lot of the average producer of wealth, has given no extraordinary stimulus to higher development. It is not necessary to excuse or to defend a competition carried to a point where it creates a submerged fifth, or even a submerged tenth, to recognize the beneficial effect of struggle and discipline upon the men and women who have earned the highest places in industry, society and government.

A Friendly Rivalry.

There should be no unfriendliness between the honest individualist and the honest socialist; both seek that which they believe to be best for society. The socialist, by pointing out the abuses of individualism, will assist in their correction. At present private monopoly is putting upon individualism an undeserved odium, and it behooves the individualist to address himself energetically to this problem in order that the advantages of competition may be restored to industry. And the duty of immediate action is made more imperative by the fact that the socialist is inclined to support the monopoly, in the belief that it will be easier to induce the government to take over an industry after it has passed into the hands of a few men. The trust magnates and the socialists unite in declaring monopoly to be an economic development, the former hoping to remate appropriation of the benefits of monopoly by the government. The individualist, on the contrary, contends that the consolidation of industries ceases to be an economic advantage when competition is eliminated, and he believes further that no economic advantage which could come from the monopolization of all the industries in the hands of the government could compensate for the stifling of individual initiative and independence. And the individualists who thus believe stand for a morality and for a system of ethics which they are willing to measure against the ethics and morality of socialism.

Clubs and Tipping.

In clubs the best service is obtained where tipping is forbidden. In poorly conducted clubs tipping is allowed, but in the best conducted ones a member found guilty of tipping a servant would be liable to expulsion. The majority of clubs in America are luxuries. Wines, food and tobacco cost as much for existence, tipping is permissible. But in England the club is not a luxury, but an economy. The English founded the club, and an Englishman Under individualism a man's reward | fs a clubman because he can get at his is determined in the open market, and club a good dinner, a good bottle of where competition is free he can hope wine and a good cigar at less than half to sell his services for what they are the price he would pay at the Carlton worth. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Next Monday, Labor day, will mark the opening of the regular fall and winter season at Keith's. The inaugural bill is one of much power, including, as it will, Cressy and Dayne, Cliffe Berzac's Circus, Ned Wayburn's "Rain-Dears," Bailey and Austin, Matthews and Ashley, Paul Kleist and "Happy Jack" Gardner. Orpheum Theatre.

On Labor Day the Orpheum (formerly Empire) Theatre will be opened by manager Percy Williams as a vaudeville house and performances will be given both afternoon and evening. The success made by Manager Williams in the conduct of five vaudeville theatres in New York City is sufficient assurance that the Orpheum will offer strong attractions. The opening week will have the first Boston appearances of Arthur Prince, the ventriloquist, Fred Karno's London Comedy Company, Edna Luby, the famous mimic by permission of Lew Field, and the Empire Quartet.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The 53th season at the Boston Theatre was shered in last Monday evening with a performance of "Cape Cod Folks," Liebler & Co.'s nammoth production of the new rural nautical play. The Theatre, large as it is, was filled alnost to capacity with an exceptionally enthusiastic audience, and, judging by their many evidenes of pleasure, the same condition of affairs is likely to exist throughout the engagement. "Cape Cod Folks" is in four acts and six scenes, all laid at Provincetown. The first shows a stranded vessel which has been transformed into a residence. Next comes the schoolroom on the Cape. The third act contains three scenes, the first showing a haunted house on the edge of a marsh, the second a strip of beach, and the third the shipwreck which is said to be the most effective bit of stage mechanism yet placed before the public. The last act returns to the old ship. The story concerns the love affairs of Emily Hungertord, a young woman of some social pretensions in Boston, who becomes a school teacher.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

After a summer season of unexampled popularity, the Castle Square Theatre on Saturday evening, September 1, turns from opera to drama with the production of "Mistress Nell" begins the tenth season of the stock company at that house. A QUEER EXCAVATION.

The "Ear of Dionysius" and Its Pe-

The most remarkable artificial cavern or excavation ever made was that which has been recorded in history as the "Ear of Dionysius." This queer exeavation, which was adjoining the quarries near Syracuse, Sicily, was constructed by the slaves of the moncomedietta in which Cressy and Dayne are to arch by whose name it is known. In reality it was an exact model of a The sketch is one of the best of the Cressy gigantic human ear, 250 feet long by 80 high, and was so scientifically conis famous. Cliffe Berzac's Circus has won the structed that the interior of the grotto name of being the most entertaining animal act | became the finest "whispering gallery" ever brought to this country from Europe. M., while beginning on Tuesday, the and every word they uttered came through an orifice to the "internal ear," where Dionysius passed whole days listening to the plots that were being laid by the enemies of his government. The prisoners were, of course, chained in that portion of the underground dungeon most favorable for reflection of all sounds to the secret chamber. By this admirable system of espionage Dionysius managed to thwart every conspiracy against his government which rose during his thirty-nine years' reign. The "ear," the prison dungeons and even the staples of iron in the floors to which prisoners were chained may still be seen. It is said that the tyrant put to death the architect of the "ear" and the slaves who excavated it in order that its purpose might never be

CUNNING OF THE FOX.

Its Skill When Running For Life

From the Hounds. No other still hunter can travel so quietly as a fox, and mighty few men are as crafty as the four legged hunter when it comes to a matter of getting meat. Foxes have been seen in England slipping from bush to bush, crawling and creeping after a feeding hare, for all the world like a man stalking a deer. The fox cannot catch a rabbit in a fair chase, but its food is mostly rabbits in spite of their fleetness. But at no time does it display its skill so well as when running for life with a pack of hounds on its trail.

Olaus Magnus, archbishop of Upsala, wrote a book called "Historia de Gentibus Septentrionalibus," of which an English translation exists. This book tells of a fox that leaped from back to back of a herd of goats. As the dogs could not follow, the fox escaped.

A curious trick of English foxes is to jump as high as possible, grasping a tree branch with their teeth, hold on till the hounds have gone on and then, dropping to the ground, escape. This is similar to the trick of the American fox which jumps into a tree and rests on a branch, but American dogs are not such fools as English dogs. They gather around the tree and howl till the hunter comes.

The Tumbleweed.

Tumbleweeds spread themselves in a wholesale fashion. Instead of sending the separate seeds out into the oress and theatre-going public of Boston last the root, when these are ripe, and Fall, can now be stated without fear of contra- goes rolling along the ground before 1891, owned by the Manet Land Associates, diction to have been the most emphatic and the wind. The bare, sun scorched dessome of the results achieved supreme in mod- erts of the great west produce several tumbleweeds, and there are some in the prairie region. It is natural that they should be most abundant where there are no hills or trees to stop them in their course. But we have one Park Theatre begining with a matinee Monday | tumbleweed in the east-the old witch grass, so called, maybe, because it rides the wind like an old beldame. In September this grass spreads its head or panicle, with hairlike, purple branches, in every sandy field. When the seeds are ripe the plants are blown across the field, often piling up in masses One of the most brilliantly successful of Amer- along fences and hedgerows. Turned the Tables. Alexandre Dumas one day found in his mail a letter from a French count suggesting collaboration in the writing of a drama, Dumas to get the pecuniary benefits and the count to share in the glory. The author sent the following answer: "Sir, I am not in the habit of harnessing a horse and an ass to my carriage. I regret, therefore, that I cannot accept your amiable proposition." The count, in his turn, wrote: "Sir, your note refusing to join me in literary work is at hand. Of course you are at perfect liberty to refuse so advantageous an offer, but I forbid your calling me a horse in the future."

A Toothpick Town.

Only one characteristic diringuishes the little village of Strong, A.c., from the thousands of others that are scattered all over New England. That is the peculiar industry which serves to support the entire community. Strong is famous for nothing but toothpicks, but it is known in the trade as the place from which come the majority of the toothpicks that are used in the United States.

Courting Worry.

"My wife was rather worried when I left her this morning." "What was the matter?"

"Well, she had been worrying about something or other yesterday evening, and this morning she couldn't remember what it was."

Food For Reflection Only. I am in a hideous pickle. Here I've got nothing to eat, and the only thing

I've got to pawn are my false teeth, and if I pawn them and buy something to eat, then I can't eat it. I never was in such an awful fix in all my life.—Bos- Established 1887.

AWARDED TO GANS

Bout With Nelson Ended In the Forty-Second Round

Showed Great Generalship and Continued Fighting--Rough Tactics by Dane, Who Finally Lost on a Foul

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 4 .- "Battling" Nelson lost the fight here by fouling Joe Gans in the 42nd round of the best and longest fight seen in many years Both men were tired when the fight ended, but Gans was apparently the stronger. He was away ahead on points and smashed and cut Nelson all through the fight without being severely hurt himself.

Shortly after the 42nd round begun the men were in their usual clinch Nelson had his head on Gans' shoulder and his arm down. Several times he hit Gans below the belt, apparently feeling for a vital spot. At last he drew back his right arm and hit Gans a vicious blow square in the groin. The negro sank to his knees and rolled over on his back. Referee Siler, without hesitation, ordered Nelson to his corner and awarded the fight to Gans on a foul. Siler's decision received almost unanimous approval. The foul was so obvious that not even men who had bet on Nelson could say that it had not been committed. All through the long contest Nelson had employed rough tactics. He repeatedly butted Gans, and had to have his head hauled away by the referee.

Siler was loudly cheered as he left the ring, as was Gans, who was carried to his dressing room. Nelson and his seconds were hissed as they de-

Gans put up a remarkable fight. His endurance surprised everyone. His work was more wonderful when it is known that in the 33rd round he broke the right hand. Never after that did he strike a blow with it, with the exception 15c doz of a few short-arm jolts while clinching. He did all his work with the left hand. Gans' generalship was shown when he broke the hand. In the 33rd round he landed a hard right hand punch on the side of Nelson's face. A bone in the hand snapped and Gans stepped back with an expression of pain. He limped around as though he had hurt a foot and no one realized that he had injured the right hand. The first 15 rounds of the fight were fast. After that the men slowed up and only at intervals was there a rally Although Gans was far ahead of Nei son in points and most of the time looked like a sure winner, Nelson put up a wonderful fight on his side. The endurance and recuperative powers shown by Nelson were extraordinary. Gans fought a remarkable clear fight. He was fair in everything and twice when he knocked Nelson down cicked him up. One time, when one of Gans' punches knocked Nelson through the ropes, Gans picked him up and helped him to his feet. As the negro stood with his hands down waiting for Nelson to steady himself, Nelson gave him a vicious blow in the stomach. Nelson was roundly hissed by the crowd. The men weighed in at 132 1-4

Among those at the fight, according to announcement at the ringside, was young Teddy Roosevelt, a son of the president. The announcement that young Roosevelt was at the ringside was received with cheers, and someone yelled out: "Show yourself and turn your face toward the moving pictures." The President Rickard announced that the actual size of the purse was $33,-500, of which Nelson is to get $22,500 and Gans $11,000. Nolan would not agree to fight until this amount was insured him. Betting was freely indulged in at 10 to 7 and 10 to 6 with Gans as favorite.

BITTER CAMPAIGN

Brought to a Close by Election Day In Vermont

FIGHT FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Clement Has Backing of Democratic and Independent Voters, but Progtor Men Say They Will Win by 20,000 Majority

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 4 .- The voters of Vermont are balloting today for state officers, members of congress, members of the state legislature and county offi-

Interest centres chiefly in the contest for the office of governor. Fletcher D. Proctor of Proctor was unanimously nominated by the Republican state convention, while Percival W. Clement of Rutland, in addition to having the nomination at the hands of the Democratic party, also had the endorsement of an independent movement. This independent movement, started by Clement. resulted in a convention being held on the same day as that of the Democrats, and after consultation between the two conventions Clement was chosen as the standard-bearer and both bodies endorsed a state ticket consisting partly of straight party Democrats and partly of "independents," or "fusionists."

Mr. Clement, who four years ago polled so large a vote as independent candidate for governor, on a high license local option platform, that the election was thrown into the legislature, this year has laid emphasis on the increase in state expenditures during the past few years. He has insisted that this increase was due to mismanagement on the part of the Republican party leaders.

The Republican campaign orators have declared, on the other hand, that increased expenditures have been made necessary by the increase in efficiency and scope of various state institutions The license question was only lightly touched upon in the party platforms, both the Republicans and the Demo-

The campaign has been bitter, and many charges and counter charges have been made. The Republican party for many years has secured a arge majority in state elections, with the exception of 1902, when Clement

Pointing to the results in that year, Clement's supporters are claiming that he has a good chance to carry the state today. The Republican party leaders, however, declare that such a result would be impossible, and that the majority for Proctor will not fall short of

The re-election of Congressmen Foster and Haskins is conceded. With the whole state so fully aroused over the issues involved, it is expected that a record-breaking vote will

CANNON IN MAINE

With an Impossible Doctrine Bangor, Me., Sept. 4.-In city hall last night an audience of 2000 people heard speeches by Speaker Cannon of the house of representatives and Congressman Powers of Maine. Powers spoke first, and devoted 25 minutes to a discussion of national and state issues, reviewing the records of both parties.

Speaker Cannon began his address with a tribute to labor as the foundation of civilization. He alluded to Bryan as one of the foremost advocates of the Wilson bill and said that later on, in 1896, when labor and industry on, in 1896, when labor and industry were suffering from the Wilson tariff, Bryan had urged free silver as a panacea for all economic ills, declaring that it was not the tariff, but lack of money volume that had made hard times. Now that free silver is a dead issue, said the speaker, Bryan advances government ownership of railroads-a thing wildly impossible of achievement and uncalled for, considering that our railroads carry freight at half the rates prevailing in Great Britain. The Republican party is doing its best to remedy existing ills.

Mr. Cannon warned the people that to elect a Democratic house of representatives this fall would pave the way for a Democratic senate and president two years later, and who can doubt that Bryan, in power, would resurrect free silver as a remedy for the evils sure to follow Democratic tariff egislation?

Mr. Cannon paid a tribute to Bryan as a magnetic orator and as an honest man, but he warned the people against being carried away by silver voices. He declared that Samuel Gompers had made a serious mistake in his demands in behalf of organized labor, and that in time those who misled labor would be crushed by disasters of their own making. The speech closed with a tribute to the character of Maine men.

Nobody to Fight Moran Boston, Sept. 4 .- In an interview with Josiah Quincy he said: "Nothing will be conceded to the Moran candidacy until at least after the state primaries." Henry M. Whitney declares: "Rumors that I was to again enter the fight for the Democratic nomination for governor were not authorized by When I declined to make the

Reviews a Great Fleet as Commander In-Chief of Ships' Rails by Jackies Prove Interesting Features--Grand Illumination of Ships at Night

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 4 .- On the waters of Long Island sound, within view of Sagamore Hill, the President of the United States reviewed the greatest fleet of American warships ever assembled.

There was a ship of war for every state, 45 in all, ranging in size from the magnificent 16,000-ton Louisiana, just completed, to the fleet of little torpedo boats and the submarine craft. In three columns there stretched along the sound 12 battleships, four armored cruisers, four protected cruisers, four monitors, six destroyers, six torpedo boats, three submarines, a troopship and five auxiliaries.

President Roosevelt had a great day, for it was his day throughout. In going to the Mayflower in an open launch he was drenched by rain and spray, and the little launch was tossed about in the roughest manner by the unusually heavy sea which the stiff wind kicked up. The moment he put his foot on the deck of the Mayflower, as if by prearranged signal, the rain suddenly stopped, and before the 21-gun salute which welcomed him had been completed, the sun was shining. From that time until the review was finished not a cloud marred the spectacle.

When the Mayflower reached the head of the column, to begin the review. the fleet was surrounded by fully 500 boats loaded with sightseers to their full capacity. Steamers from New York and Connecticut ports were along the lines formed by the cordon of naval launches around the fleet. The effect was to set the navy in a huge frame. and emphasize the grandeur of the dis-

The big white ships lay motionless in the choppy sea, their massive steel sides rising from the water like walls of spotless white. Ships rails were manned by bluejackets, whose dark uniforms were relieved by the crimson coats of the marine bands.

The reception and luncheon which President and Mrs. Roosevelt, assisted by Secretary and Bonaparte, tendered to the three rear admirals and the commanding officers of all the ships, after the review, was a picturesque feature of the occasion.

From the moment President Roosevelt reached the deck of the Mayflower at 10:55 in the morning until he left for the exact attention prescribed for the commander-in-chief of the navy.

The sides of the Mayflower were with jackies when he steppe aboard. Four flourishes and ruffles were given by the buglers and the band played the national anthem. The president was dripping with water when he reached the deck, but he stood throughout the ceremony with his silk hat raised above his head, not moving from the first step he had taken on the deck. Meanwhile his flag was run to the masthead of the ship and a 21-gun salute was immediately fired. Anchor was weighed immediately and the short run to the fleet began at once. Most conspicuous of the sightseeing craft about the Mayflower was a large tug from New York with a party of newspaper men and photographers aboard. Across the wheelhouse had been placed a large muslin sign which read "Presbot." The president's eye caught this sign at once and he clapped his hands in enjoyment. "Fine, fine," he shouted. "Reform spelling."

When the Mayflower reached the head of the three columns a tremendous salute of 21 guns was fired in unison by every one of the ships and the offi cial review had begun. The flagship of the president took her course down the two-mile column of battleships and the formation. When she cleared the Maine, the first battleship and the flag ship of Rear Admiral Evans, command er-in-chief of the squadron, the Maine sent forth another 21-gun salute. It took just 25 minutes to run the length of the line past the 12 ships, and each in turn saluted. Swinging around the lower end of the column, the entir fleet was then circled by the inspecting ship and the head of the column reached by passing up through the lane formed between the second and third columns. The Mayflower then an chored at the head of the fleet. The crowning feature of the naval review was the illumination of the ships last night, begun at a signal from the Maine precisely at eight bells. when every ship flashed forth in a glow of light. The outlines of the hulls. the masts, the stacks, fighting tops and conning towers, silhoutted themselves in fire on the black horizon. At the president's residence on Sagamore Hill burned one bright light, set high up where it could be seen from all direc tions. Then the powerful searchlights of the fleet began to look at each other and at the surrounding shore line. The president, with his guests on the Mayflower, viewed the spectacle be fore returning for the night to the harbor. Then the lights on the ships died out and the greatest naval review of American history was at an end.

SMITH—In Quincy Point, Sept. 4, Mrs. Sarah A., widow of Leonard Smith, at residence of Rheumatism Cannot Be Cured Unless Uric-O is Used

The Store of E. J. Murphy is the Home of Uric-O in Quincy.

The Kheumatic person is sceptical regarding he claims of almost any remedy advertised is a cure for Rhuematism and one can scarcely lame him for being so. All the plasters and niments combined never actually cured a ase of Rheumatism. They may relieve it ne quarter, but it is sure to break out somethere else. The only sure way to cure Rheumtism, is to drive it from the system, for a song as the Uric and Rheumatic Acid remains a the blood, one is never entirely free from the trouble. This is where the value of Uric-O s a permanent cure for Rheumatism comes in the blood, one is never entirely free from the trouble. This is where the value of Uric-O as a permanent cure for Rheumatism comes in. It seeks out the Rheumatic poison in the blood, muscles and kindeys, renders it inert and harmless and drives it out of the system. That is why Uric-O is such an admirable and effective cure for Rheumatism.

The chief reason that Uric-O is such a wonderful cure for Rheumatism is, that it is designed and prepared to cure Rheumatism and Rheumatism only. It does not contain any alcohol or other so called tonics to make one "feel good" for the time being, but is composed of antidotes for the rheumatic acid poison in the system. That is the secret of its wonderful success. Rheumatism simply cannot exist in a person's system if Uric-O is used. Uric-O is sold by E. J. Murphy, "The home of Uric-O" in Quincy, at 75c and $1.00 the bottle, but if you still feel skeptical about its efficacy you can test it free of charge by cutting out this advertisement and sending same together with your name and address to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and they will send you a sample bottle free. To persons who write and say they have never used Uric-O, want to test it thoroughly, and will agree to take it systematically according to directions, they frequently send a regular 75c take it systematically according to as, they frequently send a regular 75c

Will the Auk

Another race is being sailed today n the Roosevelt cup series against the German yachts, and other races are scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday. It is notable how the Herald has changed its opinion of the Auk. The Puesday evening edition said: "The performance of the Auk in yesterday's race clearly proves that she is a very fast all-around boat, and the committee Mr. and Mrs. Pottle left at a late hour is thought to have made a very wise decision when it picked her as one of the three boats to race against the Ger-

The skipper of the Vim says that the sail used in the first race might have been too light, but they used it as they did not wish to injure their best sail. He also said that the Auk was a much improved boat, and that while the Vim might be able to hold her by the wind. she was too fast on the reach and run, Boston Advertiser says: "C. F. Adams' feat of reefing his boat in a wind blowing 20 miles an hour without hardly lowering his peak, and his speed in shaking out the reef coming home, caused much favorable comment from those who witnessed the race. Perhaps the win of the Auk is due as much to the superior ability of her skipper, Mr. Adams as anything else. Most Corrupting Influence In Politics, Says Bryan

AN ATTACK ON SULLIVAN

Scores Illinois Committeeman and His Political Methods Unmercitully and Repudiates Recent Endorsement

Chicago, Sept. 5 .- William J. Bryan, as the guest of the local Democracy, delivered two addresses here. His first speech dealt with political issues and economic questions. The second was devoted to National Committeeman Sullivan of Illinois, whose resignation Bryan has demanded, but who, despite this, was endorsed by the recent state convention which also declared itself in favor of Bryan as, the next Democratic nominee for president.

In his afternoon address Bryan said regarding his recent utterances in New York on government ownership of rail-

"I stated what I thought, with the expectation that everybody else would exercise the same freedom. I was led to my conclusions by the corruption of the people of the United States by the railroads. In my judgment we have had no more corrupting influence in American politics than the railroad. I have known conventions to be conhave known conventions to be con-trolled by passes. I have known judges to be elected by railroads, and I have reached the conclusion that this corruption cannot be eliminated until these natural monopolies become the property of the government. I am opposed to centralization and therefore I prefer that we should have the local lines owned by state governments and only the trunk lines owned by the federal government."

In his last night's speech, scoring Sullivan, Bryan said in part: "At the Mrs. Cora Thurston of Cherry avenue national convention in St. Louis I had tion, signed by more than half of the delegates to the state convention. Had Sullivan any of the instincts of a Democrat he would not have consented to hold his place against the wishes of the convention.

Cruiser Boston In Bad Condition and Crew Ready to Leave Her Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 5 .- The United States cruiser Boston, which struck Peabody rock in Rosario straits Monday noon, is now lying in deep water in this harbor in order to give divers an opportunity to examine the hull. The vessel has taken considerable water and has listed five degrees to port. Seven compartments are filled. All the lifeboats are provisioned and swung out ready for instant use.

The ship's diver, who is still at work, has found a seam three feet in length which is admitting water, but has not discovered any holes in the hull. The vessel is believed to be badly wrenched. Commander Coffman is awaiting tugs to tow the Boston to Bremerton.

The men are beginning to show the effects of the strain to which they have been subjected.

Cuban Insurgents Give Reasons For Taking the Field

THEY HOLD NO REVENGE

Claim That Only Object Is to Overthrow Illegal Government and Restore Constitutional Rights to the Country

Havana, Sept. 5 .- As days and weeks pass with no appreciable diminution of the revolution apprehension increases. The most conservative testimony from the country districts of the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara is to the effect that two-thirds of the people in the country and small towns of these three provinces are insurgent in sentiment, if not in fact. It is generally believed that the government ultimately will subdue the insurrection, but, in the meanwhile, the crops cannot be developed.

The managers of the insurrection have permitted the publication of a document purporting to have been found in an abandoned rebel camp, but which, it is reliably stated, was first issued in Havana and the original of which is believed to be in a deposit vault in the United States, signed by prominent conspirators. This document gives the full program of the revolutionists' policy. It is in the form of an agreement, and is dated Havana. July 26. With the signatures omitted the document is as follows: "The undersigned, believing that it is imperatively necessary to re-establish the vigor of the constitution and laws, which are being systematically violated by those who control power against the will of the people; who were intimidated from the polls by force, re-

III .- When these offices shall have been vacated this movement will adjust itself to the precepts of the present code, to effect which, when those illegally occupying offices shall have been excelled, those senators elected in April, 1902, and those representatives elected in 1904, shall form a congress, electing an ad interim president and vice president, who shall call elections for said offices and also for governors, senators, representatives and provincial coun-men is formed. IX .- We declare that we do not favor any specific candidate for any office, and that when the government is legally re-established, all Cubans shall have recourse for their ambitions in legitimate and peaceful methods.

In a postscript the document says: "All obligations incurred by the undersigned with those assisting in the revindicating movement will be approved by the provisional government. The undersigned shall exact this as a debt of honor." Business, which but recently promsed to be exceptionally good, is now generally slack. The sugar planters and others are abandoning the work of development until conditions become settled. The wholesale merchants of Havana are doing very little and American agents are being recalled and sent elsewhere. American planters and farmers in the western provinces are suffering no attacks by insurgents, who, on the contrary, are evincing a friendly spirit.

POLITICAL GRAFT

Boston Man Writes a Letter on the Subject to Moran

Boston, Sept. 5 .- H. T. Schaeffer, a vholesale coal and oil dealer of this city, addressed a letter to District Attorney Moran last night, in which he

"Last Thursday I was approached by a friend who said he came from those having in charge your campaign. This gentleman said your managers wished to know what my contribution to the campaign fund would be in the event of my receiving the nomination for lieutenant governor. He also said there was another candidate who was willing to contribute handsomely." Mr. Schaeffer said the course pursued appeared to him to be prohibited by laws of the state and criminal. He cited certain chapters of the corrupt practices act and claimed that the facts should be brought before the grand jury, saying: "The evil is more insidious and dangerous than the commercial graft you have recently investigated."

In a statement to the press late last night, Moran said that he would summon Schaeffer before the grand jury to allow him to reveal the name of the "friend" who made the alleged proposal, and that if Schaeffer failed to do so contempt proceedings would follow.

Funeral of Mrs. James Mears

The funeral of Mrs. Martha Mears, the widow of James Mears the former proprietor of the Great Hill house at Houghs Neck, was held on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George N. Nash of Upland road. The Rev. R. R. Shippen, her minister at Brockton, officiated.

A favorite poem of Mrs. Mears, -"Oh why should the immortal spirit be proud!" was read. Beautiful selections were rendered by the Apollo Quartette, including "Loved ones waiting for me." 'Lord, abide with me," and "Face to Face. "

The attendance of friends was very arge, and there were many floral tributes including a pillow marked "Mother," a galax wreath of roses with 'Grandma,'' baskets, flat sprays and cut

Mrs. Mears was born in Stoughton in 1821, and on her 16th birthday married Mr. Mears. They were a golden wedding couple, and had seven children, of whom five are living: Mrs. A. L. Lunn and Mrs. R. B. Grover of Brockton, William H. Mears of Chelsea, Mrs. Eva Tilden of Milford and Mrs. George Nash of Quincy. She had six grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Mr.

The Death of John Nelson

Mears died in 1894.

Thinking that the John Nelson of East Weymouth, who died in Boston as the result of a surgical operation, was their son who has been missing for 14 years, Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of 3 Garfield street visited the undertaking rooms in Boston where the body is, to see if it was their son.

They were unable to identify the oody, however. The dead man, who is said to be a stone worker, has been living in East Weymouth. On Aug. 19, so the story goes, he went to the Emergency Hospital to undergo an peration. The day following the operation he lied. Since then there has been some uestion as to the cause of his death. It is reported that the undertaker's certificate gives the cause as cerebral hemorhage, while another report says his death was due to over etherizations. It is said the man had been frequent-seen in Quincy.

War Secretary Outlines His Chief's Attitude and Tells What He Has Accomplished--Favors Tariff Revision and Has Something to Say About Gompers

Bath, Me., Sept. 6 .- William H. Taft secretary of war, addressed an audience of 3000 persons here last night. It was the secretary's only appearance in P. M. the Maine campaign.

In his speech Taft declared that the issue of the present congressional campaigns in the country is President Roosevelt-the endorsement or rejection of his policies. He declared himself as in favor of tariff revision, but under Republican auspices and at a Republican time.

He was introduced by Harold F. Sewall, who spoke of Taft as the probable successor of President Roosevelt, Regarding President Roosevelt's position on the trusts and the tariff Secretary Taft's remarks are brevitized in the following paragraphs:

BRYAN REACHES HOME

He Is Given Most Hearty Greeting by His Fellow Citizens

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 6 .- William J. Bryan last night returned to his home and was welcomed with every evidence of approval and satisfaction: Lincoln has more Republicans than Democrats, but last night there was no line of partisan division. The city was handsomely decorated for the homecoming, the non-partisan nature of the reception being emphasized in every way possi-

The Bryan train arrived shortly after 5 o'clock. A crowd was packed around the station. There was a roar of welcome as the train rolled in. Bryan's only expression as he looked down on the multitude of faces was: "Great Scot! What a crowd!"

Two hours before the time for the exercises at the capitol grounds, 35,000 persons struggled for points of vantage. Bryan was escorted to the stand by Governor Mickey. Mayor Brown welcomed Bryan home, "not as a statesman, not as a Democrat, but as that dearest to us all, our beloved neighbor." Governor Mickey spoke of the awakening of public conscience to civic righteousness and as he concluded and Bryan arose there was renewed cheering and handclapping.

Mr. Bryan began by saying that in his travels he had learned that the Arabic language contained 600 words meaning camel, and that since returning to the United States he had wished that the American language contained as many words meaning "I thank you." He declared the happiest part of the long journey was the homecoming, and then went into a general description of his

Dick Favors Patronage System

Columbus, O., Sept. 6 .- Congressman Burton, after conferring with Governor Harris, issued a statement in which he declared he was "satisfied that the governor will not permit the Republican organization to use the state patronage to perpetuate the present control. Long Marches Hinder Re-enlistments

Washington, Sept. 6 .- Long marches in the infantry branch of the army, as provided for in recent orders pertaining to annual camps of instruction, are disapproved by Brigadier General Mc-Caskey, commanding the Southwestern division, in his annual report to the war department. The recent orders, he says, will have a decided and disastrous effect upon re-enlistments.

Stensland a Prisoner at Tangler Washington, Sept. 6 .- The Moorish authorities will interpose no objection Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank of Chicago. A dispatch to this effect has been received at the state department from Minister Gunmmere at Tangler. The dispatch adds that Stensland is a prisoner in the American legation there.

THE INFLUENCE OF ZAYAS

Liberal Leader Tells Under What Conditions He Will Use It In Behalf of the Government-The Peace Proposition

Havana, Sept. 6 .- Peace is in the air, and on all sides there is hope that matters will be arranged between the government and the insurgents so as to avoid further bloodshed. However, there has been no tangible advance towards an agreement or to a definite arrangement of a basis for negotiation. In the meantime fighting has been suspended practically.

Delegates informally chosen by a small group of veterans have started to the camps of Pino Guerra, Colonei Asbers, General Guzman and other of the insurgent leaders, with the purpose of learning what will be acceptable to the actual fighting leaders of the revoluion. A similar committee started for Cienfuegos to consult under a flag of truce with the insurgent leaders in Santa Clara province.

Late yesterday afternoon General Menocal, General Cebreco and other veterans held a conference with Alfredo Zayas, the leader of the Liberal party, which, however, did not result in reaching any understanding. At the same time the executive committee of the Moderate party was holding a conference at which the subject of peace was excitedly discussed, although no determination was reached.

It is reliably stated, although the fact has not been made public, that the government commanders have been directed to suspend active field operations until it can be determined what can be done to end the war. The propositions which the promoters of the peace movement have in mind include a special session of congress to pass acts of amnesty, for the holding of municipal elections within 60 days to be supervised by members of both parties, and a new general election law providing for minority representation in all branches of the national and municipal governments.

These propositions seem to appeal to the public, although Liberals are inclined to demand also the resignation of all high officials, including the president and members of the cabinet, which the government, of course, cannot consider. It is feared that the demands of the insurgent leaders in the field will be much more exacting than those of insurgent sympathizers in the cities, who, ostensibly at least, assume to be on-combatants.

In the conference with Zayas, Zayas said that while he was desirous of assisting the peace movement, he could not use his influence unless it was to be either a temporary peace with an opportunity to arrange details later, or a peace procured at all cost. He said the whole matter was a political question which had taken the form of an armed protest and that it must be treated from the political standpoint. He called attention to the willingness of the Liberal senators and representatives, even those who were not elected at the last election, to resign if their opponents would do likewise, and make an appeal to the country. A peace to be permanent must extinguish the fires of dissatisfaction and not leave them to smoulder by covering them with ashes.

The veterans, who were somewhat puzzled to understand the attitude of Zavas, said they would communicate with him again after formulating more definitely the ideas they might have to propose. In the meanwhile they urged him to to have a full consultation with the Liberal leaders.

The Moderate leaders say they have done nothing as yet but talked matters over a little, but it is evident that some of them clearly realize the necessity of at least a semblance of an effort to bring about peace.

In an interview last night, Vice President Capote said that the result of the meeting of the executive committee of the Moderate party was a general understanding that President Palma's policy should be heartily supported.

Cannon Says Gompers Would Have Them Disregarded

HE SCORES LABOR LEADER

Savs Workmen Will Vote Under Own Hat-Brims and Not Under that of Gompers--About the Anti-Injunction Law

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 6 .- Speaker Cannon addressed a large audience here last night, and for the first time since he began his campaign in Maine he replied to President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, who opposes Littlefield's return to congress. Mr. Cannon said in part:

"Mr. Samuel Gompers has come into your district and demanded the defeat of Charles E. Littlefield, not because Littlefield has failed to properly represent the people of this district or even the working men here, but because he has failed to comply with the demands of Gompers. Gompers has introduced a new element into American politics. He does not exercise the right of petition-he demands that congress enact into law his will. He does not come here to argue—he publishes a decree in the name of labor that the public official who refused to obey his command shall be retired from public life. "On what meat does this new Caesar feed to make him different from other political bosses in this day of decadence of bossism? He is the president of an honorable organization, which has accomplished much for the wage earner and is capable of accomplishing much more when properly directed by those who exercise the functions for which they were elected to office in the union.

"It is reported that Gompers has Prompt service. made an assessment on the members of the Federation of Labor to secure money for use in this campaign. A member of the Federation may be a Republican in favor of Republican policles, but he is assessed to make a cam paign against his own interests as he sees them because Gompers is opposed. Such methods in politics have never succeeded in this country and they never will.

"Buch efforts will always fail, because every man is here a co-sovereign and he exercises his inalienable rights to unite with his fellows, be they farm ers or factory employes, or railroad men or doctors or lawyers, and agree upon policies which they believe to be for the best interests of the whole people. The working men, both union and non-union of this country, are as jealous of their sovereignty as are the farmers or any other people. They will act with the organization in what pertains to the purpose of the union, and they will follow Gompers-so long as he exercises the functions for which he was chosen as president of the Federation of Labor. But they will not follow him in his self-assumed function of dictating how they shall exercise their right of citizenship. They will go to the polls and with the Australian ballot in their hand they will walk under their own

"Mr. Gompers has a grievance against your representative, as he has against President Roosevelt, myself and other men in public life. We refused to disregard our oaths of office and enact legislation which Gompers demanded. He is aggrieved because congress suspended the eight-hour law on the Panama canal zone, as it applied to alien labor, not American labor. He is aggrieved because the president has authorized the employment of Chlnese labor in digging the canal because American labor cannot and will not go

"He is aggrieved because congress would not enact an anti-injunction law DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN which he approved and declared constitutional. Some men, among them your representative and myself, did not believe the proposed law to be either constitutional or fair to all the people. This proposed law in substance probiblied the United States courts from issuing injunctions in any case between employer and employe unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or to a property right of the party making the application, for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law: and in the next sentence the bill provided 'and for the purposes of this act no right to carry on business of any particular kind or at any particular place, or at all, shall be construed, held considered or treated as property or as constituting a property right.'

"This means that what is property and a property right under ordinary interpretation of law shall not be considered property or a property right in a labor dispute. It would be one law for the men who seek to destroy property in a strike, and another law for those who seek to destroy property under all other circumstances; one law for the striker and another law for the rest of the people.

"Mr. Gompers has blacklisted us because congress failed to pass that law. He has read us out of civilization. But speaking for myself, I had rather quit public life now and at the age of 70 quit forever, true to the civilization we have developed, true to the distribution of powers to the executive, the legislative and the judiciary which are a theck upon each other, than to retain public office at such a sacrifice to my own self-respect and at such terrible cost to the country."

A Case Where Proceedings In Court Were Unnecessary. Two or three Chicago lawyers were discussing the tricks of their trade. "A big, burly fellow from the Michigan pine forests came into my office," said one of them, "and told a very mean story about a rich man here in town who was trying to cheat him out of $2,000 or $3,000 and who had managed to get a pretty tight clutch on the money. The backwoodsman looked and talked like an honest man, and the old miser's reputation was mean enough to match the story, so I felt inclined to believe it. When he had finished I looked him up and down from head to foot. He asked me what I was looking him over for. 'Well,' said I, 'I was thinking that if I were over six feet tall and as powerful a man as you I wouldn't hire a lawyer to help me get that money.' The man's excited face smoothed out into blank astonishment. 'What do you mean?' he said. I answered: 'I mean just what I say. You are sure, are you, that he has that money in his office?' 'He had it there last night.' 'Well, you don't need a lawyer.'

"The man turned on his heel and left without another word. In a day or two he sent me a check for $50 and his thanks for my advice."

"Peace Day" at Portsmouth Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 6 .- The treaty of Portsmouth, which ended the war between Japan and Russia. was signed here a year ago yesterday at 3:47 o'clock in the afternoon, and at the same hour yesterday a tablet was unveiled to perpetuate the memory of the event. The day was observed as "Peace day" by the ringing of all the bells of the city at sunrise, noon and sunset and several hundred people gathered at the navy yard in front of the general stores building, in which the envoys met a year ago, and with appropriate exercises unveiled the tablet. Specialty of Falling From Roofs Chelsea, Mass., Sept. 6 .- For the secord timt in his life, Fred Darcy, aged 7, had a remarkable escape from death by a fall from a housetop to the side walk last night. Uncle Joe's. He sometimes remained there overnight. The lad and I always got along together very well, and after Ledger Office.

OST-In city square, or left in some store, two pair of boys' boots. Please notify Quincy, Sept. 6-lt I had known him for three or four years I discovered that curiosity was his leading trait. He wasn't curious as other boys are, but after arriving at the age of ten he took to running around the country. On a certain night when I was at Uncle Joe's and when I was fourteen years old uncle and Aunt Mary counted over $1,000 in bills they had in the house. This counting was done in their bedroom after I was in bed, and the package was then hidden under the carpet. A noise was heard at the window, and Uncle Joe went out to see if any one was spooking round, but made no discovery. Next day he went away to buy some cattle, and during the forenoon things went on as usual Just before noon the fool came over, and when the meal was ready he took his seat at the table with the rest. There were two hired men, and after dinner had been disposed of they went back to their work in a distant field.

I had been sent to roll some old cider and vinegar barrels out of the cellar and rinse them as well. I made signs to the boy to help me, but he shook his head and sat down on the doorstep and kept up such a grinning and chuckling that Aunt Mary noticed it after awhile and wondered what he had been up to. At about half past 1 o'clock a well dressed, business looking man drove up to the gate in a buggy, hitched his horse and came in. He asked me at the well if Mr. Fuller was home, and when I answered in the negative he seemed considerably put out. I followed him to the kitchen door, where he introduced himself to my aunt and explained that he had cattle to sell. After a little talk he began to tell us that he had seen a man hurt on the highway, and gradually we all came to crowd into the kitchen. Of a sudden the man pulled a revolver and said: "Sit down, the three of you, and if one of you utters a single yell I will shoot you dead!" I thought the fellow was joking and I thought the fellow was joking and was slow about sitting down. Aunt Mary was also slow in catching on, and as she finally took a chair she was pale as death. The fool laughed and pale as death. The fool laughed and sucked at his finger and seemed to consider the thing a good joke.

"Now, then, understand me," continued the man when we were seated before him. "There is money in this house. I want it. I'm going to get it if I have to kill the three of you. What are you grinning at?"

This last remark was addressed to the fool and I explained that he was a victim of misfortune. I was astonished, but not frightened. I had heard of robbers, but this man didn't come up to my notion of one at all. Neither was I aware of the large sum of money in the house. The man hauled off to private toilet. A Real Estate Agent, Room 4, Savings Bank sudden ejaculation came from her, and she appeared at the door to cry out:

During this time the fool had his hands over his mouth to prevent himself from laughing aloud, and was wondering if Aunt Mary wouldn't faint away. She said it was barely possible that Uncle Joe might have taken it away with him, thinking at the last moment that he might have need of it, and it was probably this that prevented the man from questioning us two boys. He was terribly put

The fool had been looking through the window the night before as the money was being counted. He had seen where it was hidden, and next forenoon had crawled into the room and stolen it and hid it in a hollow stump in the orchard. But for the coming of the robber he might never have given it up. He seemed to understand what the man had come for, and he enjoyed his discomfiture, and he perhaps reasoned that he couldn't bring Aunt Mary out of her faint quicker than to give her a sight of the roll. At any rate he saved the family $1,000, and they could never do too much afterward to show their M. QUAD.

"That's one of the grandest things I have ever seen done in the yachting game," said Designer Gardiner on board the committee boat when he saw what had happened. "Mr. Adams is the finest sportsman I ever met."

At the Eastern Y. C. after the race Clifford Buckman, who sailed the Vim, said: Charlie Adams is the whitest man I ever sailed against. If he bad stayed in the race he would have beaten

Owner Trenor L. Park of the Vim said: "It would be a pleasure to lose a race to a man like Adams."

On all sides words of commendation for the most graceful and courteous act of Mr. Adams were heard. Nine men out of ten would have stayed in the race and won and fought the protest out if there had been one made. Mr. Adams modestly declined to take any credit for his action, saying that it was the only thing he could do.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 7 .- Thursday's race, the third of the series be tween German and American yachts for the Roosevelt cup, was won by the Vim, owned by Commodore Park of the American Yacht club of New York. The Vim was the winner of the second of the series. The victory of the New York boat was made certain a mile and a half from the finish by the withdrawal of the Auk, owned by Charles F. Adams, and the winner of the first race of the series. The Auk withdrew because she fouled the Vim. The action of the owner of the Auk, in voluntarily surrendering his opportunities of taking the race, is commented upon here as a most sportsmanlike act. It would have been very easy for Adams to have continued in the race and had Clarence Bucknam, skipper of the Vim, entered a protest, to have declared that the Vim was at fault in bearing away from his course.

The Tilly VI (German) was the sec ond boat to finish, but a protest was entered against her by the Wansee (German) because of a foul which took place on the line just as the boat was started. The Caramba (American) was the third boat across the line 5m. 40s. behind the Tilly. Next came the Wannsee 59s. behind the Caramba while the Glueckauf IV (German) brought up in the rear nearly two minutes astern of the Wannsee.

The elapsed time of the yachts was:

Great Boom at Coliseum.

A thorough renovation is the word that the management of the Coliseum have said, which no doubt is true if we can judge by the gang of men now employed there. One would think that they were going to build a new build.

The Metropolitan Cushion Floor Company is now putting in their latest floor. The best painters and decorators of Boston have been secured at great expense to make it the prettiest and neatest rink in New England.

New skates have been bought, of which there is an assortment of wood, steel and fibre, so with that assortment there is a chance to please everyone, which is the intention of the management. On account of the large amount of repairs that is being made the Quincy coliseum will probably not be open for many days.

Many of the politicians believe the secretary of war threw out a feeler at the request of the president who, from all accounts, would like to see congress do something on the subject before the next presidential campaign.

It is suggested here that a "reasonable plan" might contemplate an extra session of congress, beginning about the middle of next March, forthe enactment of a maximum and minimum tariff law or a horizontal reduction law to promote trade relations with foreign countries. No one believes the subject could be dealt with at the short session, but the representatives of the party who are clamoring for legislation do not see what objection there would be to undertaking the work at Yesterday was the anniversary of the an extra session.

There is no doubt that the American Reciprocal Tariff league, which has done such effective work throughout the central west and the northwest, proposes to insist that the president shall take up the subject in his December message to congress. The reprecock-street spent Wednesday in Hanover sentatives of this organization want him to pave the way for legislation at an extra session.

> Recently some of the "stand-patters" have indicated that it might be wise to take tariff out of the presidential campaign by doing something to satisfy the demand within the party either at the coming short session or at a special ses-

Most persons here who know the relations that exist between the president and Secretary 1 t are disposed to believe that the secretary of war did not speak out in favor of revision without consulting his chief. The utterance strengthens the impression a good many persons received recently court had ousted him for not enforcing that the president is restive under the the prohibition law.

Dick Replies to Burton

Akron, O., Sept. 7 .- Senator Dick, in a formal reply to a recent statement of Congressman Burton, says in part: "Since Burton charges me with representing a system of spoils, used for the purpose of building up a machine, I will state, in controverting this unwarranted attack, that a careful examination of the records during the administration of McKinley, Bushnell, Nash, Herrick and Harris will disclose the fact that I made fewer requests upon any and all of these administrations than any other man having relations of an official or political character." Dick charges Burton with making the attacks with the object of securing the senatorship in succession to Foraker. Gompers a New York Voter.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 7.-Samuel Compers, for the second time in this campaign, addressed an audience here last night. In reply to certain statements made regarding him during the campaign, Gompers said that he was naturalized in New York in 1872 and has since been a citizen of the place and a legal voter. He declared that the report that the members of the American Federation of Labor had been assessed to carry on the campaign temperature will change but little.

speaker declared that Mr. Littlefield was not the proper person to represent the district in congress.

Revisios "When Necessary"

Gardiner, Me., Sept. 7 .- Senator Lodge of Massachusetts delivered his opening speech in the Maine campaign here last night. He laid stress on the duty of citizens to vote to sustain the hands of President Roosevelt by electing Republican congressmen. His entire speech was devoted to discussion of national affairs. He said that a Republican congress would at any time revise the tariff should conditions make it necessary. Bryan's advocacy of government ownership of railroads was strongly criticised by Lodge.

The contempt proceedings grew out of the fact that Rose assumed the office of mayor after the supreme

Czar Influenced by a Woman

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7 .- Informa tion has leaked out that the proposed reforms are due to the influence of Dowager Empress Marie, who, at first, counseled the czar not to take such steps, as the terrorists might interpret hem as a concession and consequent ly become bolder. She subsequently changed her view and convinced the czar that it would be better to promulgate the reforms now than to leave them to be fathered by the next parliament.

First Prize Goes to Infantry

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 7 .- The na tional team match was won by the team representing the United States infantry. The second prize was won by the United States cavalry, third prize by Massachusetts, fourth prize by New York, fifth prize by the United States navy and sixth prize by the United States marine corps. Connecticut finished 17th, Rhode Island 19th and Vermont 32nd.

Labels Must Be Truthful

Washington, Sept. 7 .- After numerous conferences the problems which have arisen over the question of labels which, under the law, must be put upon meat products, have been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Throughout the discussions Secretary Wilson stood for labels which would state exactly what the packages contained and this the packers finally have accepted.

LONG IS REBUKED

cent address by former Secretary of the Navy Long, in which he discussed the Pilgrim fathers, was the subject of critical comment on the part of nearly all the speakers at the banquet of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants last night. Samuel B. Capen of Boston referred to Long's conclusions as unwarranted, as did also several other speakers, but the most elaborate answer to Long's statements was contained in a speech by Morton Dexter of Boston, who said that to all intents and purposes Long charged the Pilgrims with being hypocrites. "For my part," said Dexter, "I absolutely repudiate any such conclusion in regard to them.

Regarding the charge of commercialism, Dexter declared that the Pilgrims were heavily in debt to merchant adventurers who fitted out their expedition, and that they made an honest and painstaking effort to pay off this debt. They should be judged, he said, by the standard of their own time, rather than by the standards of the present. As a matter of fact, said Dexter, the Pilgrims themselves were only small minority of the colony, and the laws which they enacted were to suppress the lawless element. None of the crimes imputed to them occurred until Steamer Sunk in Collision Detroit, Sept. 7.—Steamer Mil-waukee collided with steamer Nelson Mills in the St. Clair river and the Mills went to the bottom at once. James Barber, wheelsman on the Mills, and Mrs. T. J. Moore, wife of the englneer, were drowned. A second wheelsman on the Mills is reported missing. Immediately after the collision two boats put out from shore and the Milwaukee lowered another and the work of rescue of survivors proceeded. Captain Osborne of the Milwaukee said the Mills tried to cross his bow without warning and the collision was inevitable. The Milwaukee is a modern steel package freighter, while the Mills is of the old type of wooden craft.

Defiant Railroad President

St. Paul, Sept. 7 .- The state railroad and warehouse commission issued a subpoena to President Hill of the Great Northern railroad, citing him to appear before the commission Sept. 18 and give evidence in the case of the citizens of Hastings against the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The latter road carries coal for the Great Furniture, Carpets, Northern and the Northern Pacific between the Twin Cities and Hastings Hill was handed the subpoena. He read it and said: "I cannot attend that meeting. I have too much business on hand. I don't think I will be in the city at that time anyway."

Youth Killed Sixteen Men

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7 .- At a meeting last night of Social Democratic and Social Revolutionist university students it was decided not to oppose the reopening of the universities on Oct. 14, there by furnishing a possibility that the paralysis of the educational life of the country which has lasted for two schoo years may soon be ended. Among the arriving students are many thoroughly irreconcilable, one 18-year-old youth from Warsaw boasting that this summer he had killed 16 policemen or soldiers with his own hand.

Got All That Was Coming Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 7 .- The re port that "Battling" Nelson was dangerously ill and was likely to die as a result of the beating he received at the hands of Joe Gans Monday night, is not true. Aside from some few bruises and internal hemorrhages, Nelson was not severely hurt in the fight. His face was beaten up as a natural consequence of frequent collisions with Gans' fists.

Was Not an Infernal Machine Paris, Sept. 7 .- The discovery of a wooden box with a protruding fuse in the garden of the villa of Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovich in St. Cloud created a great sensation. Investigation showed that the box was filled with sand. The police are searching for the person who placed the box where it was found and believe that the practical joker is a discharged servant.

Insurgents Take Dominican Town Cape Haytien, Hayti, Sept. 7 .- Decan insurgent generals, show that at the head of 800 men they arrived before Dajabon, which was only defended by a garrison of 70 government soldiers. The latter retired into the fort and the town capitulated to the insurgent army. Disaster Overtakes Soldiers

CRIMINAL ACTION

May Be Taken Against Real Estate Trust Directors

SEGAL UNDER $25,000 BAIL

Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer of Wrecked Concern Are Held In $10,000 Each For Trial--Reorganization Plans

Philadelphia, Sept. 7 .- To determine the responsibility of the directors of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company, State Banking Commissioner Berkey came here and appointed as special bank examiners Charles M. Vollum and Meyer Goldsmith, expert registered accountants, who, with the consent of Receiver Earle, will make a thorough examination of the assets and liabilities of the concern.

Receiver Earle, after a conference with the company directors, issued a statement announcing that he hopes soon to reopen the bank and that all depositors will be protected. Earle says the directors will help reorganize the company, but he did not say how much money they have guaranteed.

The preliminary hearing of Adolph Segal, the promoter, W. F. North, treasurer, and M. S. Collingwood, assistant treasurer of the Real Estate Trust company, took place yesterday after-When the district attorney completed his case he asked the magistrate to hold the prisoners for trial in the same ball as that previously demanded, namely, $25,000 for Segal and $10,000 each for North and Collingwood. This was done, but not before counsel for Segal had made a statement that Segal would prove his innocence in court.

When it became known that Berkey had decided to personally interest himself in the company's affairs there immediately arose many rumors concerning probable criminal action against the directors. That these reports were not unfounded was made plain by Berkey himself. Receiver Earle told Berkey that he would gladly welcome any assistance and the accountants were told to begin work at once. The law gives the examiners the right to interrogate under oath any director, official or employe of the trust company or of any other company holding assets of the defunct concern.

During the past few years, Berkey declares, practically every director of the Real Estate Trust company has certified to the correctness of the reports filed by the company with the state banking department. These reports, he says, appear to have been false. If his examination sustains the falsity of the reports. Berkey declares, he will proceed against the directors and make an issue of their re sponsibility, which has never been de cided by the courts of this state.

The evidence presented through witnesses by District Attorney Bell at the hearing of Segal, North and Collingwood disclosed the methods by which Segal and Hipple wrecked the company. The most damaging testimony was that to the effect that both Hipple and Segal had repeatedly overdrawn their accounts with the knowledge of the treasurer and assistant treasurer.

Receiver Earle's plan for the reorganization of the defunct concern was given to the printer last night. It provides for the reopening of the bank by the payment of 30 percent in cash to depositors and 30 percent in preferred stock guaranteed by collateral bonds, 40 percent to be paid within 60 days. The directors of the Real Estate Trust company are to raise the necessary cash to make this settlement.

To Stay in American Waters Washington, Sept. 7 .- The navy department has decided to concentrate all stations and to replace those on the Furniture and Piano Mover.

the battleships in the navy on the home Asiatic station with armored cruisers. In accordance with this policy, the battleships Ohio and Wisconsin, which have been in Chinese waters, have started for the United States. The Ohlo sailed from Chefoo yesterday for Hampton Roads.

Marblehead to Be Laid Up

Many Deer In Connecticut

New Haven, Sept. 7 .- Deer are multiplying so fast in Connecticut-that the game commissioners are receiving notices of claims for damages from farmers by the wholesale. In the peach belt at the present time peach pickers find that in the night deer invade the orchards, nibble the fruit and pull down branches laden with ripe fruit. Market gardens are tempting the deer as well. It is expected that at the next general assembly the farmers will force legislation to check the increase of deer. The law protects deer until 1911. It frequently happens that deer are seen within the limits of the cities of the state.

The body was found in a pool of blood, with two bullet wounds in the temple. Near the body was found a revolver with two chambers empty. Two men who were in the vicinity were taken into custody pending an investigation.

Sparks Caused Chemical Explosion Medford, Mass., Sept. 7 .- A terrific explosion of chemicals in a large dye vat in the factory of the Crown Dye injured two employes, perhaps fatally, and caused considerable excitement. The injured men are Tony Rabino and Mitchel Fogelback. The explosion is said to have been caused by sparks in the boiler room.

Battreship's Acceptance Trial Rockland, Me., Sept. 7.—Battleship CHILDREN'S SCHOOL HOSE, New Jersey had her six months' acceptance trial over the Rockland course late yesterday afternoon. She went eight times over the course. As none of her officers came ashore, the result of the trial was not given out. It is said, however, that she developed a speed half a knot less than that of her first trial.

Newspaper Man Is Mayor

Dover, N. H., Sept. 7 .- George J. Foster was elected mayor of Dover by the city council last night to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mayor Pinkham. Foster was immediately sworn in. The new mayor is the publisher of Foster's Daily Democrat. He is a Republican.

Pelted With Epithets. Sir Wilfrid Lawson, the most famous temperance advocate in England, was the target of the political wits. During his last campaign for parliament Sir Wilfrid was greeted as a "peregrinating pump handle," "an old cracked teapot," "a confiscatory molly coddle," "a washed out water party," "a pop bottle pump orator," "the apostle of slops," "a maudlin mountebank" and "a buffoon." The last epithet was so often hurled at Sir Wilfrid that he remarked it reminded him of "Selah" in the Psalms. His hatred of war and rum led to an epigram which has frequently been repeated. "The country," he said, "is governed by two heathen deities-Bacchus and Mars, or, in other words, by the god of bottles and the god of battles.

Painting and Drawing. Sir Frederick Leighton once supple mented words of advice and encouragement to a struggling young artist ARE by handing him an envelope containing a check for $250, with the remark, "One day; my friend, I do not doubt that you will be able to draw even better than this." This reminds one of the anecdote told of the visit of old Joseph Gillott, the pen man, to Turner. "I have come to swap some of my pic-South Terminal Station News Stand tures for yours," he said. "What do you mean?" exclaimed Turner. "You don't paint!" "No, I don't, but I draw," said Gillott, unfolding a roll of Bank of England notes, "and here are some

PEACE PROJECTS

Are Apparently Making Little Headway In Cuba

LIBERALS STANDING FIRM

Want President and High Government Officials to Resign-Capote Would Satisfy Them-Merchants Favor Intervention

Havana, Sept. 7 .- While the peace projects have caused a general suspension of revolutionary operations, no appreclable progress towards anything like a satisfactory understanding has been made. The Liberal leaders insist that it is unjust to regard them as insurgents and assert that they are merely seeking for peace, at the same time declaring that not only must the terms of peace be better than heretofore talked of, but that there must be some unquestionable guaranty that the conditions will be carried out to the letter. The Moderates meanwhile continue is a waiting attitude. General Menocal says he has no reason to be disappointed with the progress the negotiations are making, and that the semi-official suspension of hostilities which began yesterday in Santa Clara and Havana provinces will be r 8 43 abc extended today to Pinar del Rio, giving r 9 13 abc the veterans a chance to get among their comrades and others in the field and push negotiations for peace. Menocal appears not to be discouraged by the attitude of the Liberals.

The Liberals have not yet relinquished the hope that they may be able r 4 16 abcdefghi 4 44 to force the resignation of President Palma and all the high government officials. The succession of Vice President Capote to the presidency is also discussed, Liberals seeming to think they could reach an understanding with him that would be satisfactory to all.

Many business men of Havana ridicule the whole effort for what they call a patched-up peace, which, they allege, can be no more than temporary. Some go so far as to assert that the country never can be governed rightly or investments be absolutely safeguarded unless the United States intervenes. This is frankly stated in some cases, also, by high government officials.

Despite all drawbacks, however, the fact that peace proposals are pending and that hostilities have been suspended has brought more or less hopefulness to the people of Havana. Talk concerning Capote's successio to the presidency as one of the ways of settling the trouble is persistent. Asked about these and other points of the negotiations, Menocal said: "We have not got that far, but I can rositively assure you that thus far things are going satisfactorily."

When asked concerning the result of the conference yesterday with the Liberals, the general said: "Their wish for peace is the same as ours; we are all hopeful of accomplishing it, but we have not yet taken up the details."

Government Troops Mouted In the fight which ensued the governkilled or wounded. There is great ex-

Complaint of French Fishermen St. Johns, Sept. 7 .- The French shore question has been revived under a new aspect. A French vessel fishing within territorial waters on the northeast coast complained that people on the coast destroyed her nets. British and French warships investigated and the imperial government invited the colony to punish its subjects if found to be in with officials, has been dispatched to the scene to hold a full inquiry. King Alfonso Meets Strikers Bilbao, Sept. 7 .- King Alfonso, in compliance with the request of the strike committee, received a delegation of workmen, shook hands with each of them and listened to a lengthy statement of their grievances, promising to hand over to the proper ministry the memorial which was presented to him. The king expressed regret that his position as a constitutional monarch would not permit him to do more.

Express Agent Found Guilty

An interesting point of law was raised at the district court this morning in the case of William F. Harding, who was arraigned for violation of the liquor law at Holbrook.

Harding lives in Avon and is the local agent of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Co. at that place. The company have a license to transport liquor into Avon but have no license to transport liquor to Holbrook.

It appeared that Harding delivered liquor to a man in Brookville, which is a village of Holbrook.

Harding admitted delivering the liquor at Brookville but claimed that the granting a license to the New York and Boston Dispatch company at Avon permitted them to deliver liquor in any town where they had a license to do express business.

Judge Avery took exceptions to the claim, and found Harding guilty. The case was continued until Saturday when an appeal will be taken.

BOSTON LETTER.

Massachusetts Democrats Not All Shouting For Bryan.

Conservatives Still Fighting District Attorney.

Bryan in New York, upon his return from abroad, has touched the Massachusetts Democracy with mixed emotions. When it was announced from abroad that he had become conserva- of Massachusetts. He is hardly in the tive during his long period of political retirement, a great shout went up from all the different elements of the Democracy. All the conservatives were willing to welcome him back to the country, and hand out to him the Democratic nomination two years hence on the supposition that his radicalism had been tempered by several hard winters, and they were especially glad to welcome him as a lesser evil as a presidential candidate than William Randolph Hearst.

But some of the Massachusetts Democrats returned from New York in a very confused state of mind. They are wondering what has become of Mr. Bryan's conservatism and in what respect he is less radical than in 1896, except upon the single subject of free silver, and even upon that some of them have private opinions differing somewhat from the published state.

For instance, quite a number of the members of the conservative Democracy are not hilariously enthusiastic over the nationalization of railroad trunk lines, even though Mr. Bryan stands committed to that proposition. They feel as strongly in regard to that matter as they did in 1896 on the subject of free silver. But if Mr. Bryan is radical, they do not feel that he is quite as radical as William R. Hearst, and for that reason they are not saying anything at present for publication, but it is plainly evident that the program of Mr. Bryan is much more radical than they had expected to find it.

Aside from that, there are many Democrats who feel that if George Fred Williams is to be the Massachusetts mentor of Mr. Bryan, there will not be much opportunity for anybody else to figure very largely in the counsels of war later on. Still Opposing John B. Moran. The political situation in this state is still very much in the fog on the Democratic side. Chairman Josiah Quincy of the Democratic state committee does not yet admit that Moran is as good as nominated. He does not even admit that he will be nominated at any time in the future. He is thoroughly convinced from a careful investigation extending over the whole commonwealth that there is ten times more hot air than votes in the Moran movement up to date. He is just as determined as ever to fight for the nomination of a discreet and conservative candidate as he was two months ago. On the other hand, Mr. Moran feels absolutely certain that he will be able to swoop down upon the Democratic her little brother Henri, who go to convention and elope with the nomination. He is a very different man today from what he was a few days before the carrying their school bags. Henri withdrawal of Mr. Whitney. At that | wears a capuchon, a cape with the time he was pretty well convinced that | hood drawn up over his head. Helene he was beaten. He was a comparatively meek citizen, sobered by the brella, which she tilts in such fashion thought that he would probably have to run upon the Prohibition ticket against rebuked by any threat of something a regular Democrat and a Republican awful to result if a drop of water candidate for governor. No sooner was falls on them, both children dance Whitney out of it than his attitude along in the wet, letting the drops fall changed. From a man under the on their upturned faces and laughing shadow of prospective defeat with a in glee as if the rain were another despairing look in his eyes, he became egotistic Moran. It is this Moran whom Quincy proposes to defeat for the nomination if possible. It may be said that the conservative Democrats believe that they can defeat the district attorney without any great amount of difficulty, if the task is undertaken at once. There are still three weeks to the caucuses, and in those weeks an enormous amount of organization and rallying can be done.

It is realized that any Democrat who stands up as an opponent of Moran will offer himself as a target to the vilification and the abuse of the entire Moran following. Whitney was perfectly willing to be assailed by Moran so long as he thought he had the backing of the party leaders, and it was only when he discovered, after he Sun. had practically demolished the Moran movement, that some of the leaders were rather jealous of his prominence and anxious to shine themselves, that he threw up the sponge in disgust. The one prominent leader in the Democratic column who has stood like a rock against the turbulence of the Moran movement is Josiah Quincy. He has neither been alarmed at it, dismayed at its apparent growth, or afraid to say what he thinks of it. If he were himself to be a candidate he would certainly have a strong following all over has certainly shown a tremendous machinations than of anybody else in children!" the commonwealth.

He certainly has a right to be, for Mr. Quincy is an astute politician with a wide experience, fertility in expedients, and boundless energy.

Fight Grows Bitter

As the fight develops there is more and more evidence that its bitterness is growing. Mr. Quincy has declared that the fight will go on until after the caucuses, after the convention, and possibly even beyond that. . If this is not an intimation that the conservative Democracy will fight to a finish against the hot-headed district attorney, it is difficult to interpret exactly what the meaning is, conceded in these words.

When Mr. Moran ran for the office of district attorney of Suffolk county he was an unknown quantity, an untried official. Today, according to leading Democrats, he has been tried and found wanting. He has instituted plenty of actions, but thus far none of them have borne fruit except some minor matters, and all of them have The reception to William Jennings had a political complexion. There is undoubtedly some ground to the asser tion that his chief stock in trade is promises rather than performance. Certainly he is not the type of man who has usually been elected governor same class with Wolcott, Russell, Robinson, Long, Boutwell and Andrew. The famous Essex club opened its campaign in this state last week in its annual summer outing to Nahant. The principal speaker was United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who made the occasion noteworthy by an address which held the attention of all. The senator is in good health, and his remarks were full of humor and con vincing logic. He made an especial plea for the election of Republican members of congress, pointing out the tremendous amount of work they had accomplished in the interest of the commonwealth during the last year. He showed that since July 1, 1893, there has been expended for improve ments upon the rivers and harbors of Massachusetts the sum of $7,823,105.00. He showed that there had been appropriated by the last session of congress for the state of Massachusetts $2,171, 570.00 for public buildings, aids to navigation, harbor improvements, fortifications and arsenals.

It has long been the Democratic cry hat Massachusetts should have members of congress of a different political faith from those who at present repreent her, in order that she might receive greater consideration at the hands of the national government. But it should be noted that when the delegation was nearly equally divided, the state fared no better; in fact, it fared not nearly as well as when the delega tion was nearly all Republican.

The present Republican delegation n congress has done splendid service as Mr. Lodge pointed out, and deserve well of their constituents who desire the best service possible.

Opinion That Rooms at The Woodward Can Be Used

It is probable that the School committee will be permitted to use the rooms at the Woodward Institute during the afternoons for High school pupils until such time as the High school building is ready for occupancy.

There was some question in the minds of the directors of the Woodward if the rooms could be used without hazzardin the great university race with the ing the property bequeathed by the will of Dr. Woodward.

Yesterday the Attorney General was consulted and his opinion was that there was no legal objections to the use of the rooms for a High school under the proposed conditions.

There will be a meeting of the Woodward directors, on Monday, to take action and there is not much question but what the use of the building will be permitted. If permission is granted the plans of

BOTH ARE FATALLY HURT

Bodies Filled With Minute Particles of Splintered Rock--Contractors Who Were Spectators Are Cut and Bruised

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 8 .- Two men were fatally, one seriously and 10 or a dozen others slightly injured by an explosion on Lennox hill, Granite street, this city, late yesterday. The fatally injured were Frank W. Wordenberger and George Tattnall, both of New York city. Francis Chicoine, a laborer, was seriously hurt, but will undoubtedly recover. The slightly injured include a number of Lynn and Salem contractors.

Wordenberger, a chemist by occupation, is the inventor of a new explosive compound, and Tattnall is the president of a company formed to exploit it. The two men had been touring throughout New England demonstrating the new explosive in the presence of contractors and quarry workers.

Yesterday's demonstration was given on Lennox hill, and some 40 or more contractors from this city and Salem had assembled to witness the work of the new explosive. Five holes had been drilled in the ledge and filled with dynamite. The other holes contained the new explosive.

Wordenberger was tamping one of the holes containing the new explosive and Tattnall was beside him overseeing the work. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion. For some reason which will never be known the new explosive was detonated, the concussion causing the compound in the other two holes to explode. Wordenberger and Tattnall were blown nearly 30 feet and when picked up were pitiful sights. Nearly every stitch of clothing had been torn from them by the concussion, their faces and bodies were unrecognizable, flesh hung in shreds and they were bleeding profusely. So far as could be ascertained by a hurried examination no bones were broken, but both men ewere filled full of minute particles of the splintered rock.

Chicoine was badly lacerated by the flying fragments of stone. Together with Wordenberger and Tattnall, the Italian was taken to the Lynn hospital. where it was said that he would recover. The physicians, however, said that there was no hope for Tattnall. Wordenberger died last night.

Some 10 of the spectators, who were at some distance from the scene of the explosion, were cut and bruised by falling stones and splinters of rock.

Wordenberger was the victim of a similar explosion last spring in New York city, although on that occasion he was not nearly so seriously injured as yesterday. He was able to leave his home only a short time ago. Wordenberger came to the United States from Hamburg a short time ago. In the German city he was employed as a chemist nery, and while there he discovered the compound which he had been endeavoring to place upon the

Trolley Passengers Killed

Philadelphia, Sept. 8 .- Three men were killed and a score of others injured in a grade crossing accident here last night, when a trolley car containing about 50 passengers was struck by a train of empty tank cars. Twenty persons were conveyed to various hospitals, but none of these is believed to be seriously injured. A shifting engine was backing the train and the motorman of the trolley thought he could cross the railroad tracks before the tank cars reached his car.

Aged Women Overcame Burglar

Medford, Mass., Sept. 8 .- Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, 80 years old, encountered a burglar in her home at 70 Main street last night, and in a rather unusual struggle she succeeded, with the assistance of her aged daughter, in getting the intruder from the house. The burglar fell through the window to the ground a story below and escaped while the women shouted "police." Officers came and found the man's shoes and coat in the yard.

Rich Man's Desperate Suicide

St. Louis, Sept. 8 .- The body of Claude Unger, a wealthy busintss man, was found in his home in a sealed bathroom, lying in a tub of water. About his head and over his mouth was drawn a cloth which had been saturated with chloroform and the gas in the room had been turned on. Illness is supposed to have been the cause of the suicide.

No Money For Speculation

Washington, Sept. 8 .- Secretary Shaw has made public a circular letter to all national bank depositories, in which he says in effect that he expects public moneys in depositary banks to brokers and other agents in New York for speculative purposes.

Sulcide Claim Disputed

Medford, Mass., Sept. 8 .- James Gurley, 37, shot himself through the mouth with a 22-calibre revolver at his home. It is thought his intent was to commit suicide, but the man's wife maintains that Gurley was cleaning the revolver and it was accidentally discharged. He is now at a hospital and will recover.

But as he advanced the man sudsquaring. There was nothing old looking about Joe Alibone. His complexion had the ruddy color of its youth, and his hair had scarcely commenced to turn. Force might be lacking in his face, but it was a face of perfect contentment and happiness, gentle, loving, thoughtful, benign, the face of a poet and dreamer, of a philosopher. The stranger gazed at him with wondering recognition, then opened his arms.

"Joey! Joey!" His voice choked "You look just the same as when I left. only larger."

At the familiar name Joe Alibone started, his face kindling. He had not recognized the white haired, careworn | run. figure before. But first he carefully placed a rabbit, which seemed to be hurt, upon the ground. It was this he had been looking at when he came round the hut with bent head. Then he caught his brother in his arms, his face strongly expressive of the pity and grief he felt. "Tom, little Tommy," he said, the love in his voice mingled with deep self reproach, "I oughtn't to have let ye stay off there so long a-workin' an' a-worryin'. I knowed it all the time, but I was easy an' you was set, an' it seemed less trouble that a-way. But I oughtn't Tommy, poor little Tommy. I was older an' should 'a' had my say. Ye've growed old an' tired out, while I've jest lazed my life away here in the woods. But ye shan't go off any more, Tommy. There ain't no need. It's nice here in the woods, an' there's plenty for both, an' the house's plenty big. We'll set on the log step an' look round at the birds an' things an' talk. It'll be nice. All the time his hand had been patting his brother's back as though he might be a boy who needed petting and comforting after some youthful trial or an unusually hard day's work.

Suddenly 'there was a low whir of wings, and a blue jay dropped lightly upon Joe's shoulder and from there

Tom did so, and a moment later saw the rabbit hop to Joe's side and raise itself upon its hind legs, feeling about Joe with its nose. But it did not at tempt to reach the blouse pocket that contained seeds, as Bunny did not care for seeds. Instead it poked its nose into a capacious lower pocket where there were pieces of apple and lettuce leaves and green vegetables, which were more to its liking. When it became satisfied and returned to the bushes with a large lettuce leaf in its mouth Joe rejoined his brother.

Two hours later the old men arose from the log step upon which they had been sitting. Tears were in the eyes of both. "I am sorry, Joe," Tom said, as he held his brother's hand. "I had hoped to take you back with me. I have a big house, with servants and carriages, and was looking forward to you and I spending the rest of our lives together. But we must see each other often."

"Yes, often," agreed Joe, with voice trembling. "Ye must come down, An' for all ye've said, it still seems to me this is the best place for ye to live Money gettin' has made ye old an' worn out. And so they parted, each to remain in the path which his life had made.

Origin of "John Bull."

The origin of the term "John Bull" is thus explained by a London journal: Dr. John Bull was the first Gresham professor of music, organist of Hereford cathedral and composer to Queen Elizabeth. John, like a true Englishman, traveled for improvement, and having heard of a famous musician at soon convinced the master that he was inferior to the scholar. The musician showed John a song which he had composed in forty parts, telling him at the same time that he defied all the world soothingly, "it's all right. That's my to produce a person capable of adding another part to his composition. Bull desired to be left alone and to be indulged for a short time with pen and ink. In less than three hours he added forty parts more to the song, upon which the Frenchman was so much he must be either the devil or John

These rules are as distinction-in fact, men in all walks of follows: life whose voice in such matters is listened to with respect-almost went out of their way to have their joke with the idea. Others were for the simpler spelling, but scarcely believed it would ever "take."

British authors especially seemed adverse to the idea. Algernon Swinburne denominated the proposed change as "a barbarous, monstrous absurdity." Robert Barr said, "Any attempt to alter spelling is rot." Rider Haggard declared that "the language as written by the translators of the Bible and by Shakespeare is good enough, indeed too

It was also decided to refer everything pertaining to the alphabet to the Philological association. The committee handed in a report on a phonetic alphabet the year following, and this became known as the standard phonetic alphabet or the alphabet of least resistance. It is easily understood and easily used. The Standard Dictionary used it "to give the leading or most distinct pronunciation of all words."

The first practical thing to do was to start a list of words. In 1878 eleven words were selected as a beginning. From this has grown a list mounting into the thousands. About this time England began to get interested in the idea. In 1880 the Philological society of England went to work in earnest and three years later began to work in conjunction with the American society, and a scheme for a general reform was promulgated. The list had by this time reached 300 words and grew rapidly intil in 1886 it numbered 3,500 words. The next step in the progress of the movement was to have the schoolmasters and educators take it up. Many were loath to do so and even yet are hanging back. Yet it is to be regretted that Greer did not start, because for the next six months we will have an interminable parading through the news columns of challenge stuff. In his attempt to break into a race in which he had no business to compete, Frank Greer got fooled. Greer, usually level headed and surrounded by some of the finest aquatic politicians that ever went to a national convention, must have been aware of the existence of rule 3, which prevented him from entering the championship race from a club of which he had not left the regatta committee of the national association with nothing to do in the Greer case.

propelling a boat through the water. Recently G. Towns, once the Australian champion, rowed against Stanbury, who had beaten him for the title. The result was a substantial victory for Towns, who is again champion. They were matched at single sculls, and 59 minutes past each hour until and includand the race took place at Sydney.

court this morning in the case of Olive V. Bicknell and Annie M. Ben-Charles Morey for the illegal sale of nett. liquor to Ralph Chadbourne at Houghs Neck, Aug. 27.

Chadbourne testified that he was employed by the Greenleaf Detective Mary A. Keefe, Alice J. McAlister, agency of Boston. That on the evening of Aug. 27, he met Morey on the piazza of Garbarino's barber shop. After some conversation Morey went into the shop and spoke to Garbarino. The two then crossed the street to the bake shop and went in. They came out in a few minutes and Morey came across the street. Witness went behind the barber shop and Morey delivered him a pint of liquor, for which he paid 60 cents.

After giving Morey a drink he marked the bottle and gave it to Officer Phil-

Hospital Week House-to-house Canyass

At a meeting of the finance committee of the Quincy City Hospital beld at the office of Mr. R. D. Chase, Savings Sunday. Bank building, it was decided that our Hospital Week should be the second street. week in October, the same as last year, -that is, Sunday October 7 to Sunday October 13. Active preparations for it will begin at once.

Our Hospital is now free from debt, and no additions have been made since it was established in 1889, there is most for one of the school buildings. urgent need that its growth should be made to correspond with the growth of the city. Additional wards, including a contageous ward, are required, but before these improvements can be made there must be suitable accommodations for the extra nurses that will be needed.

We understand that the trustees have already had plans drawn for a nurses' home, and the Ledger hopes shortly to be able to present them with an account of the proposed building.

Surely our citizens should see to it that this noble institution is properly equipped to do its most necessary work.

Divorces Granted In Twelve Cases

Decrees nisi were granted yesterday in twelve uncontested divorce cases in the Norfolk superior court, including the following:

Democratic Candidates

The Democrats as well as the Republicans of the Tenth Congressional district have several candidates for the nomination. When the Democratic papers were opened in Boston yesterday it was seen that there would be four names on the ticket at the Democratic caucuses in Boston, Quincy and Milton, viz: George B. Gates of Ward 15.

Edward L. Logan of Ward 14. John J. Merrigan of Ward 15. Joseph F. O'Connell of Ward 20. The nomination will be made by di rect ballot.

STRENGTH OF CHARACTER.

It Combines Power of Will and Power of Self Restraint.

Strength of character consists of two things-power of will and power of self restraint. It requires two things, therefore, for its existence-strong feelings and strong command over them. Now, it is here we make a great mistake. We mistake strong feelings for strong character.

A man who bears all before him, be fore whose frown domestics tremble and the children quake, because he has his will obeyed and his own way in all things, we call a strong man. The truth is he is a weak man. It is his passions that are strong. He that is mastered by them is weak. You must measure the strength of a subdues, not by the power of those which subdue him, and hence composure is often the result of strength. Did we never see a man receive a flagrant insult only growing a little pale and then reply quietly? This is a man spiritually strong.

Or did we never see a man bearing a hopeless, daily trial remain silent and never tell the world what cankered his home peace? That is strength.

He who, keenly sensitive, with many powers of indignation in him, can be provoked and yet restrain himself and forgive-he is the strong man, the spiritual hero.

Mrs James C. Starkey

Death came suddenly into the family of Mr. J. C. Starkey of Braintree Friday and removed a devoted wife. Mrs. Starkey has not been ill of late, except last spring she suffered a severe attack of pneumonia, and retired Thursday evening apparently as well as usual. About four o'clock Friday morning she was stricken with paralysis and from that time remained unconcious until death came about ten o'clock.

Mrs. Starkey was born in Clarendon, Vt., August 20, 1825, daughter of Wilmarth and Phoebe Robinson. She was married to Mr. Starkey in Hydeville (Castletown) Vt., Feb. 1, 1852. To them were born six children, two of whom boys died in infancy. The four living are Mrs. Emma L. Ray, of Brattleboro, Vt., Frank R. Starkey of West Somerville, George W. Excursion of 13 on Friday

Friday, and that unlucky number 13! Few sane people would have the temerity to dare the combination. There are umstances, however, in which people may find themselves when a little v. lor seems better than discretion.

This was the case with Mrs. Alex Henderson and Mrs. Alex Cowe of South Quincy yesterday afternoon when they found themselves already to start for the beach. The two ladies had planned to take their own children (two each) and a few of the neighborhood children who are playmates with their own. All went well until the start was made, when on counting the number, so that the same number could be brought all told. The little ones were too jubilant to take notice. Manager Ned Hanlon of Cincinnati to Retire From Game?

George Smith of Buffalo Only .300 Hitter In Eastern League.

Manager Ned Hanlon's retirement from baseball may follow this season's round with Cincinnati.

The former Brooklyn and Baltimore leader has wearied of trying to accomplish wonders without talented helpers. Each season strips Hanlon of some of his prestige as a great developer of players. A few more years of MANAGER NED HANLON OF CINCINNATI. such failures as have piled up in the past four or five years would put Hanlon's name into the lowest ranks as an inspiring baseball leader.

Recently Hanlon was heard to say that he had seriously considered retiring from baseball. The Cincinnati club pays Hanlon liberally, and this fact influences him in sticking to the game for this season. It may be the means of drawing him out for another year, but almost every one eventually gets enough of a good thing.

The Reds' manager is well provided for. He has amassed a fortune. Hanlon is one of the chief owners of the Baltimore franchise in the Eastern league. The club has been a big winner financially, and this fact has helped Hanlon to riches.

There are a half dozen men waiting to slip into Hanlon's place. Roger bly 30, Knights of Labor, with which Bresnahan of New York is favored by Garry Herrmann, the Cincinnati own- ganizations are affiliated, voted to call er. Murray knows baseball from all angles, and as a manager he is a greater star than he ever was a player. Joe Kelley, the Red outfielder, has had a turn or two as captain-manager. His admirers believe that he is entitled to control the club again. Hanlon is still a big figure in baseball, because he draws a splendid salary as a major league manager and has a huge income as a minor league owner. George Smith, captain of the Buffalo team has the novel distinction of being the only .300 hitter among the regulars of the Eastern league. The only others who were sharing Smith's society in that circle were Pop Foster of Newark and Steve Brodie of Providence, but neither of these is now in the league. Life With Revolver Boston, Sept. 8 .- Mrs. David E. Sharretts, wife of David E. Sharretts, a cashier in the office of the war department at Washington, shot and killed herself at the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital over the body of her husband, who had died only five minutes before at the institution. Mrs. Sharretts' act is attributed to an excited mental condition, following the long strain.

Mrs. Sharretts ended her life while alone in the room with her husband's body. Sharretts was 44 years of age and his wife was two years younger. Sharretts came to Boston from Washington several weeks ago for treatment for an intestinal disorder. He entered the homeopathic hospital. The patient was in a critical condition and an operation was arranged as a desperate and final means of saving his life. From this operation Sharretts did not Mrs. Sharretts was with her husband almost constantly and she was with him when he died.

Politicans Before Grand Jury

Boston, Sept. S .- Prominent leaders of the Democratic party of Massachusetts were called before the Suffolk county grand jury to testify in connection with charges of violation of the corrupt practices act, recently made by Henry T. Schaefer, who has been men tioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. Several of the witnesses, after leaving the grand jury room, were emphatic in their declarations that they were in no way concerned in the charges made by Schaefer. Schaefer brought the charges into publicity by writing a letter to District Attorney Moran in which he claimed that one of Moran's friends had asked him how much he would contribute to the campaign fund provided he was nominated on the ticket with Moran, who is candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

SULLIVAN'S SHOT

HAS INSINCERITY STAMP

Illinois Man Says Nebraskan Made His Fortune In Politics and Issues a Challenge to Test His Boasted Sincerity

New York, Sept. 8 .- Roger C. Sullian, member from Illinois of the Democratic national committee, last night issued a lengthy statement in which he replied to the recent attacks made upon him by Mr. Bryan. The following is an abstract of Sullivan's remarks: "Insofar as Mr. Bryan's banquet speech applies to me personally, to my character, to my business, to my associates, to my democracy, and to my political acts, I welcome the issue; and on that issue I challenge Mr. Bryan to the proof of his truthfulness, his honesty and his sincerity-that sincerity which, he boasts, is his political asset. I yield to no man in my adherence to Democratic principles as laid down by the great founder, Thomas Jefferson. Judged by that standard, I invite comparison of my Democracy with Mr. Bryan's.

"The very first paragraph in Bryan's speech on me and on the Illinois situation contains a deliberate untruth. Practically every succeeding paragraph contains either a deliberate untruth, or an equivocation of the kind that we expect only from the shifty, word-juggling

Mr. Sullivan declares that Bryan's assertion that he held his seat on the national committee by fraud was refuted two years ago at St. Louis by the national convention itself.

"Mr. Bryan says: 'I examined into his (Sullivan's) conduct of the Springfield convention before I took part in the attempt to unseat him, and at the St. Louis convention I had in writing a request for his repudiation signed by more than half the delegates to the convention.' That statement is not true. Mr. Bryan knew it was not true when he made it.

"The discussion of that Springfield convention and its action from Bryan's side is always coupled with the innuendo that the elements of the party with which I was connected had perpetrated a fraud by unseating hundreds of legally elected delegates. That innuendo is false in inspiration and

"Mr. Bryan says: 'My political asset is the confidence the people have in my sincerity.' Bryan has twice led the Democratic party to defeat, the second a worse defeat than the first. If he is proud of that evidence of the people's confidence in his sincerity, he is welcome to it. But his boast of sincerity merits further consideration. He insinuates that I make money out of politics, and that his sincerity there fore compels him to oppose my particion in Democratic affairs. The plain inference is that Bryan thinks it wrong to make money out of politics.

"This boast of his puts the stamp of insincerity all over him. If Bryan thinks it wrong to make money out of politics, he should quit making money. Bryan has not one dollar that he ever made out of anything but politics. He tried to be a lawyer; he was a failure at it. He tried to be a newspaper editor;

be was a failure at that. "He is now a man of property. As fortunes go, he is a rich man. He has 1891, owned by the Manet Land Associates," politics as a stepping stone to the lecture platform. He is in politics bequit running for president and will quit politics just as soon as he discovers that some other form of advertising will when he is announced to appear on the an's desire that I resign from the national committee, was presented to the convention in plain terms. The rollcall was 1938 against Bryan's request to 570 for it. This result ought to be, I Cross street, thence southerly in a straight line think, in the view of any sober-minded along an old wall, on land now or late of W. person, enough to settle Bryan's issue Tisdale to land now or late of R. O. Townsend

"To test Bryan's boasted sincerity a little I propose that Bryan and I put the issue as between us up to the men who sat as delegates in the Springfield convention of two years ago. Those feet; thence northwesterly in a straight line delegates are still living in Illinois; they can all be found. Mr. Bryan said tenths (66.9) feet to said Cross street; thene that a majority of them were opposed to me for national committeeman; he has said that he had at St. Louis letters from more than half of those delegates, in which they repudiated the action of the convention which resulted in my becoming national committee-

"Let us poll those delegates. Let us have this poll made under the direction of the chief justice of the supreme court of Illinois. If the majority of those delegates will support Bryan's present contention and will say that I was elected to the national committee by fraud, then I will resign from the national committee. On the other handand this I contend is but a fair proposition-if the majority of those delegates of two years ago do not support Bryan's allegation of fraud, then I will insist that Bryan shall announce that he will no longer be a candidate for the presidency at the hands of the Adams Building, Quincy. Armistice Rejected by Leading Cuban Insurgents

BRIDGES ARE BLOWN UP

Belonged to English Railroad Company and May Invite International Action by Great Britain--Insurgents Have More Men Than Government

Havana, Sept. 8 .- All peace overtures are blocked by the refusal of Pino Guerra, the insurgent leader in Pinar del Rio province, to enter into any arrangement for an armistice.

Guerra's answer to the government's announcement of its readiness to grant a 10 days' armistice is the blowing up of two bridges on the Western railway, the cutting of railway communication beyond Pinar del Rio city, and an attack on San Juan de Martinez. It is believed here that San Juan de Martinez is in the hands of the insurgents and that the garrison, containing 100 government recruits and a small force of mounted rural guards, has been defeated or captured.

The fact that other leaders of the insurrection are willing to agree to an armistice can have little effect so long as Guerra is determined to prosecute the war, and there is slight doubt in any quarter that Guerra can control the situation in his region. His force is rehim recently as ranging from 3000 to and some of them well armed.

The government force opposed to Guerra, which is under command of Colonel Avalos, comprises about 1000 men. It was reinforced last evening by 150 men and three machine guns from Havana. Avalos' force, with the exception of small detachments left at San Juan de Martinez and San Luis, is at Pinar del Rio city, but is without means of transportation to go to the relief of San Juan de Martinez. Not more than 400 of them are mounted.

Guerra refuses point blank to accept an armistice except on condition that the last presidential and congressional elections shall be annulled. That the government should consent to this is out of the question and so every prospect points to the continuance of the

In connection with Guerra's attitude it is notable that the Liberals have grown more independent. They say that on account of the government's surveillance and persecutions they will no longer hold meetings and that it is useless to consider peace under the circumstances.

All regard the blowing up of an English company's railroad bridges as a serious matter and likely to invite international action by Great Britain, or at least an interrogation of the governa certain mortgage deed given by Peter | ment at Washington by Great Britain

The conditions in Havana province outside the city, while better than those in Pinar del Rio province, are not encouraging. The situation in Santa respect to the insurgent strength, although it is believed that the armistice is being respected there.

Most of the Havana veterans speak with much gravity of the disparity in numbers of the government troops as compared with the insurgents, and also of the fact that while a great many of the latter are veterans and expert in are made up of youths unused to hardships and thus far largely unmounted.

It is generally acknowledged that up to the present time the insurrectionists are in greater numbers, better equipped. armed, mounted and fed than was Maximo Gomez' command in its best tighting days.

Princess Led Grenadier Regiment Breslau, Sept. 8 .- More than 30,000 troops, composing the sixth division of the Twelfth army corps, paraded on the review ground outside of Breslau before Emperor William. A picturesque figure in the review was the hereditary princess of Saxe-Meiningen who, in full grenadier uniform, led her eleventh regiment of grenadiers at a swinging pace past the saluting point.

Republican Party the Labor Party Auburn, Me., Sept. 8 .- Senator Lodge of Massachusetts spoke here last evening, declaring that it was the duty of the party to return Mr. Littlefield to congress. He criticised Samuel Gompers for the position he has taken in the campaign and said the Republican party is the labor party.

No Cotton Below Ten Cents Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 8 .- The executive committee of the Southern Cotton association, in session here, fixed 10 cents as the minimum price for which cotton should be sold this season.

OUR HOSPITAL

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free

Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received. The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams St., Juincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chase, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very gled confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

Young Men's Christian Association OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor. The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, ERNEST G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

LAKE OF QUICKSILVER.

Remarkable Discovery Made In Mountains of Vera Crus.

A lake of quicksilver, covering an area of more than three acres and having a depth ranging from 10 to 50 feet, has been discovered in the mountains of the state of Vera Cruz, says a dispatch from Mexico City, Mexico, to the New York World. The value of the product is estimated at many millions of dollars.

The news of this discovery was brought to Mexico City by C. A. Bungi, reputable mining man, who declared he was suffering from mercurial poisoning from having spent much time investigating the extent of the lake and coming in contact with the quicksilver. He went to Santa Rosalia Springs, in the state of Chihuahua, where he took a course of treatment for his ailment. He returned to Mexico WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL City fully restored in health.

Mr. Bungi interested F. Lagerwall, a wealthy iron manufacturer of Sweden, who is now in Mexico on business, and panied Bungi to the state of Vera Cruz and proved the truth of his discovery. This lake of quicksilver has been known to the Indians of that locality for many generations. It is situated inaccessible position. Its surface is

lieved that volcanic action in the mountains above smelted the quick-silver out of the cinnabar ore and that

Lagerwall and Feelin have agreed to provide the capital for the operation of the rich find. A tunnel will be driven through the base of the mountain and the quicksilver will be brought down

SURGERY ON THE RAILS.

Erie Railroad Has a Complete Hospital on Wheels.

In car 1099 the Erie railroad has added a complete hospital on wheels to its equipment, says the New York Herald. It is provided for use when in case of an accident passengers or employees are injured and the nearest hospital is so far away that operations on the spot become necessary.

Divided into two compartments, the sixty foot car has an operating room fifteen feet ten inches in length, equipped with an Isaacs operating table. with a movable head and foot extension, an instrument sterilizer on the right and a surgeon's basin on the left. The car also has two lockers equipped with surgical instruments and stocked with bandages, plasters, sponges, anaesthetics, antiseptics, astringents and other medical and surgical necessities.

Four foot slide doors in either side. with portable steps, permit of an easy entrance with a stretcher to the room, which has ten side windows and a large window in the roof over the operating table. All are of ground glass operated by the foot.

"BIG STICK'S" JOURNEY.

Unique Package Traveling Through

Country to White House. Express offices are on the lookout for a "deadhead" package labeled "Roose-velt's big stick," which is going around the country, to the great delight of jokers. Attached to the "big stick" are about 200 labels bearing various inscriptions from different cities in Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Texas and Colorado. The package is now headed for the eastern states, and will ultimately end its journey at the White House, says the Chicago Tribune. An agent of the United States Express company at Des Moines started the article on its travels. An inscription written by a Sioux

City man says: "With a big stick like Teddy's and plenty of room to swing it, O gee!" Another label contains the following appeal: "Teddy, hold your big stick over Russia and protect the Jews from being murdered in cold blood."

An Iowa man has written the following on a label bearing a Grinnell date: "May we always have as good a man for this big stick."

Coal as an Ornament.

Coal as an ornament in jewelry is being used in Japan. According to the Horological Journal, only the hardest and most perfect of the bits are used, and the workers in coal from whom the jewelers obtain their supply make a practice of saving for them certain pieces, often not more than two or three of the required quality being found each day. Of course this black diamond jewelry is very inexpensive, but at the same time it is pretty and a novelty as well.

Novel Use For Car Hammocks. Passengers traveling with infants in sleeping cars have found a novel use for the little hammock that is swung in all berths and which was originally intended as a receptacle for small articles of clothing, etc. Parents are now insuring a good night's rest for themselves and little one by putting the baby to sleep in the hammock. This procedure is practicable for all infants under one year of age and is the only absolutely safe sleeping place for them

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Harndin's electrical ballet, "Starlight," the oiggest success in the line in recent years in] London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna, is to have its first presentation in this country at Keith's theatre Monday, September 10th. Never since vaudeville became popular has such a big production been presented, in fact it is on a scale that in the old days was not even dreamed of, for no less than fifty people are used in it. The electrical effects are surpassingly beautiful. Others in the program will be the best team of Hart; "The Four Colleens," a dainty singing and dancing act; Mabelle Adams, a talented Weymouth.

Control Colleges Silk Linen Coat, trimmed to MRS. JOHN NOLAN, 8 Stetson Street and Colleges Silk Linen Coat, trimmed to MRS. JOHN NOLAN, 8 Stetson Street violinist, who is as pretty as she is clever; Texarkana and Walby, two soubrettes who are very nimble dancers; Zara and Stetson, novelty jugglers; Rado and Bertman in a mirthful sketch, and the kinetograph.

BOSTON THEATRE.

A new rival to the standard New England uccess is " Cape Cod Folks," now in the last fortnight of its engagement at the Boston Theatre. It has started in with a virility characteristic of its namesakes to reach for all stage records incidental to New England plays. It is the biggest kind of a popular hit, and cheers and curtain calls greet the great shipwreck scene in the third act nightly. The play fairly smacks of the salt-laden breezes of the Cape, and it seems eminently fitting that the powerful character portraval should first be greeted at the famous playhouse which has been the home of those other strong glimpses o New England life, "Shore Acres," "The Old Homestead." and "Way Down East." For 'Cape Cod Folks" is much along the same lines and bids fair to take as conspicuous a place in the hearts of New Englanders. There are matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"The Girl with the Green Eyes" is a brilliant omedy in Clyde Fitch's best vein, and its production at the Castle Square next week will bring it before the Boston public for the first time in several years. Its plot is perhaps intended as a warning to unreasonably jealous wives, but its vivacious dialogue and ingenious incidents make it the furthest possible remove from a tiresome problem play. It shows keen powers of observation on the part of the author, and it exposes to the full the foibles of modern society, but it is never preachy, and it strikes the spectator persistently as a good humored portraiture of the men and women of today.

Orpheum Theatre.

The opening performances at the Orpheun Theatre dast week called out great audiences and Manager Percy W lliams has reason to be well pleased with the reception he has had from the Boston public. Arthur Prince, the English ventriloquist, has already become the talk of the town as he was in New York throughout the summer season. Among the chief new attrac tions of next week's bill is Ida Rene who has achieved distinction in ber own peculiar style of vocal work. Suburban patrons will be pleased to know that bargain day matinees will be given throughout the week, every seat in the hous being sold at 25c.

At Inter Club Yacht Race Under Auspices of Squantum Club

One of the most successful and probably the last yacht race of the season among local clubs was the inter club Poor Boy, James Perry race sailed Saturday under the auspices Shella, L. F. Hewitson of the Squantum Yacht club. There Comet, H. L. Green was a large fleet of boats out, thirty eight competing in the several classes. The wind was strong from the southeast filling the bay with white caps and Scamper, H. B. Scates rather strong for full sail.

The dory class had a course of seven Violet, H. J. McKee miles and all other classes a course of Thialfi, Dr. W. F. Soule eleven miles. The preparatory gun ounded at 3 o'clock and ten minutes Iris, F. F. Crane later the gun for the start of the class Marvel, I. M. Whittemore X boats. The other classes were sent Hustler, H. W. The Bostonians now invaded Mac-Gregor territory, and their efforts were rewarded by Houstin driving in a daisy cutter which gave Malcolm little chance of saving. Half time arrived without further scoring, although several ineffectual corners were taken, score 2 to

At the resumption of play each team took turns at aggressive work, but the MacGregors easily outplayed their opponents in this half by reason of their superior combination. The Bostonians were too much given to gallery play. In this half Brydon and N. McDonald both added a goal for the MacGregors, while Martin scored for Bostonians. Final result, MacGregors, 4; Bostonians, 2.

Brydson and Malcolm excelled for MacGregors while Martin and Greives played well for home team.

ARMORED TRAIN IS SAFE

Insurgents Close to Capital Itself--Palma Calls Special Session of Congress--Talk of Intervention by United States

Havana, Sept. 10.—Government, military and railroad officials and the newspaper correspondents were thrown into a state of excitement last night by men who had arrived here from Paso Real with stories that the armored train which left Havana Friday and met with various obstacles beyond Herradura had been thrown from the tracks and its 300 men, machine guns, horses and equipment cap-

As these tales were confirmed by the Western Railroad's first telegraphic advices from Paso Real, they were believed to be true until authentic reports of actual occurrences were wired by those who had returned to Paso Real from the scene. The real facts of the case are that Colonel Avalos and the armored train made a junction east of Consolacion del Sur, and the government forces to that extent are improved. The news caused much relief in official circles. There is some alarm in Havana on account of the nearness to the city of several hundred insurgents belonging to the forces of Asbert, Loynaz and Castillo, some of whom are often seen in the hills at Jesus del Monte, in the southern extremity of the city. Higgins Warns Against Bosses

Albany, Sept. 10.-Still withholding any intimations as to his own attitude on the subject of a renomination, Governor Higgins has issued a statement in which he warns the Republicans of the state of the danger of "a return to the old system of boss control." He makes references to alleged bosses whom he does not name, 'without whose assistance," he says, "the governor and legislature last winter administered public affairs."

Tragedy In Presence of Crowd New York, Sept. 10 .- A man about 27 years old either fell or jumped overboard at the foot of East Twentysecond street and was drowned in full view of several hundred people despite efforts made to rescue him. Twenty minutes later the body was recovered. In the pockets of the drowned man was a library membership card bearing the name George Kearn, Bridgeport, Conn., and a key ring with the name of William Kearn on it.

Probably Crazed by Heat

Chicago, Sept. 10.-Clarence K. Fos ter, president of the People's Gas Light and Coke company, and prominent in club circles, committed suicide at his home by cutting his throat with a razor. Foster is believed to have been insane. About three weeks ago he suffered from heat prostration, and, during the last few days he had been under special care of physicians.

Threat of Turkish Sultan Brussels, Sept. 10.-It is regarded in competent circles here that Tur key's announcement of the discharge of the foreign officers of the Mace donian gendarmerie on the plea of economy must be taken as a threa of the sultan made to induce the pow ers to consent to an increase in Turk ish customs duties, which the powers are not inclined to grant.

Car Struck Telegraph Pole Chicago, Sept. 10.-A dozen persons were injured, none fatally, in a collision between two electric cars near Kenelworth, a suburb. A car of a southbound train jumped the track and struck a northbound car. The trailer bounded into a telegraph pole and passengers were hurled in all directions. Two passengers sustained fractured limbs.

Authorities at Loggerheads Odessa, Sept. 10 .- A despatch from Tiflis says that the insurrectionary movement in Transcaucasia is suddenly gathering great force. The military and civil authorities are at loggerheads. Georgia, Imeritia and Ningrelia are absolutely terrorized, being dominated by revolutionists and brigands.

Republicans Claim Credit For Out

CAMPAIGN TEXT BOOK OUT

Says Only Democratic Success Can Prevent New Records In Every Phase of Industrial Life -- Tariff Question Discussed

Washington, Sept. 10.-The Republican party, its achievements for half a century and particularly its record in the present congress, is commended to the voters of the country in the campaign textbook given out by the Republican congressional committee. The book contains 273 pages trine, embracing practically every conceivable subject upon which information may be desired.

Radicalism or conservatism, it is declared, are never matters of concern to Republicans, but it is stated "they are content with practical and progressive ideas and the maturing of those ideas into positive performance, Every statement made and all figures presented are declared in the foreword of the book to be official or authoritative

In discussing the campaign issues of 1906, the book calls attention to the fact that since the termination of the 53rd congress in 1895, the house of representatives has been Republican and adds that "there is every reason to expect that a substantial working Republican majority will be elected next November."

During those ten years, it is stated we have made a greater advance as a nation and a people than was ever made before in a generation, and, in many respects greater than during our whole previous history. There cannot, then, be the least doubt of Republican success if the voters study carefully the record of the two par-

The book says that in 1893 the Democrats had the presidency as well as ooth senate and house of representatives and the work of that single 5 rd Democratic congress cost the industries and people of the country many billions of dollars and incaluable suffering. Those facts should be weighed with the record of the Republican party before and since, and especially should the record of the present congress be studied, for though ts work is not yet finished, more has already been done in the session than by any previous congress since the War of the Rebellion.

Only Democratic success it is delared, can prevent the giving to the eople of the country new records in very phase of our industrial life, The book continues:

"Republicans have a right to claim that our financial, commercial and industrial advancement is due to the laws enacted and executed by their party leaders. The party came into power when the government and the people were practically bankrupt and without credit. A disrupted union was restored, the vast expenses of war provided, specie payments resumed a protective tariff amended from time to time and the development of the country continued till the Democratic check

"But," it is stated, "the people were quick to see their mistake and at the first opportunity restored the Republican to full power, and no party changes have been made since during a period of ten years." The industrial situation is claimed to be unparalelled In the annals of nations, and there is no sign of abatement or signal of re-

The important laws enacted at the last session of Congress are cited and reference is made to measures left over for the next session of the present congress. Then follow extracts from speeches, remarks and messages of President Roosevelt on various public matters, various statistics, railway rate law in full, and other legislation. The key-note of the discussion of the tariff question is sounded in the following statement: "Protectionists are content to let the present law stand without change or amendment so long as present conditions prevail. A slight reduction in many of our schedules," says the book, "would result in the dumping into our market of perhaps a billion dollars worth of manufactures annually more than we now import. That would mean a resort to one or two things: We would have to close our mills or reduce wages. There is possibly no other alternative.

"Protectionists do not claim that schedules are sacred and never to be altered. They do claim, however, that the so-called American system of protection, as exemplified by the operation of the Dingley law for nine years, is sacred and must be maintained. We do not have to theorize in the least degree. We have tried and tried thoroughly both high and low tariffs and we have experience as an example to guide us in reaching truth.

"A mere handful, however, of the Republican party have been asking that the duty be removed or reduced upon certain materials entering into the products of their own locality. It it believed that this demand is made more for political than for economical reasons.

Surprises Expected In Today's Balloting In Maine

GOMPERS' OPEN CONTEST

It Caused Republicans to Get Out Some of Their Best Campaign Speakers--They Expect Greatly Reduced Plurality

Portland, e., Sept. 10 .- Political leadleaders of both parties assert that uncertainty exists throughout the entire state, and many surprises are looked for today when the ballots have been counted. Two of Maine's most prominent Republicans stand out especially in the element of uncertainty, Governor Cobb and Congressman Littlefield, both of whom are residents of Rockland and both of whom seek a re-

Governor Cobb has made his campaign on purely state issues, but the candidacy of Littlefield has been given wide prominence on account of the fact that he has been opposed by President Gompers of the American Federation of 'Labor, who has made many speeches in Littlefield's district in the last three weeks.

The moral effect of a victory over Gompers in his first open contest in politices was considered of such great importance by leaders of the Republican party that Speaker Cannon of the national house of representatives was sent into the state to assist Litlefield in his campaign.

A prominent Republican orator who has been stumping the state for over a week, when asked for his opinion of the chances of the success of his ticket, said: "I hope Cobb will be elected, but I wish we had another week of campaigning to make the thing

The Democrats are confining their election prophecies almost entirely to the success of Cyrus W. Davis, the candidate for governor. His election is predicted by Chairman Jones of the Democratic state committee by a small margin.

The contest for county offices, especially the office of sheriff, will be hard fought in many instances. Outside Congressman Littlefield's district there seems little doubt that the three Republican congressmen will be returned to their seats at the next session of congress. In the fight for the legislature the Republicans concede the Democrats 50 representatives and six senators. If, as expected, the Republicans retain control of the legislature, United States Senator Frye will undoubtedly be re-elected. Others placed at the disposal of the Republican state committee were Secretary of War Taft, Senators Lodge and Beveridge and Congressman Watson of In

Over a week ago Gompers declared that he had accomplished his object and that Littlefield would be defeated at the polls. The congressman, on the other hand, expresses a belief that h will be elected by a plurality exceeding that which he received two years ago, when he defeated Horatio G. Foss of Auburn by 5000 votes.

Governor Cobb finds himself in a peculiar position of being the possible losers of thousands of votes because of the enactment at the last session of the legislature of a law which made possible a more vigilant enforcement of the prohibitory liquor statutes.

Republican leaders admit that, largely because of the operation of the socalled Sturgis law, the state ticket will probably not have a plurality exceeding 11,000, while for nearly a decade the Republican plurality has been in excess of 25,000.

Would Drive England From India

London, Sept. 10 .- The correspondent at Simla of the Daily Mail reports that a speech was delivered at Asanol, Bengal, in which the Bengali mob was openly incited to violence against the British, the speaker calling on the races of India to combine and drive them out of the country. The despatch adds that an important native journal declares that the Hindus aim to have India free of British con-

BY TWO LENGTHS

In Race With Harvard

Putney, Eng., Sept. 10.-Saturday's poat race between crews of Harvard and Cambridge universities, which was won by the Englishmen by two lengths, was probably the most surprising ever rowed on the Thames, not so much because of the result, as it had been considered anybody's race since the crews moved to Putney, as of the way in which it was won.

Cambridge got away better than their opponents, securing a lead which they maintained and which they inwere rowing steadily at 28 strokes to the minute, neither apparently exerting itself. Suddenly Harvard began to put more power in her work, and, although Cambridge already had the race won and had the advantage of water conditions, her men were compelled to increase their stroke to 33 and finished a tired-out crew. The Harvard men, on the other hand, apparently were quite fresh.

English experts say there is but one explanation for the result, that of superiority of English oarsmanship and of the English stroke. Harvard, the experts declare, was one of the finest crews physically ever seen on the river, but they were unable to overcome that training which English oarsmen receive from childhood.

While keenly disappointed at their failure to defeat the Cambridge crew, the Harvard oarsmen aer offering no excuses. The race is being discussed everywhere and the opinions are to the cause of the defeat of the Ameri cans are as diversified as are the views expressed.

The first electric express car appeared n Providence on May 27, 1901. In the course of its absorption of various trac tion utilities, the Rhode Island Company had found itself called upon to operate an along shore line of coal cars, and had put in commission an electric other freight demand as ready carriage, and that shortly it became necessary to provide suitable cars for carrying it. Therefore the company inadvertantly drifted into the electric express business in that line growing so rapidly Fi tings suitable for boarding houses and private that it had to be faced as a separate families and consists of the entire furnishings happen of reclared in a branch of railroading.

So the first experimental get-up was succeeded by well constructed freight less than 40 feet long, and fitted as commodiously as the express cars of any steam road. Large depots are maintained, and not less than 25 carloads of freight matter a day are hauled over roads radiating not less than 85 miles.

The New Bedford & Onset road was the first in Massachusetts to establish an electric express, starting business, under a special grant of the Legislature in July 1902, only a year after the beginning in Providence. One car was used at first, but as others became drunkenness at Quincy. necessary they were built and put in operation, over the company's 21 miles of track in New Bedford, Fairhaven, Mattapoisett, Marion, Wareham and

"Some years ago a young fellow (we will call him Lightbody-Lightbody's a good name for the sort of fellow he was) went to New York and got a position in a banking house. They said he was smart as chain lightning. At any rate, he climbed right up in the estimation of his employers, and soon he became their right hand man. But while they thought he was attending exclusively to their interests he was attending exclusively to his own. "Of course I had letters to first class people in my pocket, for I knew before starting that my man was cutting a heavy swath socially. I waited for some important function to let me in on an equality with the man I was after. A ball was given to which I was invited, and, getting myself up in the latest style of evening dress, I joined the throng. Of course Lightbody was there, and so was his girl. During the early part of the entertainment he was in such demand and was so devoted to his fiancee that I didn't even make his acquaintance. I didn't even make his acquaintance. When he replied I told him that I was going the same way and would be happy to take him in my carriage. He accepted the invitation, and we got in and were driven away. We had not gone far before I said to him:

"'Mr. ----,' calling him by his real name, 'how would you like to go to New York on the steamer with me? "He divined the situation at once. He made no reply for some time, then

"'There's no extradition treaty between the United States and this country, and I could put you to some trouble. but I'll go with you provided you won't give me away here and give me time to arrange my affairs. What do you say to that?'

"'All I want is you. I don't want to peach on you. The steamer sails tomorrow night. Can you be ready?' "Yes

"The next day the fellow gave out that he had been called to New York on some important financial business and said goodby to his girl, promising to be back soon. The next evening we sailed, arriving in New York in due time. "I wondered how his girl would feel when she heard that he was an em-bezzler and had gone from her to state's prison. And here's where my refraining from telling her comes in. The affair for which he was wanted involved several people besides himself, and he was the only one not to blame. The others were his friends and had families. He drew suspicion away from them by flight. On his return he presented his schemes in Central America to the losers and agreed to take them in. This he did without informing on the real culprits. The losers, finding that far more money was to be made from his concessions than they had lost, accepted his terms, gave him funds, and in two weeks he was back on the isthmus more of a high financial flier than before. His concessions turned out to be very valuable and made him and his associates rich. He married the girl and became a permanent resident of Central America. There he is greatly respected, but in the United States he is still regarded an embezzler. He never threw the blame where it belonged.

"How do I know that he was inno cent? Well, that would involve a breach of trust on my part. My profession never admits of telling secrets." FRANK P. CHENEY.

wishing to learn. It seems rather late in the season, but we are going to have a course of instructions during the winter by a most competent instructor, Commodore J. J. E. Reilly of the U. S. V. L. S. C., on resuscitation, artificial respiration, and first aid to the injured.

The crew is fully equipped with life saving apparatus and an emergency chest consisting of lint and gauze bandages, splints, salve, absorbent cotton, adhesive plaster, scissors, tweezers, blankets, towels, safety pins and restor-

Offtimes a person is taken from the water in an unconscious condition and practically drowns on dry land for the want of proper and immediate attention; each member of the crew will be competent to take care of all cases of that nature. If there is only one life saved during the existance of the crew we can feel amply repaid for organiz-

But have your children learn to take care of themselves around the water and it will save lots of worry and oft times pain.

All the members of the different crews mourn the loss of their beloved and hero friend, Capt. James Farrell of the Charlesbank crew, who gave his life in helping his fellow beings. God will certainly reward such a noble sacrifice. It is impossible for a person to realize what it means to have a life or death struggle with a drowning person unless they have had the experience themselves. GOOD AFTERNOON.

The meeting of the City Council this week has revived important questions which have been pending for some time, viz: a building ordinance, and trolley freight privileges. It also brought up two new questions, a change of location of the federal building, and gates at grade crossings on the Granite branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

The chief argument in favor of a building ordinance, seems to be a desire to prevent the erection of small wooden store buildings. Whether an ordinance would accomplish this is by no means certain.

It seems to be admitted that under certain restrictions a trolley freight would be a good thing for Quincy, but the Citizens Association desire an assurance as to the tariff rates between Boston and Quincy. Comment on the Result

Gov. Cobb made the following statement just before he retired last night: "The latest advices received by me indicate that the state is Republican by between 8000 and 10,000 plurality and that the Republicans retained control of both branches of the legislature. tarted to Kill, Pillage and Commit Most Heinous Crimes--Jewish Inhabitants of Stricken City Hiding Like Rabbits

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11-Advices from Siedlee are to the effect that the fighting and bombarding of houses, which ceased about mid-day on Monday, was resumed late in the afternoon, apparently in consequence of Governor Engelke's demand that the Jewish and Polish populace deliver up to him the members of the Jewish Self-Defense Association. The Bundists, preferring death in the open to a tame surrender, resumed the battle. Artillery was again brought into action, but it is not known if the fighting still continues.

It is impossible to obtain full details of the events at Siedlce, as the authorities absolutely forbid communication and turn back all correspond-

At Rudgusowska, 40 miles east of Warsaw, and which is the site of the great Zirardow mills, scenes similar to those enacted at Siedlee were witnessed. The soldiers are said to have killed 40 persons.

Fugitives from Siedlee report that Governor Englke issued an ultimatum declaring that he would bombard the whole town unless the terrorists surrendered. In consequence of the pillage and destruction the citizens are suffering for food and water.

The pillage and demolition beginning early Saturday was not slackened until Monday morning and continued in termittently throughout the day. The town is cordoned and the railroad sta tion, which is in the outskirts of the Astonishing Low Prices for town, is isolated, and Jews or Poles seeking to reach the station are turned back en masse. Trains are made to slip half a mile away, to prevent civilians entering them.

Two more battalions of troops have arrived from Biolystok. The streets, where the pillage raged unchecked, are clearly marked by blackened walls, burned houses, broken windows and shattered doors. Not a single store is intact in Warsaw and Peknaya, the principal commercial streets.

Most of the victime now in bosnital are wounded by gunshots or bayonets, showing the responsibility of the soldiery. Crowds of roughs are ranging the street under the encouragement and protection of the police and the Jewish inhabitants are hiding like

Warsaw, Sept. 11.-Throngs of refugees from Siedlce, many of them wounded or badly beaten, are arriving in Warsaw. All declare they gave no provocation for the attack upon them by the soldiery, and were completely surprised at the outbreak on Saturday. They declare that the shots which started the massacre, instead of being fired by terrorists were delivered by house owners and shopkeepers defending their property against soldiers, who wound up a carousal with attempts to pillage. Thereupon promiscuous fighting and slaughter began Frightened citizens sent a deputation to Governor Engelke, who refused to receive them, whereupon the Jews in self-defense tried to organize resistance, but in vain. The use of artillery by the troops and six serious fires, which there was no attempt to check, forced the citizens to abandor their houses and seek refuge in cellars The refugees declare the officers gave the troops free rein.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.-There was a revolt in the central detention prison of St. Petersburg in consequence of the death of Mlle. Semova, aged 22, a young and enthusiastic Social Democrat, who was shot and killed instantly by a sentry when she showed herself at the window of her cell overlooking the courtvard. Troops were summoned, but the authorities temporized and sent for the brother of Mlle. Semenova, to whom the insurgents delivered the body. Mlle. Semenova was a medical student and when she was shot she was seeking to divide with the prisoners some sugar which she had surreptiously obtained.

Famine Is Threatened

Berlin, Sept. 11.-The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent at Siedlee says that famine threatens the inhabitants of that place. Thousands of Jews have hidden themselves in cellars and many wounded have been taken to the hospitals. There are over 1000 Jewish prisoners. All shops and offices have been closed and dead silence prevails in the town.

There are many causes of nervousness, but poor blood heads the list. The doctors call it anemia. The blood lacks red corpuscles. At your first opportunity, consult your doctor about taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ask him if he has anything better for weakness, debility, nervousness. If he has, take it. If not, take Aver's Sarsaparilla. Get well, that's what you are after. We have no secrets! We publish J.C. Ayer Co. the formulas of all our medicines! Lowell, Mass

DUEL IN THE DARK

Pole Kills a Fellow Countryman Who Was Prowling Around Pawtucket, R. I., Sept. 11-In a pistol duel at a tenement house in this city late last night one Pole killed another. The victim was Wladyslaw Mizowsky, 28 years old, who lived at 116 Waters street and who is said to have been intruding into another part of the same house occupied by Stanislaw Wiotsikowski. The later says that Mizowsky had been paying attention to his wife and that when he discovered him creeping cautiously into his part of the house with a revolver in his hand he seized a similar weapon and the two exchanged several shots in the dimly Green Montain Potatoes, lighted hall. The intruder was shot five times and he fell dead. Wiotsikowski reported the affair to the police and he and his wife were looked Smoked Shoulder, 10c. lb up on a charge of murder.

Strike Breakers Had To Hustle

San Francisco, Sept. 11 .- A disturbance that, at times, assumed the proportions of a riot last night marked the departure of 150 strike-breakers brought to break the strike of the United Railways employes. Surrounded by armed guards and as many members of the police department as could be rushed to the scene the men were chased haif way across the city, pursued by a crowd of strike sympathizers, who hurled bricks and shouted abuse. Becoming frightened, the guards and strike-breakers began shooting. The affair ended at the ferry building, where 20 armed guards were arrested. Reports from the hospitals of the city indicate that a dozen persons were wounded, but none seriously. The mobs were dispersed by the police after the strike-breakers had been hurried aboard a departing fer-

MARTIAL LAW NOW

Serious Crisis Reached In the Cuban Insurrection

NO PARDON FOR REBELS

Prominent Liberals, Including Congressmen, Who Have Not Fled Are Placed Under Arrest -- Peace Advocates Now Declare Against the Government

Havana, Sept. 11-President Palma last night issued a decree suspending all constitutional guarantees, particularly the articles Nos. 15, 16, 17, 19, 22, r 1 43 abc 23, 24 and 27, in the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara. The r 3 43 abc law enforcing public order, which is equivalent to martial law, is also put into immediate effect in the three provinces named.

A supplemental decree has been issued suspending the decree of Aug. 28, pardoning repentant rebels, and ordering that all rebels be arrested and jailed. Both decrees have been com- | r 10 01 abcdef HAVING Completed two years of the Teacher's Pranoforte Normal Course, at Coincident with the issuance of the Coincident with the issuance of the decrees, which followed last night's

When the news of the issuance of these decrees reached the veterans' peace committee, which was in session at the home of General Menocal, there was immediate and almost unanimous denunciation of President Palma and other members of the government. Senator Sanguili, independent, made an impassioned speech, in which he declared that there remained for Cubans but two roads to travel, one of d Neponset honor, and the other of disgrace. The e Pope's Hill. government, he said, had refused offers of endeavors to settle the difficulty pacifically, and so nothing was left but to side with its opponents. General Collazo and other prominent eterans made similar speeches, and

General Menocal coincided with the views of the other speakers. It appears probable that most of the members of the veterans' peace commission will join the insurgents. MANAGEMENT OF SERVANTS How to Engage a Maid and Instruct

Her Intelligently. When engaging a servant be careful to explain her work to her; also show her that the work must be done in your way and not hers or the way her former mistress had it done. When she does well in her work encourage her by a few words of praise. Never reprove her in the presence of others and above all while she is serving a meal, says the New York Journal.

Retain your temper at all times. Give your orders for each day as early as possible, and if it seems necessary write them down very distinctly and clearly on a piece of paper and fasten it up in the pantry, kitchen or some other convenient place.

See that she is extremely neat in her dress, hair neatly and simply arranged, no jewelry worn, a perfectly clean apron, collar, cuffs and cap and a spotless gown. It is well to give strict orders in regard to the hours when the servants are allowed to have visitors.

Tell the maid who opens the door never to let the visitors stand in the hall, but to show them immediately into the drawing room. Instruct her carefully what she must say in reply to messages left at the door or when persons who call are not to be admitted.

Most persons prefer to have the maid say that "Mrs. Brown is not at home," meaning that she is not at home to callers. It is purely a matter of form and is not considered an untruth. However, some persons are scrupulous in this matter and prefer to have the maid say, "Mrs. Brown begs to be excused this afternoon."

How to Clean Matting.

To clean matting it should be first swept thoroughly with a stiff broom, following the grain of the straw, then swept across the grain with a soft broom that has been dipped in warm water, says the New York Telegram. Then wash thoroughly in warm water in which a handful of salt has been dissolved. Nothing brightens colored matting so much as the salt, and, moreover, it goes far to prevent it fading. The light colored matting should be washed in water in which borax has been dissolved. If any grease spots are noticed before the matting is cleansed cover them with a mixture of prepared chalk wet with turpentine, which after being allowed to remain on for two days should be removed with a stiff brush. In the event of the grease having sunken in about oneeighth of washing soda added to the mixture will be effectual. Sweet milk is said to keep the matting in a good state of preservation, and it is only necessary to use the application about once a year.

How to Cure Insomnia, There are several common sense ways of obtaining sleep. One of them is the application of cold wet cloths to the back of the head and neck. This treatment will not be followed by a reaction if it is continued for a number of minutes, and it often works surprisingly well, says a writer in World's Work. Another way of solving the problem is to soak the feet in a hot bath until the veins become dilated *With some people a two or three minute hip bath is the most effective remedy. Others find help in a few slow exercises which do not jar or excite the system, but simply bring some fatigue to the big muscles of the trunk and limbs. Friction of the skin, especially of the lower part of the body, is another means.

How to Care For a Molting Canary. In handling a molting canary keep it very warm, at least at 70 degrees, and carefully protected from drafts. A bird tonic, purchasable from any good druggist, should be given until the little pet recovers health and spirits. Usually a bird stops singing through this period, and the rest is beneficial. Heavier food should be given, such as hard boiled yolk of an egg, with finely powdered cracker crumbs and a little cayenne pepper or a whole hard boiled egg chopped very finely and a little every day should be given and the chill first taken from the water.

How to Make Lemon Sherbet. For lemon sherbet put to boil in a clean basin two scant quarts of water and one pint of sugar, says the New York Telegram. Cook until clear, skimming if necessary. Meanwhile squeeze teakettle. When the sirup is clear pour into the lemon juice, add the gelatin, cool and freeze. The beaten body if preferred.

next winter do not allow them to bloom during summer, says a writer in Outseen. Throw the strength of the plant early issue. into the development of branches. These should be shortened from time to time and made to produce side branches. In this way you get a bushy, compact plant with a score of blossoming points where there would two children of Mrs. Ellison of Quincy be but few if you allowed the plant to avenue, who had been missing since train itself.

How to Make Homemade Paste. A homemade paste that never sours or dries up is made by adding to one pint of smooth, thick-very thickpaste, which has been thoroughly cooked, one teaspoonful of powdered alum and ten drops of olive oil.

GOOD AS A REGULAR ROUNDSMAN

Automatic Timepieces Will Record Policemen's Going and Coming. With Keys Distributed Along Officers' Beats-How the Bluecoats Re-

The guardians of the law of Somerville, N. J., are bewailing the proposed installation of a clocklike device which will keep tabs on them while on post with the efficiency of a regular roundsman, says the New York Telegram. ter, but firm, and the child will soon The town board has already passed learn to accept your judgment without favorably upon the plan, and it is to be 'fretting, satisfied in the feeling that you experimented with as soon as some of know best. Always think twice before the "clocks" which have been ordered saying "no," but, once said, stick to itarrive.

Edward F. Brown, who is a New York broker by day and Somerville police commissioner at night, is responsible for the new idea. It is to be worked out as follows:

Every man on patrol duty will carry with him an automatic timepiece about two-thirds the size of a Waterbury alarm clock. Each clock is to have six keys and the keys are to be kept in separate boxes which will be stationed at six different points on his beat,

The rank and file of bluecoats here, however, do not take kindly to the plan. They see terrifying possibilities two hours during the day for recita- something was wrong. They did sell a in it and look upon its installation with

"Gee," said the day force, whose the morning till 7 at night, "it looks as if they were trying to Binghamize us Next thing you know we'll get the two platoon order and then one post." And he groaned at the mental picture of such a calamity. "Of course, you know," he continued, "there's a portion of the force that ain't been living up exactly to the rules and regulations of this department. That portion has been seen at times patrolling his beat as if it were shaped like the letter Z, but I'm hanged if I can see why we should all be compelled to find the keyhole of a clock just because one may miss it. Take it for mine, the wife will have to build an extension on my vest pocket if I've got to carry a Waterbury clock to work with me.

Two-thirds of the night force almost wept when the sad news of the clock scheme was conveyed to them. "It's tough," said one.

"You bet," said the other. Just then the other third of the midnight squad arrived on the scene. "What's the row?" he inquired. When informed of the new plan he was silent for a moment. Then he turned to the others and said, "Well, we'll have to learn solitaire, and that's all there is to it." "But penuchle's a fine game," muttered one of the others absentminded-

"Yes, but you can't play it all by yourself," was the curt reply.

Although the force is opposed to the changes, and even one day alters the clock scheme, the townsfolk think it's structure of both lean and fat curithe one best bet-that is, the majority of ously. them do. Some of them, however, are police will soon find a way to "beat" their beat.

THE MOTHER'S "NO."

Use It Only After Deliberation and Then Stick to It. There are few things more conducive to disobedience and stubbornness in children than the constant use of the words "no" and "don't." The mother should hesitate more than once before saying them. Listen patiently to a little one's request before saying "no," no matter how trivial it may seem to you. It may mean much to him. If the request is reasonable, even though Must Be Wound Every Half Hour it may cause you some little inconvenience, try to grant it. If, however, saying "yes" to the child is going to cause a great deal of discomfort to some one else, if it is not for the child's good or if after deliberation what is asked seems wrong in your judgment, give the child a short but intelligent reason for a denial, then let no amount of teasing change your decision. It is not necessary to be stern in this, matdo not retreat.-Marianna Wheeler in Harper's Bazar.

THE GUEST CHAMBER.

Make the Room Fresh and Cheerful and the Bed Comfortable.

First of all, a hostess should find out if her spare room bed is comfortable by sleeping in it herself now and then. She should not put on it monumental pillows and bolsters unless she also provides something less neck twisting to sleep on.

The bed should not be left made for weeks at a time and the sheets allowed o grow clammy and musty smelling. Above all, the windows should be pened every day and opened wide, not stingy inch or two behind airproof draperies. There is nothing so depressng as being put to sleep in a room that smells "shut up." Leave plenty of drawer and closet room for your guest's belongings. Don't fill every corner of the room with your own extra possessions. Contrive a good light by the bed, so that if your guest desires she may read before going to sleep. A hostess who is a real housekeeper will think of her own possible wants in fitting out her spare room for her

High Teachers And Pupils Making Best of Situation

Supt. Parlin has been a busy man this Jrs., wish to state that there is no rubweek geting the several schools in ber game to be played, as the Juniors running order. Owing to the crowded won the first, and the second was decondition of several of the buildings it clared a tie by the umpire as the game has been necessary to transfer pupils was stopped in the middle of the eighth from one building to another, and it inning. will be several days before everything s straightened out.

The worst conditions & in the Atlan-

The situation at the High school i about the same. The old High building is to be used largely by the freshmen class who will meet in two sessions for recitations. The upper classes recite at the Woodward Institute between the hours of 1.45 and 5 o'clock. There will be no study at these buildings. The classes simply come and recite and then go home. Fifteen classes will recite at the Woodward at the same time, four being heard in the study hall.

The cheerfulness of Head Master Harper and the other High school teachers is remarkable under the ordeal. Mr. Harper tells the Daily Ledger that the esprit de corps of the papils is encouraging. They fully realize the situation, and all try to make the work of the teachers as pleasant as possible. All are hoping, however, that they will have a school home in the near future and know that then they will have a bailding of which they may be proud.

There is no truth in the sensational report in a Boston paper that evening sessions are contemplated at the High school, or that teachers contemplate resigning. All with remarkable interest in their work are making the best of the situation and they should have the encouragement of parents and the people generally, as well as the pupils.

Supt. Parlin has called a meeting of the masters for this afternoon at which time it will be definitely known just what the situation is at each building. A partial list of the new five-year-old pupils at some of the buildings is given below, and will be continued from day

And Three Others Injured

One man was killed and three were injured by the explosion of an old blast James Malcolm, on estate of John at the quarry of the Granite Railway Co. this morning.

At Quarry

The man killed was William Larson, aged 35 years, of 18 Grove street.

The injured men are John Miller, the foreman, of Hall place; James Malone, of Side street, and Charles Sappala of Station street. Miller and Malone were able to go to their homes after receiving first aid from Doctors John H. Ash and J. P. Reynolds, but Sappala was taken to the City Hospital.

Miller's injuries consist of burns on the face by powder. Malone received injuries to his stomach. His ribs were also injured but not fractured. Sappala's injuries consist of cuts on the head and legs by flying rocks and burnt hands and arms. The explosion took place while the men were engaged in prying out some blocks of granite that had been loosened by a blast. The blast had taken place Tuesday afternoon. This morning the men under the direction of foreman Miller went to work with an air drill to open up the seams caused by the blast. Without warning there was a terrific explosion beneath them, and the four men were thrown in all directions. A large piece of rock struck Larson on the back of the head making a large

How to Care For House Plants. House plants can be put out of doors with entire safety now. The best place for them is on a veranda sheltered from the afternoon sun. Leave them in their pots. Plan for free circulation of air about them. Do not allow any that are to be made use of in the house next winter to bloom during the summer. Throw their strength into the production of branches. These should be nipped at the end from time to time to force the production of side branches, thus securing a bushy, compact plant with plenty of flowering points. If not properly trained most plants adapted to house culture will grow into awkward shapes, but with a little attention at the proper time they can easily be made symmetrical. The proper time is now, while the plant is in process of development.

How to Judge Melons.

The first point in judging your melon is the weight. A heavy fruit is a good fruit, and if heavy, says the Pittsburg Dispatch, only the question of ripeness remains to be decided. A good ripeness test is the odor. A ripe fruit is fragrant, spicy, tempting to the nostrils. Muskmelons with deep furrows and rough surfaces are sound and sweet. The color in the furrows is also worth noting. If very greeny green it is underripe; yellow, and it is apt to be mushy. A very smooth surface often means that the melon is overripe. It may be sweet, but it will be too soft and dry for perfection.

Hundred and Forty Corpses Picked Up In Streets, While as Many More May Have Been Killed--One Christian Victim

Warsaw, Sept. 12 .- With the sancion of the authorities, who provided an armed guard for the mission, a press correspondent visited Siedlee, the scene of the murderous events of Sept. 8, 9 and 10. The railway station was crowded with Jews, among whom were many starving women with infants in their arms. there fell upon the ears of the frightened people the sound of a volley being fired in the town, half a mile away, a panic ensued, men trembling with fear and women imploring the soldiers for mercy, anticipating the slaughter of their loved ones and

On Warsaw street stores and shops ing been plundered. Pictures of saints were hanging outside the windows of many houses, mute appeals to the soldiery and looters to spare the inmates. Everywhere in the street were to be seen soldiers ready to fire on the least provocation. The streets were littered with Jews' hats, torn clothing and damaged carts. In Pienka street the houses were riddled with bullets. Cows and goats which had escaped from their pens during the reign of terror wandered about

At the Victoria hotel, the interior of which had almost been demolished, the correspondent was obliged to turn back, shooting having recommenced. He was made a prisoner by soldiers, but shortly afterwards released by the governor's order.

It is asserted that paid provocative agents so contrived matters that on Saturday the soldiers began shooting in the streets and bombarded houses, the occupants being forced to flee. It is related that soldiers killed the Jewish proprietor of a fruit store, put his body under the table and ate his provisions as they were spread upon the table. Another refugee states that Saturday night the doctors at the Jewish hospital in Siedlee lighted the gas in that institution preparatory to operating upon the wounded who had been brought in, who numbered 70, when without warning the soldiers in the street opened fire upon the hospital, killing two of the inmates. As a man was taking his wife and newly-born child to a hospital they were fired upon by soldiers and the wife and child were killed. In many cases the soldiers spared the lives of Jews upon the payment of the menaced persons of $25. By actual count 140 corpses were picked up in the streets, and it is stated that as many more bodies are hidden in cellars. Only one Christian is known to have been killed and, so far as can be learned, no soldier was killed. Trainloads of fugitives are leaving Siedlee for the south. A Jewish child who begged permission of a military officer to search for his parents, was kicked away by the officer.

Girl Murderer's Fate Unknown St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—Zenaide Konoplianikyoyo, the girl who assassinated General Min at Peterhof, and who was sentenced by court-martial to be hanged last night, was taken out of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul yesterday and placed on board a ship bound for the Schlusselburg prison. Her friends still hope that a reprieve is possible, but a rumor is in circulation that she was executed at daybreak.

Warsaw Jews Searched Warsaw, Sept. 12.-Soldiers last night searched the Jewish quarter. Several conflicts resulted and two Jews were killed and 11 seriously wounded. Forty-two supposed revolutionists have been arrested here and will be tried by a field court martial. A military officer was killed here last night by terrorists.

Two Duelists Killed Brooksville, Ga., Sept. 12.-A duel with pistols occurred here between Lee W. Hicks, a conductor on a passenger train, and J. M. Higginbotham, a contractor of Brooksville. Both men were killed. The fight took place on the platform of a car as the train was leaving the station.

Root Honored in Lima Lima, Peru, Sept. 12.-Secretary Root and family visited the cathedral and other places of interest here. At the Central market the party received an ovation. A group of women strewed flowers on the staircase as the party were descending.

Washington Is Prepared to Meet Any Emergencies

CRUISER IS IN READINESS

Military Authorities Familiar With Geography and General Conditions In the Island--Intervention When Necessary

Washington, Sept. 12.-The critical situation in Cuba is absorbing the attention of the administration to the exclusion of all other foreign topics. as indicated by the activity of the officials in the state, navy and war departments. The president at Oyster Bay is keeping in close touch with every development of the revolutionary movement.

The latest development is the admission that the American cruiser Des Moines, which sailed Monday hastily from Norfolk, has gone southward to Key West with the ultimate purpose of proceeding to Havana if developments within the next few days seem to warrant such action. At Key West the Des Moines will be about eight hours run from Havana and, while waiting there, Commander Halsey will be in close communication with the navy department, prepared to immediately carry out any request from the department of state.

There is no intention in this move ment of the Des Moines of showing any partiality by the American government towards one side or the other in the present conflict in Cuba. The ship will be at Havana to serve as an asylum in case of need and be at the disposition of the American charge. She is not a formidable craft, being only of 3100 tons displacement and with a main battery of six-inch guns, but for the duty intended she will be quite as effective as a battleship.

If the navy is making ready in other respects for contingencies in Cuba, the fact is carefully concealed at the department, but it is known that the ambition of the general board is to keep the suips in a state of preparedness and it is believed that there will be no difficulty in despatching almost immediately from the home ports any naval force that might be required in Cuba.

For its part, the army is prepared to answer any call, though there are absolutely no orders yet from the president or secretary of war. The individual officers responsible for campaign work are merely making ready for any emergency without spe-

In case the United States government finds it necessary to intervene in Cuban affairs under the provisions of the Platt amendment, which gives this government power to maintain public order, the forces which would have to be used for that would be found in a much better state of preparation than when hostilities occurred between the United States and Spain. The long military occupation of Cuba by the United States troops afforded an opportunity to army officers to become familiar with the island, and probably no portion of the earth is better known to the military authorities of the United States than the island of Cuba.

In addition to the familiarity of the army officers with the georaphy and general conditions in Cuba all of the supply departments are better equipped and the methods of delivering quartermaster's supplies, commis sary stores, arms and ammunition have been studied and the supplies are in readiness for use in case the army is required to be put in action. It is not expected that a large force would be used in case of intervennot until a demonstration of the need of a large force. All of the supply tion, at least not for some time, and departments of the army have on hand all that is necessary for any force which may be deemed necessary for a first expedition. So, as stated officially, it is the purpose of the administration to proceed with great deliberation in dealing with the Cuban question, and it is said on the highest authority that there will be no intervention by the United States unless the rebellion assumes the proportions of a general conflagration.

Another interesting statement from Official sources is to the effect that careful inquiry has satisfied the administration that none of the great American capitalists interested in Cuban plantations and properties have expressed a desire for the intervention of this government under the terms of the Platt amendment. On the contrary, it is stated, these people seem to be adverse to any such Desperate Fighting Anticipated Havana, Sept. 12.-So far as war developments went, yesterday was one of the quietest since the outbreak of the insurrection. The government's outright declaration that the war will be prosecuted to a finish is everywhere the sole topic of conversation. That fighting of a far more desperate character will result as soon as the news shall have spread throughout the provinces is not doubted in any quarter. The fear of an attack by the insurgents on Havana is spreading and there are rumors more or less authentic from all directions of new uprisings in various quarters.

Danger In the Control of Railroads by the Government

Swampscott, Mass., Sept. 12.-Presilent Tuttle of the Boston and Maine railroad gave an informal talk before the Todosco Country club last night on "governmental control of railroads." He said in part:

"In a country like this there are people looking for a new issue to bring up at every election, and who attack the successful corporation, other corporative powers, and finally the successful person. If the government controlled the railroads of the country what would happen? "You would have to dance attendance upon congress and support an efficient political manager at Washington, and also there would have to be a change in the constitution of the United States. The railroads now have thousands of claims in regard to transportation, etc., to transact in the courts. What would hap- made from pen if those claims had to be settled by congress?"

President Tuttle cited an instance during the Civil war when all the railroads had to pay a tax, and a certain New England railroad paid in several thousand dollars more than it should have paid. The matter was taken into the courts, and congress has just settled it after 40 years of waiting.

"There are 1,500,000 voters in the employ of the railroads of the country," continued Tuttle. "What would happen if the control of the interstate commerce licenses got into the hands of those voters?" The speaker proceeded to discuss governmental control of railroads in Europe and to point out differences in conditions in those countries and the United States. In four years, the government of the United States is liable to a change, he "Who can tell in what form the licenses for interstate commerce might be granted when such a change is made," he asked.

On the suggestion of Brooks Adams, a committee was appointed to draft a bill to be presented to the Legislature, looking to the enactment of a law that will deal with and do away with monopolies, such as now exist on the New York and New Haven, where one express company has a monopoly; the street railway, the proposed trolley freight, etc. The location of the Federal building was discussed. Postmaster Hammond and others discouraged any movement erection of a building. The land on Washington street had been purchased; the location opposite the Public Librafor a change would be unsuccessful. In most cities the government buildings are not located on the main street.

Several committees to whom matters had been referred reported progress.

The next meeting of the Association will be the annual one for the election of officers and will be held the second Tuesday in October.

New Pastor At Braintree

Rev. Thomas Simms will deliver his irst sermon as pastor of the First Congregational church, Braintree, to norrow and will move here Oct. 1. During his six years' pastorate in Middlebury, Vt., 97 people have been taken into the church, a net gain of 40. Benevolences have increased 25 percent and the amount of money raised for all ourposes 30 percent. The debt of $2000 has been cancelled. The Sunday school has grown in numbers and interest prayer meetings are better attended, and young people's societies have been organized.

At a meeting of the Middlebury Congregational church held August 16. 1906, the following proceedings were unanimously adoped:

In taking this action, which consents to the severing of the pastoral relation held by Rev. Thomas Simms to this church we place upon record our sense of the very great value of his labors durng the term of his residence among us As a pastor he has been unremitting in activity, and we gladly bear testimony to his having illustrated in pastoral risitation this extremely useful and ecessary side of a minister's work. We rejoice in its results as seen in the frequent accessions to the membership of the church, in the increase of the Sunday school and the upbuilding of our young people's societies. In counsel he has been sympathic and wise, in pulpit ministration varied and helpful, and in the social meetings of the church instructive and spiritual.

In local matters Mr. Simms has taken sincere and active interest. His attitude in educational concerns has been expressive of high ideals for the intelectual and moral attainments of the young. Making his influence felt also in the civil life of the community, he has been among us as an upholder of the principles of good government, all that has been best in the policies of the commonwealth. Regretfully accepting Mr. Simms' resignation of the pastorate of the church we commend him and his family to the fellowship of Christian people where his lot is to be cast, with the assurance that our prayers will follow them to his new field of labor, and that we should ever rejoice to know of their continued success and welfare.

Mr. Simms has been in the ministry wenty years, six years in Norwich, Conn., several years in South Manchester, Conn., and six years in the last place, so we hope to have him with is many years.

He was born in England and came to America with his parents while an infant. His childhood was spent in New York city and New Jersey. He was prepared for college at Hacketts town, N. J. and graduated from Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., in the class of '83. While in college he was ex-commencement and of the college paper.

Mr. Simms' family consists of his wife and four children, two girls and two boys, ten to 18 years old. He has been favorably impressed with the many advantages which Braintree offers, the cordiality with which the people here received him and the large oportunity for usefulness which the position he is called upon to occupy affords.

This would mean The present charge of the New York that the rates from Boston to Quincy and Boston Despatch Express Company from Boston to Quincy, 35 cts. per cwt. is very excessive. So would be a rate of 30 cts. if established by the Electric Express, and yet the company would be able to say that they had made a reduction of nearly 15 per cent. from the way. His proper, and a common sense precaution, friends look to see a hearty response to discuss the question with the Old from the taxpayers in his favor, Colony Street Railway Company and find out before the franchise is granted precisely what rates and service they propose to give Quincy in return for this free and exceedingly valuable franchise. The schedule of rates should be divided into three classes:

- A Transportation.
- B Transportation and Delivery. C Collection, Transportation and Delivery. In some places where the delivery of xpress parcels has not been definitely rules, there is no doubt to which team greed upon, the railway company has simply established stations for the receipt of freight and the consignee is compelled to call at these stations for his goods. The present order provides that stations shall be established in different parts of Quincy. We note the absence of any definite time for the establishment of the stations and of any provision for delivery in Quincy.

The shipment of freight and express over trolley lines is as yet in an experimental stage; therefore we consider the sixth restriction in the Council's order, limiting the franchise to a term of five years, most important. Such a restricting has been approved by the Railroad Commissioners. We suggest, however, that this provision should be changed to read as follows:

"All rights and authority granted ler this order shall cease at the end of five years from and after the date of the adoption of this order, and shall at any time prior thereto, be subject to revocation by the City Council, with he approval of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, when it shall appear, after due notice to said company and a hearing to all parties interested, that public necessity and convenience so be changed to 12 o'clock midnight. In the last provision in the Council's order the words "deemed by said Company" should be eliminated. There are other authorities than the railway company who may become interested in defining what is dangerous, for instance, the City Council or the Railroad Commissioners.

The different orders provide for rights over all the streets in which tracks have been built, to which there does not appear to be any objection; but order number 157 contains these words "and over and along such other streets once every year, the Boston & Albany R. Possible Cause of Disappearance of Professor West

STUDENTS' VAIN SEARCH

Mystery as to How He Left the Academy Without Being Seen -- Ponds May Be Dragged In Search For Missing Man

Ashburnham, Mass., Sept. 13 .- Professor Harold P. West of Cushing academy, who disappeared Tuesday morning from the academy grounds, is still missing. It is believed that West wandered away while suffering from mental aberration. Six years ago, while in Brunswick Me., he suffered from mental trouble of a similar nature.

For two days more than 100 men and boys have made a thorough and systematic search of the territory for miles about this place, but without results. The young man had less than three hours' start of the searching parties, which were started early Tuesday forenoon.

The greater part of the residences for miles around this town are supplied with telephones, and word has been sent in every direction for the citizens to be on the lookout for the supposed demented man. In addition to this precaution, every surrounding town has been notified, and if he appears on a highway he will surely be taken care of.

West, who is 28 years old and a graduate of Bowdoin College in the class of 1900, came here on Saturday to become instructor of French, after having spent the past year studying in France. Arriving Saturday night he appeared perfectly normal, as he also did throughout the day Monday and up to almost the minute of his disappearance.

Sunday he attended church, and to several expressed his liking for his

On Monday he met many of the students who arrived and at the academy the day was spent in arranging classes, in which West took an active part. Monday night he visited the rooms of his students, and retired to his own room in the Science bunding dormitory.

Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock e met two of the students in the lavatory on his floor of the building. He said "Good morning" and so far as the boys could see he was in a normal condition. That was the last seen or heard from him.

An extraordinary feature of the affair is how he could leave the top floor of the building and cross the spacious lawns surrounding the school buildings without being seen by some of the students or instructors. Findlay, O., Sept. 13.-A plea of "not guilty" has been entered in the probate court here by John D. Rockefeller on the charge of violating the anti-trust law through the Standard Oil company. The defendants in the case against the pipe lines also pleaded not guilty in the same way and each demanded a separate trial by jury. WARSHIPS IN GUBA

Being Sent Simply as a Policy of Preparedness

PROTECT OUR INTERESTS

Every Available Man of Regular Army Will Be Used It !ntervention Becomes Necessary For Preservation of Independence

Washington, Sept. 13.-President Roosevelt is keenly alive to the progress of the revolutionary movement in Cuba and the responsibility of the United States in case the conditions grow worse and interventian be comes necessary.

The ships that have been sent to Cuba, the Denver to Havana and the Marietta to Cienfuegos, are for the purpose only of protecting American interests and furnishing asylum for Americans who may be in danger from the warring factions. Actual intervention would mean the use of the army, and all the available forces would no doubt be needed and will be ready if a serious situation develops. Under present conditions the army has been kept in a better state of preparation than ever before and will be ready it called upon. In event of intervention every available man of the regular army will be used, and will be sent to Cuba as fast as possible. Although no regular transports are available on the Atlantic coast, it is known where transports can be obtained as soon as Authority for the intervention in Cuban affairs is contained in the third article of the Pliatt amendment adopted by the congress in the army appro priation bill of 1902, which reads:

"That the government of Cuba consents that the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence the maintenance of government ade quate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the United States, now to be assumed and undertaken by the CHILDREN'S SCHOOL HOSE, government of Cuba."

This, with the other provisions of the Platt amendment, were incorporated in the constitution of Cuba. Some weeks ago the Sixth and Twenty-first regiments of infantry were ordered home from the Philippines, it being stated that their tour of service in the Pacific islands was completed. The return of these regiments upon three transports which sailed last winter for the Philippines will bring available troops to the Atwhich would be very necessary if the

Platt amendment is invoked. Insurgents Resume Activity

Havana, Sept. 13.—The insurgents in Pinar del Rio and Santa Clara provinces signalized the resumption of war by blowing up railroad bridges, again blocking traffic, and committing other acts of destruction. The insurgent commanders in Santa Clara had previously threatened the railroad authorities and others that they would begin yesterday to burn and destroy property, and the railroad officials so informed the provincial governor, but that functionary was powerless to prevent the depredations. As the insurgents in Havana province have made similar threats there is much apprehension here of the inauguration of a like policy.

TIES PLACED ON TRACK

gine of the theatre train from Boston for this city was derailed early this morning by striking a pile of ties which had been placed deliberately across the track by train wreckers. Fortunately the engineer saw the obstruction in time to apply his brakes so that the train was running at greatly reduced speed when it hit the ties and only the locomotive was derailed the coaches remaining on the track The passengers escaped without any injury except a severe shaking up due to the sudden stopping of the

Illinois Wins Battenburg Cup

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept 13.-Crews of blue jackets from eight United States battleships took part in a cutter race for the Battenberg cup, which was offered last year by the crews of the cruiser squadron of the English navy, commanded by Prince Louis of Battenberg. The crew from the Illinois won the race. The cup is contested for annually, each winning crew to have its ship's name engraved upon the trophy and to retain possession of HERBERT A. HAYDEN the cup until another ship wins it.

Oyster Growers Lose Heavily

New Haven, Sept. 13-Engineer Nichols of the Connecticut shell fish commission declared, after a careful examination of the oyster beds in Long Island Sound, that the set of 1906 was almost a complete failure. The financial loss to the oyster growers will amount to about $500,000. That there is no set this year is atduring spawning period, July and Boston, Sept. 13 .- It is thought that the strike of the longshoremen employed on the Metropolitan Steamship Company's docks will be settled by arbitration. It is understood that C. E. Lee of the Boston and Maine Treasurer Regan of District Assembly 30, K. of L., will be selected as arbi-

Suit Against Coal Dealers.

Hartford, Sept. 13.-Alteging combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade Charles R. Hale, an independent coal merchant of this city, has brought suit against 10 coal dealers of Hartford, claiming damages of $36,000. The names of the wholesale dealers who refused to sell and deliver coal to the plaintiff are named in the complaint.

Sentenced For Manslaughter

Cambridge, Sept. 13 .- John J. Clancy of Lowell was sentenced by Judge Bell to 18 months in the house of correction, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter. Clancy struck William Dillon at North Andover in a street fight. Lillon fell and struck his head, fracturing his skull, from the effects of which he died.

Short of Football Material.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 13 .- Only 26 en, the smallest number for many years, reported for preliminary football practice on Soldiers' field. Only three of these played on the Harvard team last year. The others, for the most part, represented untried material, and all, with one exception, are very light in weight.

More Naturalization Frauds

Boston, Sept. 13.-The United States authorities have made the seventh arrest in connection with the investigation of naturalization frauds in Roxbury. The officers took into custody John W. Molloy, a switchman, on a charge of perjury. The secret service officers are still investigating the alleged frauds.

is in pursuance of your request that we find out from the officials of the Old Colony Street Railway Company precisely what rates and service they propose to give Quincy. We were unable to obtain any satisfaction on these vital points. The officials simply said that they would necessarily have to give good service and make competitive rates in order to get the business. They positively declined to commit themselves definitely. We have already pointed out that a thirty cent per hundred weight rate would be fifteen per cent less than the present rate of the New York & Boston Dispatch Express Company, which, with better service, would command a prequestion of better service indefinite and to. The officials say they need more experience before making rates, but in our judgment, this is merely an excuse because they are now operating beyond Brockton under a freight manager who has had five years experience as manager of an electric express company in New

[Original.]

As Reginald Crane and his newly wedded wife stepped on the train to go to his home a telegram was handed him. A cloud gathered on his brow. "What is it?" asked his bride anxbusly.

"Uncle Frank is dead." "Well?"

"That means trouble for us. Aunt Cynthia has been very near to me. I am her only near kin. And I must give her a home." "I have heard that your aunt is a delightful old lady."

"She is, but she has suffered much, and her nerves are unstrung. Uncle Frank understood her condition, and now that he is gone I alone understand

Friends, relatives, connections, waited expectantly to discover if Reginald would provide a home for his aunt. They said nothing to him, but the women cackled among themselves. They did not doubt that Reginald would do his duty, but they wondered if his wife would permit him to do it. The young couple satisfied the family's expectations by inviting Aunt Cynthia to make her home with them, and she removed, bag and baggage, to their house. She was naturally frank, impulsive, generous-indeed, among those who were not constantly with her was very popular. She stepped from her own household, which she had managed for forty years, Work connecting water meters is still to the position of guest in the house-

Aunt Cynthia was one of those persons who must have confidants, and, honestly betreated by her nephew's wife, she poured a tale of woe into the ears of every relative. Her defense of Reginald counted for nothing with these people, because they said he knew when he married Martha Grant that his uncle would not live long and his Van Winkle family, and Peter Van Winkle, when the old lady one day relatives followed suit, and it was not long before the young couple were band's family. This story was confirmed when at last Reginald broke down with nervous prostration. Aunt Cynthia begged to go, too, but by this country begged to go too, but by this country begged to go too. Cynthia begged to go, too, but by this time Reginald and Martha, who saw that unless they could get a rest for a time they would both have to go to an asylum, flatly demurred. "Why not spend your summer with the Van Winkles?" they suggested. But the Van Winkles had their plans all formed, and these did not include Aunt Cynthia. They all went to their country places and each wrote to the other: "Just think of poor Aunt Cynthia getting through the long summer as best she can. I would like to tear the hearts-if they had hearts-out of her nephew and his vixen wife."

Not only did the summer plans of the relatives not include Aunt Cynthia, but when they were at home their invitations to her were limited. She was handy with her needle, and whenever sewing was to be done it was "Dear Aunt Cynthia, come and lunch with us. JOB PRINTING Come at 9 a. m. and spend the day.' Aunt Cynthia never suspected that she was needed for a purpose. When Aunt Cynthia died the relatives concluded to forgive the Cranes, both husband and wife. Peter Van Winkle, the next time he met Reginald, advanced with outstretched hand. Reginald walked by him with eyes in front, and when he met the other Van Winkles he did the same by them. "Why," asked a mutual friend, "don't you accept the olive branch? Have they treated you so badly?" "No," replied Reginald; "they treated my aunt badly." BRUCE PARKER.

For Republican County and Senatorial Delegations

The demand was so great for blanks for the Republican nominations, that the supply was exhausted, and the City Clerk found it necessary on the last day to place a rush order with the Daily Ledger for more. Fortunately, the order could be filled in an honr, so there was no serious delay.

Most of the papers made nominations of delegates for one convention only, so that the six wards required a large number for the five conventions, for candidates for Congress, and candidates for Representatives.

There are four names from which to select a candidate for Congress in the Tenth district, which is by direct vote of the Republicans of the whole dis-

Representative Eugene C. Hultman has no rival for renomination in the Fifth Norfolk district, although there have been reports to the contrary. It is Representative Edward J. Sandberg of Ward Four who will have a rival, as friends of ex-Councilman John E. Poland have placed him in nomination. It is early yet to predict who will get the nomination, but the chances favor Mr. Sandberg.

In the Ward Three State delegations is for Guild and Draper, and that headed by Spargo is for Guild and Interest, however, centers in contests in Wards One, Three and Five for the Senatorial and County delegates, showing that the city is not united for R. R. Freeman for senator or James H. Cunningham for county treasurer. Each of these wards has two lists of delegates for the conventions and both factions will make great efforts to win. Unless Quincy stands by its own candidates their chances of success are not good. The county convention will also nominate a candidate for county commissioner for three years to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. James Hewin.

Two Arrested For False Alarms

Two false alarms of fire were sounded last night within a few minutes of each other The first alarm was from Box 136 at 10.50. The apparatus responded but finding no fire the recall was sounded. At 11.13 the fire alarm bells were again sounding. This time it was an alarm from Box 43. This also proved to be a false alarm. The recall on this box came in very promptly. Among those who started for this box when the alarm sounded was Cornelius Driscoll, a constable. As he ran toward the box two men were seen running away from it. They ran into the arms of Driscoll who held them up and questioned them. Later, when Chief Litchfield arrived, he was informed of the circumstances and as one of the party at least had been seen about Box 136 a warrant was sworn out against them.

The names of the men were John P. Johnson and John E. Flynn. The warrant was placed in the hands of an officer who began a search about West Quincy for them.

In the meantime Officer Goodhue had learned that two men were wanted and running across them in City Square he promptly placed them under arrest and sent them to the police station.

After the alarm from Box 136 had been rung in Chief Litchfield was given a warning about the two men in question, and was not surprised when informed that they were about Box 43. They were arraigned in court for giving a false alarm of fire. The cases were continued until Saturday for hear-

Sailed the Vim To Victory

It will interest many readers, who enew Mr. Clifford Bucknam when in Squantum, to learn that it was owing to his fine seamanship that he wins the Roosevelt cup, sailing the yacht"Vim," wned by Commodore Park of the New York Yacht club, in the recent races off Marblehead.

Mr. Bucknam is a son of the late Clifford M. Buchnam, formerly well known to the dry goods trade in Boston and New York as of the firm of Brown, Wood & Kingman. Mr. Bucknam, when his parents lived in West Newton, pent his summers at Squantum, hi late Nelson V. Titus. The family of will be held in the Council Chamber, Mr. Bucknam came often to Squantum City Hall, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock on the where they occupied a cottage on the

for the Roosevelt cup. Serious Fall.

About 10.30 this morning while the adjustable wagon of the street railway was at work in South Braintree square William McKay of Quincy Point fell from the top to the ground. At that time he was pulling a tackle rope and it parted. It caused him to lose his balance and fall headlong. He land ed however on his feet on the sidewalk. He was attended at the residence of Yard off Mills. Street. Tel. 85-5, Quincy Dr. R. F. Burleigh by Dr. C. H. Gould and Dr. Burleigh, and it is thought the injuries will not he serious.

McKay was later taken to a Boston hospital. The injuries being more serious than thought at first.

Paint Adds Value to Property

For every dollar's worth of paint-good paint-you put on your house, you add several dollars to its value, for the difference in price which property in good repair will bring over a shabby building is by no means measured by the actuai cost of the improvement.

In this calculation we have not included the insurance feature—the saving of the property from decay.

Good paint looks well, protects well, lasts well.

There are many imitations of paint which do none of these things, yet cost as much or more than straight white lead and linseed oil, the best paint.

OLD GLORY WAVES

Planted In Park Facing Cuban President's Palace

Americans Ready to Cope With Any Uprising In Havana or Attack From Rebels Approaching the City

Havana, Sept. 14.—There are 120

sailors from the United States protected cruiser Denver camped in front of Old la Fuera castle, facing the Plaa de Armas, the little park in front of the presidential palace, which is the seat of the Cuban government. The American flag is planted just inside the low stone coping separating the castle grounds from O'Reilly street, which thoroughfare passes between the camp and the plaza de Armas. The American sailors are armed with regulation rifles with the exception of a few who carry revolvers or carbines. Two field howitzers and two rapid-fire guns were sent ashore with the sailors and now point across the little park, a significant warning to any one approaching the executive headquarters of the Cuban government with hostile intent.

The Denver, which originally anchored further up the bay, dropped down last evening to a position abreast the foot of O'Reilly street and in front of the offices of the captain of the port, so as to be conveniently near the detachment sent ashore and close at hand in case of need.

The whole business was done so quietly and quickly that it caused the greatest surprise. The reason for the sudden landing of the American sailors was the result of a conference between President Palma, Charge Sleeper and Commander Colwell. On the occasion of the latter's formal call upon Palma, Sleeper asked the president the direct question whether he considered that the government was able to protect all American interests in Havana unaided. The president replied that he hoped the government would be able to do so, but himself suggested that it might be advisable, as a measure of precaution in the interests of Americans as well as for the maintenance of order in general, to land marines at some convenient point, suggesting the Plaza de Armas as the place. Sleeper and Colwell, after a brief conference, decided that the landing should be made at once, and at 5.30 the detachment began coming ashore with arms, ammunition and camp paraphernalia and took up a position commanding the approaches to the palace.

Questioned whether their duties American interests or defence of the palace and Palma, Executive Officer Miller and the other officers of the etachment replied that if the town should be attacked or if an uprising occurred in the city, they undoubtedly would have something to do regardless of fine questions as to who attacked.

American incrests, but also the government of Palma. The presence in the city of American sailors has had the effect of creating a feeling of comparative security against attack from without or of an internal uprising. Reports had been current that the worst elements of the population were planning to set fires, under the cover of which robberies might be committed. It was also reported that insurgents in considerable numbers were approaching Havana from well late last night was shown a press dispatch from Washington stating that the sailors from the cruiser Denver had been ordered to return. He expressed great astonishment and said he had received no such order, adding that he believed the navy department had not deciphered his code message explaining the situation. Colwell said he believed he had done right and was satisfied that the evening's events had so proved. However, if, after reaching an understanding of the situation, the navy department ordered the return of the sailors on board ship, the order would be carried out within half an hour.

Alfredo Sayas, president of the Liberal party, has offered to surrende to eral party, has offered to surrender to Colwell if guaranteed a fair trial.

Saflors Landed at Havana Must Return to Warships

SMALL LEGATION GUARD

Serious Situation Put Up to the United States -- Result of Intervention Would Be Annexation -- Five Warships Near Cuba

Washington, Sept. 14.-It was of ficially announced here late last night that the sailors who were landed at Havana from the American cruiser Denver have been ordered to immediately return to their vessel, save for a small guard which will be left at the American legation. This action followed the receipt of an official report by Acting Secretary of State Bacon from Mr. Sleeper, the American charge at Havana, regarding the landing of the men.

The report was not made public, but it was announced officially shortly afterward that the sailors were landed from the Denver solely and simply for the protection of the lives and property of American citizens, that such action was in pursuance of a discussion between Sleeper and the naval commander, with the belief that I it was a wise precaution looking to the protection of the lives and property of Americans.

There was no intention, it is stated. to do cherwise than to safeguard American interests, and the services of the sallors were to be utilized only in the case of any disorders within the city should threathen such interests. That the landing in any way contempated the protection of either the Cuban government or the insurrectionary government or President Palma or any other persons than American citizens, was disclaimed officially and it was pointed out that this fact could not be emphasized too

Mr. Sleeper's cablegram reported the landing of the sailors and explained the purposes of the landing as explained above—that there was no purpose of protection of anybody or anything except American lives and property. The announcement that the sailors had been ordered back to ship, except for the small legation detachment, followed from the White House very soon after the receipt of Sleeper's official report. That the landing was a complete surprise to the government here was evident. The the landing was not made under instructions from Washington also was made plan.

It is now evident that the United States is face to face with a serious problem in Cuba. Attempts to conceal this fact are no longer made at the state department. Advices from agents of the department on the island are now to the effect that the insurrection has passed beyond the control of President Palma. CHILDREN'S SCHOOL HOSE,

Annexation is the great problem ahead. It is pointed out by government officials that the day the United States puts an armed force on the island conditions will revert to what they were while this country was exercising a suzerainty over the island following the Spanish-American war. It is further pointed out that suzerainty will never end until the island is annexed to the United It is further pointed out that such

For weeks the general staff of the army has been preparing to send troops to this island. The visit of Gen. troops to this island. The visit of General Bell, chief of staff, to Oyster Bay, three weeks ago, was the result of the sent forward an armed force if occasion demand such action. It is intimated at the war deposits mated at the war department that the abandonment of the army concentration camps three weeks in advance of tion camps three weeks in advance of the time originally fixed is the result of the desire to have troops prepared to move on short notice.

The presence of any number of navy vessels in Cuban waters, it is pointed out at the department, does not mean intervention. Their presence may be regarded as an indication of this government's determination to intervene if intervention shall become necessary. If peace is to be restored it will have to be restored by the army.

There are four American naval vessels in Cuban waters—the Denver at Havana, the gunboat Marietta off Cienfuegos, and the auxiliary Dixie and the cruiser Columbia at Guananamo, the United States naval station on the south side of the island. In addition the Des Moines is at Key West. In addition the Newport, the Paducah, the Don Juan de Austria and the Dubuque are patrolling in Dominican waters, and as the situation in that republic is quiet at present one or more of these might easily be sent to Cuba if further trouble occurs.

Motor Boat Racer Burned

New York, Sept. 14.-An explosion on the racing boat Mercedes threw its three occupants, H. L. Bowden, the owner, Captain Barr and Charles Basle, the engineer, into the river. They were rescued without serious injury. The boat took fire and burned to the water's edge.

DOCTOR UNDER ARREST

Conducted Hospital In Which the Deaths Were Numerous Buffalo, Sept. 14.-Dr. J. J. Turver, who conducted hospitals for women at 101 Niagara street and 725 Prospect avenue, in this city, is a prisoner at police headquarters and the police are trying to unravel the mystery of the sudden disappearance of Gertrude Knight from his Niagara street establishment, where large quantities of blood-stained clothes For Sale by E. J. MURPHY, Quincy and bedding were found.

It was learned that a patient who gave her name as Gertrude Knight of Philadelphia occupied the room on Tuesday. Miss Geddes, the head nurse, told District Attorney Abbott yesterday that this patient left the hospital on Wednesday and took the 11 a. m. train for Philadelphia.

While investigating the Knight case the police learned that Edith Pinner of Hoboken, N. J., died in the Prospect avenue hospital on Sept. 8. Miss Pinner's body was shipped to her home at Hoboken, N. J. An undertaker named Prouty states that in the last year he has buried six women and two children for Turver. It was MR. E. LANDIS SNYDER first supposed that the Pinner woman and the woman who disappeared from the Niagara street place were the same. This theory was dismissed yesterday when a trunk found in the Niagara street hospital was opened by the police. It was filled with women's fine clothing and a bundle of letters addressed to Gertrude Knight.

Physicians consulted by the police doubt the statements regarding Miss Knight's sudden departure from Turver's place. They say the woman who occupied the blood-stained chamber on Niagara street lost so much blood that it would be impossible for her to travel so soon. They are also ALBERT J. DURAND puzzled to know why she should leave her trunk and clothing at such a place.

A Reciprocity Rally

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 14.—Eugene N. Foss, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor, Rev. A. A. Berle and Rev. Henry L. Blackwell addressed a reciprocity rally here last night. Foss argued that in many instances the tariff was high not because it was needed, but because it was demanded by manufacturers interested. All three speakers spoke sharply of Senator Lodge in relation to the report that he is going to help in framing a stand-pat platform for the Massachusetts Republicans.

Protest Goes to Roosevelt

Boston, Sept. 14.-The protest voiced by Boston business men against the proposed site for the new appraisers' stores on the property of the Boston gas company has prompted Senator Lodge to telegraph President Roosevelt asking his influence to put a stop to further progress in the negotiations for purchase of the gashouse site. Lodge also sent a message to Secretary Shaw, declaring that the bargain for the gashouse site should not be closed.

First Race Goes to Queen

New York, Sept. 14 .- J. R. Maxwell's schooner yacht Queen, after one of the best races seen off Sandy Hook in many years, won from F. F. Brewster's schooner Elmina, by 5m. 9s. in the first of a series of three races to be sailed for a $1000 cup offered by Commodore Reid of the Atlantic Yacht club. The race was over a course 15 miles to windward and return.

Child Laborers Need Schooling Bluff Point, N. Y., Sept. 14 .- The 81st semi-annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers closed last night. In the discussion following an address on child labor, G. O. Draper of Hopedale, Mass., expressed the opinion that child labor laws should be framed so as to permit of child laborers spending at least half of each working day in school.

Marines Landed at Clenfuegos

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 14.-A private cablegram received here from Cienfuegos, Cuba, states that marines from the United States gunboat Marietta were landed at that place to protect American interests.

in Internal Blood Treatment Called Uric-O is Widely Recommended to Cure it.

Every sufferer from Rheumatism who wants to be rid of the sleepless nights, the nerve binding, muscle twisting hours of pain, should get at once a bottle of Uric-O, the marvelous specific for the cure of Rheumatism. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble nor how intense the suffering. Uric-O will cure it. It cures by its direct action upon the blood, muscles and kidneys; it neutralizes the rheumatic acid poison and drives it from the system. Druggists and Physicians everywhere are recommending Uric-O because they know that at last there has been a remedy prepared which actually cures the trouble and cures it to stay cured. It has stood all kinds of tests and never been found wanting. Uric-O is a cure for Rheumatism and for Rheumatism only. Mr. E. J. Murphy is the agent for Uric-O in Quincy, and he would be glad to meet all sufferers from the disease and explain the action of Uric-O on all forms of Rheumatism. The Smith Drug Co., of Syracusc, N. strictures on "frenzied finance," made dents in national politics, it pushed William A. Clark into the United States senate and it brought forth F. Augustus Heinze.

Most copper kings, as well as the monarchs of metal in other lines, make their first strike by accident. Heinze did not. He figured it out. He calculated the dip of the veins that were being worked in other mines, bought some intervening claims, dug down to the veins he had located by cold calculation and followed them not only through his own property, but, according to the statement of his antagonists, under the surface "staked out" by others. Thereupon followed a series of lawsuits that shook the state of Montana and caused something of a flurry in the financial world at large.

Brought Standard Oil to Its Knees.

It was in these litigations that Heinze brought the richest corporation on sistence is bound to land somewhere, earth to its knees. Everybody now knows, thanks to Thomas W. Lawson, be at a point in the race of life far in that Amalgamated Copper means Standard Oil. Well, it was the Amalgamat given up. An Instance of His Persistence.

Heinze's front name is Frederick, called by his German father "Fritz." In an evil moment one of Fritzie's playmates kicked the future champion of the copper ring, and Frederick Augustus gave chase.

The average boy would have kept running for a block perhaps, after which he would have abandoned the race as fruitless, but the future vanquisher of the Standard pursued for one block, then for two, then for ten. then for a mile, and still kept running until the other boy dropped exhausted and Fritz evened up the score by landing a resounding kick on his prostrate anatomy. A kid with that much perand that "somewhere" will generally advance of that at which others have nerve and never quits the game there It is related that after the overgrown grip. In manhood as in youth he kept

For one thing, Mr. Heinze is said to be the greatest smelter expert in America, and that is no small accomplishment in itself. He is not the sort of man to give up being a first class smelter expert to become a third rater in the book and magazine field. Happy is that man who knows what he can't do. Here is a little story of Heinze's boyhood that made me think more of him.

After he was sent to school in Germany, he wrote to his mother in Brook lyn begging her to remember a small friend of his across the street whose parents were dead. "Please be good to Charlie," ran the letter, "because he has no friend but me." He then inclosed a dollar to buy a Christmas present for Charlie.

As a general thing, I do not particularly fancy high financiers, but I do like people with hearts in them, whatever their outward circumstances. Evidently the heart of the boy Heinze was large and sound. During his long fight against the Standard Oil trust it is stated that Heinze while standing by the open grave of his mother had a subpoena served on him by pious John's company.

If one wishes examples of the two extremes of generosity and meanness let him take the little boy sending his dollar to his orphan friend 3,000 miles away and the overgrown corporation hounding a man at his mother's grave. The more we see of trusts the more we love horse thieves by con-

Worked Hand In Hand.

In the many scores of cases brought against the Amalgamated Mr. Heinze was assisted by his brother Arthur, a lawyer. The two worked hand in hand, and the persistence of the one was supplemented by the legal acumen of the other. Case after case was won not only against the Amalgamated, but against Senator Clark and others. There has seldom been a struggle in the financial world more replete with sensations and scandals.

At one time Heinze won the famous Minnie Healy mine, worth at least $10,000,000. This was the blow that almost killed Rogers. When he heard of earth Rogers one day sent for F. Au | When the young copper king did go | that decision all of the Amalgamated gustus and asked him what he would into the Amalgamated it was at a mines in Montana were ordered shut time when Wall street said that he down, throwing thousands of men out Heinze, like Bret Harte's "heathen had whipped the big company, and it of work and causing untold misery was further stated that Heinze pracand hardship.

The Standard could no longer strike at Heinze, who had whipped it in the state courts. So in baffled rage the great trust struck at Montana. It was shortly after that shutdown that Heinze and the Amalgamated pooled issues and ended the long war. It is safe to say that F. Augustus got more out of that final sale than the $10,000,000 he had originally asked of Rogers, when that high priest of money nearly had nervous prostration because of the magnitude of the demand. Heinze concluded at that time that he was young enough to wait. So he went! back to fighting and let Rogers think it over. The courts helped the Standard to come to a conclusion. It has been less than a score of years since young Heinze went fresh from Columbia to the copper country and gained the contemptuous title of "the dude" because he wore evening clothes in the evening and a frock coat and silk tile on Sunday. By sheer will force and intellect he compelled recognition. He had a theory that if a man only possesses sufficient courage, ability and persistence he can fight any sort of combination and win. In the language of the street, he "made good." J. A. EDGERTON

Insurgents Regarded Landing of Americans as Constituting Intervention -- Nothing Results From Offers to Surrender

Havana, Sept. 15.-The extra session of congress called by President Palma, completed at one sitting yesterday afternoon the business for which it was summoned, namely, the granting to President Palma fullest powers not already constitutionally possessed by the executive for carrying on the war, including the right to appropriate any public funds for war purposes; revoking appropriations voted at the preceding session of congress in order to permit the diversion of the moneys involved to prosecution of the war, and authorizing increases of the rural guards to 10,000 and the artillery to 2000 men. This triples the former force of rural guards and doubles the artillery. These measures, which were combined in one blanket bill, were passed by party votes, the Liberals and Independents refraining from voting and the Liberal-Nationalists voting with the Moderates.

President Palma submitted a brief message, principally devoted to deploring the conduct of the opposition, whom he charged with the responsibility of causing the rebellion. The message contained no recommendations beyond suggestions that congress approve all recent executive decrees and take such steps as may be deemed advisable for ending the war.

When the senate assembled it was one short of the two-thirds necessary to constitute a quorum. In the house of representatives only 40 out of a total membership of 60 were present, two less than legal opening quorum. The senate bill passed the house by a party vote and by a party vote also a resolution declaring confidence in President Palma was adopted. A motion for the appointment of a peace commission of five members to negotiate with the insurgents was rejected. Another feature of the day was the return on board the cruiser Denver of the bluejackets who were landed from that vessel Thursday evening on the request of President Palma, who represented that he could not guarantee the protection of American interests. This was in view of the fact that the landing of the bluejackets had not met with the approval of the Washington government, which is believed here to have regarded the step as open to the construction of intervention. The events also indicated that the insurgents in Havana province regarded the landing of American sailors as constituting intervention, and they signified their readiness on that occasion to quit the field. Nothing resulted from their offers to surrender.

the railroads, which are completely tied up, no trains leaving Havana. This is a particular hardship to hundreds of country families who were coming to the city for fear of attacks by the insurgents. Telegraphic communication is almost as badly paralyzed.

Reports of the capture of Cienfuegos are persistent, but the absence of telegraphic communication makes it impossible to verify the rumors.

London Hit For Miss Crosman

In "Ali-of-a-Sudden Peggy."

Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt Tours Again In "The Little Duchess."

[From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.] Henrietta Crosman will open her season in the big London success, "Allof-a-Sudden Peggy," which ran most all of last season at the Duke of York's

There was much competition for the American rights to this play, which was done in London by Charles Frohman, but Maurice Campbell turns out to be the owner of the American rights by reason of an agreement made with Ernest Denny long before "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy" was first put on at the Duke of York's theater, and when other managers endeavored to secure it they learned that Mr. Campbell was the owner.

Ever since that time he has been holding it in abeyance for Miss Crosman and it has now been decided that she will open her season in it.

Heretofore Miss Crosman has not appeared in a London success, and she is to be congratulated on securing this highly praised comedy with such a London record. The play is described as modern, with the star part an Irish

Ida Vernon, who has been with Henrietta Crosman for several seasons, will be seen with her again in "All-ofa-Sudden Peggy."

Miss Crosman is now at her summer home at Lake Sunapee, N. H., resting up for the coming season.

Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt, whose starring season last year in the New York Casino success "The Little Duchess," proved a winning venture, will be seen again in the same musical comedy this season. Milton and Sargent Aborn, her managers, have made arrangements with two well known collaborators to write a new musical comedy for her exploitation, in which she will be starred next season.

Countess von Hatzfeldt, though one of the youngest, is one of the most promising musical comedy stars before the public, and her admirers predict a great future for her.

"My new play will be called "The pendi Witching Hour," says Augustus jury. Decision of Arbitrators of Boston Longshoremen's Strike Boston, Sept. 15 .- All danger of a general strike of longshoremen and other freight handlers in this city has been averted by the decision made last night by the board of arbitration which was given authority to settle the differences. The aecision of the board states that the strike of the Her Coming Appearance longshoremen at the Metropolitan Steamship company's wharf was in violation of all trade union principles and that the complication which threatened to develop into a general strike was due to the fact that the strikers had declined two previous offers of arbitration.

There were 109 men who struck at the Metropolitan wharves several weeks ago because of the discharge of some union men and other grievances. Sixty of the men found employment elsewhere. The strikers who desire to be employed by the company must send their names and addresses to the company and the latter, for three months, must employ men only from

It is possible that it is because Mr.

Quincy has had some experience with that class of men that he is now so earnestly seeking the nomination of some other person as the Democratic standard bearer. Mr. Moran is a radical. All the men who are about him, or nearly all, are also radicals in political matters. Among these men are George Fred Williams, the two Coakleys, and various other individuals of the radical and senational type. The Democratic party has had one era of George Fred Williams, and during that period the party became so small and insignificant as to excite the pity of the most nard-hearted. Mr. Quincy probably believes that the defeat of Mr. Moran in the coming election would be the best thing that could happen to the Democratic party in case the Democratic state convention places him in nomination. There were some good Democrats as far back as 1896 who believed the best made of those implicated in the fraudu- interests of the country demanded the defeat of William J. GOOD AFTERNOON.

Rev. David C. Reid of the Wood Memorial church, Cambridge, has given up his position as a clergyman and taken up newspaper work. He made the statement that more good work can be accomplished by a newspaper than from the pulpit. It is true that a newspaper can do much good if properly conducted, and it needs the support of moral people.

We notice that Boston has begun a crusade against refuse papers, banana skins, apple cores, etc., and is really accomplishing much in cleaning the city streets. Cannot the residents of Quincy emphasize the need of care in this regard.

The Evidence Was Not Sufficient

John E. Flynn and John P. Johnson grades 7, 8 who were arrested early Friday morning grades 5, 6 for sounding a false alarm of fire were given a hearing this morning at the

The witnesses for the government placed the two men near both boxes 36 an 43 after the alarm, but there was no direct evidence to connect them with pulling the alarms.

The story told by Flynn of his whereabouts when the alarms were sounded and that of the government witnesses was contradictory.

For instance Mr. Driscoll said he came out of his house while the alarm from Box 43 was sounding and met the two men coming from the direction of the box. On the other hand Flynn said that he was at the West Quincy Hose house when this box sounded. That he went across lots through Fallon's yard, where he stopped to take a drink of alcohol; and then went to the box and was coming back when he met Driscoll. The court however, said that the evidence was not sufficient to hold the men, and they were discharged.

Letters Wanted Hospital Experience

An adjourned meeting of the Pond Cemetery association will be held at the home of Mrs. M. T. Call, Holbrook avenue, Tuesday afternoon, September 18 at half past two.

The Norfolk County Association of G. A. R. Veterans will meet in Braintree next Wednesday, at ten o'clock, in G. A. R. Hall. Dinner will be served at noon and a campfire will be enjoyed in the afternoon. The W. R. C. will meet at the same time in the Town hall.

The best wishes of every citizen of Quincy are with Captain A. T. Sadler in his movement to start a Quincy branch of the United States life saving corps. For years the lack of one has been the only drawback to the summer cottages in that city-Boston Post. Mr. Sadler, it will be remembered by lovers of roller skating, was the manager at the Quincy coliseum in the early part of last winter, but after roller pollo was started he withdrew.

The Woman's Home Missionary society held its regular meeting in the chapel on Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. S. Thayer, who presided, took for her subject, "Work in the South." After some interesting reports, Mrs. A. A. Ellsworth of Quincy, who resided in the South just after the war and again a few years ago, gave a very earnest talk on the conditions of the Southland as she saw them. All those present listened with great pleasure and special interest, because of her long and pleasant association with this church and

The rural free delivery, through Mayflower Park and parts of Holbrook and South Weymouth, will go into effect Monday Sept. 17. Paul Monaghan of Plain street was the successful applicant out of many who applied. He went over the route Friday and will go again today to get names and addresses. Mr. Monaghan came to South Braintree many years ago from Newton Lower Falls and has been a successful mason and plasterer.

Rev. Mr. Crathern will preach at Mayflower Park chapel, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. All are invited.

Friday evening, twenty friends on pleasure bent, called at 21 Hancock street and very agreeably surprised Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gillette. The invaders came laden with quantities of sweet and delicious eatables and left behind many a pleasant reminder of their good-will and friendship.

Thursday, Mrs. A. R. Gillette who met with a serious accident the first of the summer, and has since been receiving treatment for a greater part of the time at the Addison Gilbert hospital at Gloucester, was brought to her son's home on Hancock street.

Issued by President Roosevelt to forbids further delay. Cuban Republic

SAYS PEACE IS MENACED

Patriots Urged to Band Together to Sink All Differences and Be Preserved

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.-After a protracted conference with Secretaries Taft, Bacon and Bonaparte, representing the war, state and navy departments, President Roosevelt last night addressed an important communication to Cuba and arranged to send sirable to do so in the public print. Taft and Bacon to that island on Sunday to make a thorough investigation of conditions there and lend their influence to restore peace.

The communication is addressed to the Cuban minister to the United States, Quesada, and is as follows:

"My Dear Senor Quesada; In this crisis in the affairs in the republic of you are the minister of Cuba accredit- den decision of the president to desed to this government, but because you and I were intimately drawn together at the time when the United States intervened in the affairs of Cuba with the result of making her an independent nation. You know how sincere my affection and adoration and regard for Cuba are. You know that I never have done and never shall do anything in reference to Cuba save with such sincere regard for her welfare. You know the pride I felt because it came to me as president to withdraw the American troops from the island of Cuba and officially to proclaim her independence and to wish her God speed in her career as a free republic.

"I desire now, through you, to say a word of solemn warning to your people, whose earnest well wisher I am. For seven years Cuba has been in a condition of profound peace and of steadily growing prosperity. For four years this peace and prosperity have obtained under her own independent government. Her peace, prosperity and independence are now menaced, for of all possible evils that can befall Cuba the worst is the evil of anarchy into which civil war and revolutionary disturbances will assuredly throw her.

"Whoever is responsible for armed revolution and outrage, whoever is responsible in any way for the condition of the affairs that now obtains is an enemy of Cuba, and doubly heavy is the responsibility of the man, who, affecting to be the especial champion of Cuban independence, takes any step which will jeopardize that independence. For there is just one way in which Cuban independence can be secured and that is for the Cuban people their inability to continue in their path of peaceful and orderly

"This nation asks nothing of Cuba, save that it shall continue to develop as it has developed during the past seven years, that it shall know and practice the orderly liberty which will assuredly bring an ever-increasing measure of peace and prosperity to the beautiful queen of the Antilles.

"Our intervention in Cuban affairs will only come if Cuba herself shows that she has fallen into the insurrectionary habit, that she lacks the self- owing to the difficulty of communirestraint necessary to peaceful self- cating with them from Havana some government, and that her contending clashes may occur before the news factions have plunged the country in- reaches them. to anarchy. I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together to sink all differences and personal am- ed States government proposes to bitions, and to remember that the only scrutinize closely all shipments of firependence of the republic is to prevent war from this port to West Indian, the necessity of outside interference Mexican, Central American and South by rescuing it from the anarchy of American ports, primarily to prevent civil war.

adjuration of mine, given in the name ing neutrality laws, became evident of the American people, the staunchest when a special order on the matter friends and well-wishers of Cuba that was issued by Collector Stranahan, of there are in all the world, will be the port of New York. The order taken as it is meant, will be seriously considered and will be acted upon, and date to any vessels bound for ports if so acted upon Cuba's permanent in such as above mentioned until full dependence, her permanent success as verified manifests shall have been filed a republic are assured.

as announced from Oyster Bay. Predicted entirely on the course of the administration's treatment of the Cuban question in its earlier phases, and having in mind especially the policy inaugurated by Secretary Root towards San Domingo soon after he assumed office, it is the common belief here that his purpose is to secure from absolutely dependable sources of information that will establish clearly the fact that President Palma either does or does not in his administration represent a majority of Cuban

From the San Domingo precedent, when President Morales was forced to sustain himself "or sink," the administration is believed to be determined to allow the majority of the Cuban people to prevail in the government of the island. The Teller amendment declaring for the independence of Cuba read in connection with the Platt amendment is understood in official circles here to warrant this construction of the proper attitude of the present Cuban crisis. It will be for Taft and Bacon to determine for themselves whether in their opinion the best interests of the island are represented by the revolutionary forces or whether in the interests of order and public weal and the future welfare of Cuba the Palma government should be sustained.

Of course their report to the president will be merely advisory and it rests with him to determine whether or not he shall accept their conclusions. But it is assumed that, pending their decision and report, the naval forces of the United States will endeavor to maintain the status quo and there is reason to believe from the report that the insurgent leaders, Zayes and Castillo, have offered to surrender to Commander Colwell of the American cruiser Denver, that they are prepared to accept this arbitrament.

Therefore a cessation of hostilities is expected as soon as the leaders of the various insurgent bands have been informed of the president's action, though of course it is possible that

In speaking of the O'Day fine President Pulliam of the National league said: "O'Day is the highest priced umpire in America. However, his contract calls for fines when he does not do his duty, and as I thought he had neglected his duty I saw fit to fine him. That is all there is to it."

Then when O'Day resigned Pulliam retracted his words and withdrew the fine, O'Day continuing to work. With a pair of deuces in his hand O'Day bluffed Pulliam's four aces and got away with it. President Pulliam's nerve and determination inspire me to descend to poetry for a moment:

ROOSEVELT TROPHY

President Himself Presents It to

the Winning Yacht Club Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.-President Roosevelt made the official presentation of the Roosevelt cup to the American Yacht club, the trophy which was won by the yacht Vim of that club during the recent international races off Marblehead, Mass., in which several German boats competed unsuccessfully.

The presentation was made on board the Mayflower, anchored in the entrance of Oyster Bay. After the presentation, which was witnessed by a dozen representatives of the yachting fraternity, including several members of the German crews, and members of the cabinet, an elaborate luncheon was served in the dining room of the little cruiser.

In presenting the trophy which the president had allowed to bear his name, he said that he wished to give his most hearty endorsement of amateur sports of all kinds and commended the sportsmanship of the Germans. They had, he said, demonstrated that they could withstand the supreme test of sportsmen, they could lose gracefully. While the president congratulated the winning club most heartily, he said there was a note of regret in his endorsement because the Germans had lost.

Speaking more seriously, the presdent said there was a side to the races just run and to the function taking place which meant for more to the German and American nations than the winning of the cup; that in the sportsmanship of the two nations was being developed a fraternal feeling which was most desirable for the welfare of both countries.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass., ter the status of the martyred president had been hurriedly unveiled by Mrs. Longworth.

The crowd was so large and cramped that it got beyond control, and the shrieking of women and children, who were caught in the crush, rapidly worked the crowd into a frenzy. Many women fainted and were carried out of the crowd by the police. Mrs. Eliza L. Mahan and a negress were trampled on and had to be removed in an ambulance. Both will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth had an exciting experience in escaping from the excited crowds. From the speakers' stand they went through a window r 11 16 abcdefghi 11 44 overlooking the platform into the governor's office, but they were scarce | r 1 13 abc ly inside when the people began to r 3 10 abc surge through the doors from the corridors, and the office was quickly filled. The Longworths then attempted to reach an automobile which | r 7 08 abcdefghi 7 35 was waiting for them in the street, but once inside the building they were caught in a surging crowd. Finding no immediate avenue of escape, Longworth fought a way out for his wife from the capitol and across a Wollaston Broad street into the Outlook building. There they remained until the police c Atlantic, cleared a way for a carriage which e Pope's Hill. took the Longworths to a hotel. Later they took a train for Cincinnati.

The committee on arrangements had expected an enormous crowd, but in view of the solemnity and dignity of the occasion, the committee believed The committee on arrangements of the occasion, the committee believed Boston for West Quincy (Stopping 1) that the crowd would be easily kept East Milton)—6.16 7.16 8.16 9.16 10.16 11.16 of the occasion, the committee believed in restraint. Under ordinary circumstances the police arrangements would have been adequate, but the officers quickly found they were powerless to cope with the crowd. Tiers of seats had been constructed across Four thousand tickets were issued for these seats to invited guests and all seats were occupied.

The McKinley monument stands at the west entrance to the grounds, facing the street, and the crowd was packed into the space between the speakers' stand and the monument.

The exercises began at 2.30 o'clock. As a band was playing an overtur women in the crowd next to the speakers' stand began to scream and cry for help on account of the crush. Several women fainted and were carried to the stand. Rev. Washington Gladden rose to deliver the invocation, but he had spoken only a few sentences when the roar of voices forced him to ston. Governor Harris then attempted to guiet the crowd. 'Keep back!" he shouted, "You're crushing the people in front to death! The governor's voice could not be heard 20 feet away, on account of the din. The commotion then became so alarming that those on the stand asked Mrs. Longworth to come forward in the hope that a glimpse or her might satisfy the crowd.

She came to the front of the stand and the crush became almost a stampede. It was then decided to unveil the statue at once. Mrs. Longworth 12.07 P. M. then pulled a ribbon, which drew aside the flags covering the statue. A man who stood on another's shoulders A. M., then 14 and 44 minutes past each hour grasped the ribbons and they were quickly torn into fragments by relic seekers. The crush was stopped for and 37 minutes past each hour until and includa few minutes, but as Mrs. Longworth ing 11.07 P. M. sat down it was renewed and she again went to the front of the platform and bowed to the throng. The committee on arrangements having decided to defer the addresses until evening, allowed Mrs. Longworth to retire from the platform, and announced the change of program. Persons struggling for their lives around to find the platform around the change of program. sons struggling for their lives around the stand cheered this announcement, but a storm of hisses came from people on the outskirts of the crowd, who did not understand the situation. The crowd then ... spersed.

The program of exercises was carried out at Memorial hall last night. Governor Harris presided. The speakers were Justice Day of the supreme court of the United States, Senator Daniels of Virginia, General Joseph McKay and General Brown. Mrs. McKinley was unable to attend the dedicatory exercises, but she was represented by her niece, Mrs. Ida Mcresented by her niece, Mrs. Ida Mc-Kinley Day.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Following the engagement of "Cape Cod Folks" at the Boston theatre, which closes with next Saturday evening's performance comes Thomas Jefferson iu "Rip Van Winkle." The Boston visit of Mr. Jefferson this season will be limited to two weeks only, including Wednesday and Saturday matinees. "Rip Van Winkle" is a play which never seems to grow old. Rip with his good-naturned ragaries, has furnished food for laughter to several generations of playgoers. Now as ever egend of the Hudson, whose shrewish wife's money. patience tried beyond endurance, gives way at last, and whose righteous anger forces him o seek peace and quietude in the mountainous passes of the Catskills.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The first melodrama of the season at the Castle Square will be given next week. It is called "By Right of Sword," and is a dramatization of A. W. Marchmont's novel of the same name. Russian politics and a Nihilist over his bachelor co-worker. scheme to kill the Czar form the basis of the plot, and the atmosphere is brought thoroughly up to date by frequent allusions to recent Russo-Japanese troubles. Green, blue and searlet uniforms, a military bell, and a court martial give color and realism to each of the four acts. Sword combats, too, furnish no little excitement, and there is a piquant love interest that involves the leading characters. Moss Lawton and Mr. Hansel will act the hero and the heroine. For the week of September 24, there will be a grand produc-tion of Sardou's "Gismonda."

CASH FOR WEDDING PRESENTS

Swift & Co. Regard Married Men More Valuable as Clerks, and Those Who Take a Wife Receive $50 or More-Few Bachelors Now In the

To win a place in the offices of Swift & Co.'s big packing establishment a young man needs, above all, the requisite commonly looked upon as making for success-a wife! The company has made this fact evident by adopting the plan of giving a wedding present of $50 or more to each man in its employ on the announcement of his marriage.

For this reason few bachelors can be found working over the books in the offices of the stockyards establishment, says the Chicago Tribune. The married men know that not only are they looked upon with favor when promotions are in order, but that marriage means an immediate recognition of the increased value of their services.

This is the manner in which the officers of the company recently decided to show their appreciation of a man's pluck in taking to himself a wife: He is called "upon the carpet," congratua new generation appears as eager to see and lated by his employers, who then hand enjoy that lazy, laugh-provoking hero of the him an envelope containing a sum of Merbert L. Swift admitted recently that the company had decided to give a cash present to the clerks in the Chicago office of the company who capitulate to Dan Cupid. He 'id not care to go into detail of the matter, but said, in a general way, that the clerks are of greater value after marriage than when single.

One of the clerks who already has benefited by the bounty of the packing company says the company no longer is looked upon as a "soulless corporation" by the married clerks.

He gave the following reasons advanced by the company for the increased value of benedicts:

A married man can be depended on better than an unmarried man. He has increased domestic responsibilities and takes his work more seriously. He places his work higher in im-

Mrs. Mackay, who is a member of the village board of education, had a resolution passed to that effect at the regular monthly meeting of the board. When the boys heard of it they congregated at the old clock tower and took up a collection. They bought chalk, and before many hours the town was well covered with senti-Ferrets to Help String Cables. The Richmond Home Telephone company will use real ferrets in stringing cables through the underground conduit system now being built in this city. The little animals will be harnessed to tiny steel carts carrying a reel upon which will be wound slender but strong twine. Upon being put into the conduit the ferrets are expected to make their way to the other end. Each section is a block in length. The light twine is attached to heavy wire by means of which the heavy cables may

CHILEAN GIRL'S PLUCK.

Story of Woman Who Organized Ambulance Corps For Valparaiso.

When the news was cabled from Valparaiso that a Chilean girl had organized the ambulance corps for relief work in the devastated city many Philadelphians who had known Bianca Hillman during her residence in the Quaker City remembered a most attractive young woman and wished her all success in her work.

Miss Hillman was graduated from the Woman's Medical college of Philadelphia with the class of '05, says a Philadelphia dispatch to the New York Herald. She came from Santiago, state of Santiage, about eight years ago and entered a seminary at Rye, N. Y., studying at that place for about four years, when she entered on a course of medicine at the college in Philadelphia.

As an example of her courage and goodness of heart one of the classmates of Dr. Hillman today told how, while she was a student at the college, two immense negroes had endeavored to hold her up. At the time the young medical student was taking a stroll with her fox terrier, Sport, in North College avenue. On coming to a dark portion of the street two negroes jumped upon the defenseless woman and bore her to the ground. The little fox terrier attacked them and made things so unpleasant around their shinbones that they let go of the woman and started to run.

On being released Miss Hillman grappled with the two men and held them until she had given them a curtain lecture on the evil of their ways, after which she made them accompany her to a nearby physician, where she cauterized the wounds made by the fox terrier. Miss Hillman never mentioned this episode, and it did not leak

MACHINE PICKS COTTON.

Bolls Drawn Through Tube And Loaded Directly Into Wagon.

A cotton picking machine has been patented by John Hervey and Charles Hervey, his son, of Kansas City, says the Kansas City Star. The principle of the machine is that of the vacuum or directly into a wagon. The tube that All are invited. receives the cotton reminds one of nothing so much as the tail of a kangaroo.

The tube is a piece of large sized hose made of a fine grade of rubber covered with wire netting. There is a nozzle on the end of the tube. This nozzle is lined with a series of fins or fingers. The operator holds the nozzle within a few inches of the cotton bolls. Suction causes the boll to be drawn into the nozzle, where the fins catch and hold it for the fraction of a second from the boll.

The machine is designed to be fas-

Note In Bottle Went Far.

Eighteen months ago Miss Lizzie Weidman of Portland, Pa., wrote her address and that of two friends on a scrap of paper, corked it up in a bottle ments expressing approval of Mrs. and threw the bottle into the Delaware river, near home. She had forgotten the incident when she received recently a letter from the island of Flores, one of the Azores, that a bottle containing her address had been picked up there. The bottle had drifted more than 5,000

A Watchdog Hen.

Miss Mildred Peck, the young daughter of Judge Epaphoditus Peck of Bristol, Conn., a professor in the Yale Law school, has trained a pet hen so that not a cat or dog dares intrude on the premises. Tramps, too, are loath to pass the watchdog hen, which ruffles her feathers and flies in their faces.

New Jersey Off Rhode Island Ready

The Quincy built warships continue prominent in the war news of the day. The Herald says: With a full supply of coal and provisions for a four months' cruise the battleship New Jersey left the Charlestown Navy Yard Sunday morning for Tompkinsville, N. Y., where she will tie up for a day, and unless new orders are received, will proceed from there to Cuban waters to help the ships already there in untangling the Cuban troubles.

The New Jersey was at the navy yard from Friday afternoon until 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and during that time every man of the 700 on board was hard at work getting the vessel in trim for the long voyage. She coaled by night, and at daybreak yesterday the jackies were busy scrubbing the decks and getting the coal dust off the ship's sides. When she did sail she showed not a sign of the strenuous work of the two days' Boston visit, and although her men were disappointed at not receiving hope-for furloughs and shore leaves they were in fine spirits.

The going of the New Jersey left the Rhode Island the only vessel at the navy yard, and it is expected she will also follow within a few days.

Unfair Conditions At High School

Among the business before the grievous committee of the Building Trades Council in Boston Sunday night was the following:

The lathers announced that they had received a request from the South Shore Building Trades Council to help in forming a lathers' union at Quincy. Unfair conditions on the new Quincy high school job were complained of. The conditions are certainly unfair to the 700 or more pupils and their parents and the teachers. The loss to the pupils is almost irreparable, and there should be no strikes or delays.

Probably a thousand people visited the new High school building on Sunday, Many could not see that much progress had been made during the week, but nevertheless much was done.

Hungarians Unveil Monument to Our First President

PRAISE FOR AMERICANS

Father of Our Country Did Great Work For Civilization the World Over--Many Thousands Present at the Ceremony

Budapest, Sept. 17 .- Sunday was George Washington Day in Hungary's capital and the entire population, from morning until night, gave itself up to enthusiasm over the unveiling on monarchial territory of a monument to the first President of the United States. The Stars and Stripes and the Hungarian colors intertwined were to be seen everywhere.

In the morning there were special sermons in many of the churches, the preachers calling attention to the importance of the event. Yesterday afternoon thousands of persons lined the streets through which passed an imposing parade to the city park, in which the monument stands. Thirty thousand persons were in the park, which was surrounded by many thousand persons more. Francis Kossuth, Hungarian minister of commerce, and Count Albert Apponyi, minister of worship, represented the independece party at the ceremonies and were not present in their capacities as government offi-

The attendance included numerous members of the diet, the various municipal officials, Mr. Chester, the American consul general, 500 Hungarian-Americans headed by E. T. Kohanyi of Cleveland, and delegates from patriotic societies in all parts of Hungary.

Prior to the unveiling united choirs sang the Hungarian and then the American national anthem and other hymns.

The monument was unveiled amid scenes of great enthusiasm. Vice President Rakovski of the chamber of deputies was the orator of the day. He dwelt at length on Washington's great work for the cause of civilization, not only for the United States, but for all the world. He said the standard set by the father of the American republic had influenced Louis Kossuth and that by that standard Hungary's greatness would be attained.

Mr. Kohanyi in a speech praised American institutions and freedom. He said Hungarian-Americans were true citizens of the republic, but would always keep up their love for their native country. Mayor Bauzy of Budapest promised to take good care of the monument, which, he said, was splendid evidence of the friendship between the two peoples and hoped it would last forever. After the speeches the people paraded past the monument, covering the pedestal with wreaths and flora

At a banquet last night Bauzy toasted President Roosevelt and Consul Genral Chester proposed the health of the King of Hungary. Count Appony eulogized the United States and expressed his admiration of Hungarian Americans for being absolutely loyal to their new home, while retaining their love for the fatherland. Chester availed himself of the opportunity to state that he only attended the cere monies and the banquet as a private American citizen, thinking that it was his duty to do so on such an occasion.

DECISION REPUDIATED

of this city have repudiated a decision of a board of arbitration relative to a settlement of the strike at the Metropolitan Steamship company's wharf. At a meeting last night the Longshoremen's trade council also repudiated the decision. The union men declare that the decision of the board is biased, and it was voted that all the strikers should return to work or none.

The action of the longshoremen caused considerable surprise among the labor men, for it was understood that the decision of the board, made public Friday night, declaring that the Metropolitan strike was contrary to union principles, would be accepted by the union and employers, both parties having been represented on the board. A special meeting of the executive board of district assembly 30 is called for tonight to consider the situation.

Railroad Ordered Closed

Bethel, Vt., Sept. 17.—Because it was considered unsafe for passenger and reight traffic, the White River Valley railroad has been ordered closed by order of the state board of railroad commissioners. The road, which is 19 miles long and runs from Rochester to Bethel, was built eight years ago. There are large lumber interests that will be affected by the commission's order, and a tale mine will also be inconvenienced. It was on account of the weakened condition of some of the trestles and bridges that the road was ordered closed.

Yacht Destroyed by Fire

New Haven, Sept. 17 .- The 20-ton schooner yacht Leslie of the Columbia Yacht club of New York caught fire off Keller's wharf and is a total wreck. The schooner carried an auxiliary en gine and the fire was caused by an explosion of gasoline. The owner is Dr. A. Hellrung of New York. The yacht put in here from Newport, R. I., and intended to stay here two days before going to Bridgeport.

Killed Cat and Hit Bystander

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 17 .- While running along Chatham street an automobile ran over a cat. The cat became entangled in the machinery, and to prevent its suffering Officer Clark shot it. The bullet went through the animal and, striking the curbstone, glanced off and hit Nathaniel Newhall, who was standing nearby, in the groin, inflicting a severe flesh wound.

Boston to Boom Itself

Boston, Sept. 17 .- The 276th anniversary of the founding of Boston was signalized by the formal organization today of an official bureau to advertise the attractions and commercial and industrial possibilities of the city, for which the city council recently voted $50,000. This amount is being supplemented by subscriptions from the mer-

New President of Shoe Workers Brockton, Mass., Sept. 17 .- With returns lacking from 30 cities and towns qualified to vote in the matter, figures compiled by The Times show that Thomas B. Hickey of this city has been elected general president of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union over John F. Tobin, the present incumbent, by a plurality of 1927.

Walked to Death In Sleep Newport, R. I., Sept. 17 .- Ephraim Lajoie of Hartford, a private in the coast artillery company, died in the post hospital at Fort Adams of internal injuries received while walking in his sleep. Lajoie walked out of one of the barracks windows 30 feet above the ground. He was 32 years old.

Doctor Killed In Runaway

Berlin, N. H., Sept. 17 .- Dr. D. J. McCabe of this city was driving when his horse took fright and bolted. The carriage collided with a post and Mc-Cabe was thrown out, striking upon his head. He died in less than an hour after the accident.

$100,000 Damage by Cloudburst Jackson, Neb., Sept. 17 .- Water from a cloudburst rushed down the valley of Elk creek, sweeping away hundreds of tons of hay, drowning hogs, flooding cellars, washing away railroad tracks and doing other damage, aggregating $100,000. The wave of water in the creek when it struck Jackson was seven feet high.

Mexican Cotton Crop Short

Mexico City, Sept. 17 .- The cotton crop of the country will in all probability be 15 or 20 percent less this season than last, owing to the inundation of land in the Laguna district. The loss will be about $2,000,000.

The O'Connell rally was held in Music hall and was attended by upwards of three hundred. William Kelly presided, and the meeting gave an enthusiastic greeting to O'Connell who was escorted through City Square with red fire.

The Logan rally was held in Wilson's hall. William Walsh presided and about fifty were in attendance. Mr. Walsl made a speech telling how much Logan had done for the laboring man. Candi date Logan also addressed the meeting.

New York City Excursion.

October is undoubtedly one of the most enjoyable months in the whole year for a vacation trip. At this season of the year, especially during the early days, the air is brisk and invigorating, and the fields and forests beautified, in their autumnal array, present a gorgeous and gala sight to the tourist who is privileged to view this vista on his Rogers, cf, journey to the mountains or the Larkin, 2b and 1b country. It at once occurred to Colonel Posey, who delights in experiments, that here was an opportunity to test the feasibility of underground gardening. He was satisfied that if he could raise fifteen acres of garden truck 100 feet below the earth's surface he would perform an achievement that would arrest the attention of scientific circles all over the world and at the same time prove immensely profitable. He learned by taking temperatures that the interior of the mine remains constantly the earth. This temperature is unvarying winter and summer and is air is surcharged with carbonic gas, upon which plants thrive.

In order to grow, however, plants require light, and how to light his underground gardens has been a problem that was difficult to solve, but Colonel Posey is convinced that he has at last found the solution. He will illuminate the various chambers and passageways very brilliant light and is inexpensive. "I had heard," said Colonel Posey,

An Enterprising Italian.

The Italians of New York are an enterprising lot, but sometimes enterprise goes too far. There is a son of Italy who does business on Park place who will soon have enough money to re turn to the "boot peninsula" and buy a vineyard, unless some husky American puts him out of business because of his audacity, says the New York corre spondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch. The Italian presses trousers as a means of a livelihood. He stands near the foot of the steps leading to the Park place "L" station and drags men into his little shop, where they wait until their trousers are pressed. "Looka, looka, mistair!" is the salute of the Italian as he points to the big knuckles at the knees of men rushing to their offices. "Coma inaside ana pressa da pants ana maka da vara mucha lika da new for a dime. Pants looka vera mucha da bad. I have a da goosa hot, and it taka da minute." The Italian really presses a pair of trousers in a

At the other end trict. of the hall was a mirror. The night was not so dark but that I could see my reflection and I stood for a moment looking at it.

The first thing I did was to look at the end of the hall, where I supposed there was a mirror, and there wasn't any mirror there. Then I knew the girl in white had fooled me. "The policeman congratulated the women on their pluck in dragging me to the closet before I came to myself, and they split their sides laughing when talking about the notice that the house was haunted. I didn't join my pals for another haul. I slept the rest of the night at the station and later took up my abode for five years behind permanent bars. "I've done some good work since I

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I am privileged to announce to the citizens of Braintree the return of Mr. J. B. Poore, blacksmith and carriage builder, to his old stand on Washington street, near Capen's bridge. Those who availed themselves of his practical knowledge and skill in the science of his craft, during the years that he first conducted business in this location, relength he came to leave them for other fields in which to labor.

Returns to Braintree.

But, returning finally as most wandrers do, to the old town whose enchantment he could no longer resist, he established himself in a modest manner at No. 12 Middle street, where his former friends and patrons have since so evinced their good will toward him that vercrowed. This need of better facilities, particularly for the accommodation of vehicles almost constantly in process of construction, caused him to cast about for a new location, when his love for the 'old stand'' asserted itself, and finding the same available. he once more (as it were) came into his own.

The Quincy Men At State House

The current number of Practical Politics is the annual biographical number which will be prized by all State House men. It has several full page half tones of State officials, Congressmen and others, and also illustrated sketches of all the senators and representatives. It speaks in complimentary terms of the two Quincy men as follows: The idea that the college man is good only at theories is disproved each session of the legislature by some particular example. In this last session it was Eugene C. Hultman of the 5th Norfolk district who exemplified the fallacy of such a statement. Mr. Hultman is a Technology man, a civil engineer of considerable standing, and thus a man who has had to devote a large part of his life to theories as it were. But no man has shown a better or more common sense ability to handle matters of ordinary moment to his people during class afloat. the session than the man from Quincy. Mr. Hultman was appointed to the committee on election laws and here he showed good common sense ability in his way of looking at things without any frills or extra diversions.

Description of New Steamship To Be Launched At Shipyard

The twin screw turbine steamer Creole, to be launched at 11 A. M. tomorrow at the Fore River Shipyard in this city is 440 feet over all, and in design, construction, equipments and appointments is probably one of the best and most complete vessels of her

The vessel will be christened by Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of President E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific Railway Co. A special train to accommodate invited guests will be run from the South Terminal station in Boston at 10 A. M., direct to the shipyard, arriving about 10.45.

The Creole is a steel steamship of the hurricane deck type specially designed and constructed for the Atlantic Steamship Line of the Southern Pacific Company. The vessel has a straight stem and semi-elliptical stern. The elevation tinguishing installation required by shows one large smoke stack and two short pole masts. A large superstructure has been constructed amidships on top of the hurricane deck, with the deck houses superimposed on same.

The following are the principal di-

The Creole is intended as a first-class passenger and freight steamship and the hull has been specially designed to provide against the weaknesses inherent in hurricane deck vessels having large cargo ports in wake of the overall hatches on hurricane deck.

The vessel has five decks, and is subdivided by transverse watertight bulkheads into four cargo holds, in addition to the various 'tween decks, which are pierced on the sides with large hinged tious handling of cargo.

At the forward end of the steel superstructure a large dining saloon has been constructed, providing seating capacity for 164 first class pasgengers. This saloon has a mahogany wainscotting and border and is finished in white, including the panels and coiling. The upholstery, tapestry and hangings have a dark green color effect and the saloon is lighted around three sides by especially large hinged air ports. Adjoining this dining saloon there has been arranged a commodious serving pantry with the usual accessories and utensils commonly found in this department. The pantry is in close connection by spacious passages with the general galley. Conveniently arranged in their vicinity are the scullery, bakery, wine rooms, stewards' stores, etc., in addition to which cold storage has been provided at the forward end of the engine casing, on top of the super-

Altogether accommodations have been provided for 158 first-class passengers, principally in two-berth staterooms on saloon deck and promenade deck.

The second-class passengers, to the number of 58, have been provided for in staterooms in a large Liverpool house on the poop deck aft, and the main tween decks are arranged for the accommodation of 258 steerage passengers. The total ship's complement will equal the large total of 587 all told.

The principal interest centering in the S. S. Creole is the fact that a new departure has been made in the propeling machinery, which will consist in the installation of two 10 feet reversing Curtis turbines, developing a combined capacity of 8,000 brake horse power, which, it is estimated, will propel the vessel at a speed of about 18 knots per hour. These turbines are supplied with steam by ten Babcock & Wilcox water tube boilers. A number of minor machinery installations have been incorporated in this vessels, including a Linde refrigerating plant, a powerful electric light installation, a Brown patent telemotor, steam steering gear, steam winches, steam windlass and capstans.

One of the most interesting systems itted in this vessel is the fire extinguishing and disinfecting machine of the well known Clayton type. This apparatus consists of a generator which can be charged with sulphur and an air fan operated by steam with pipes leading to the holds, 'tween decks, bunkers and all parts of the ship where freight or combustible freight is carried. In addition to this provision for guarding against fire, there is the usual fire ex-

Woodpile in Blossom.

Occasionally in the fall of the year, apple trees put forth a few blossoms, and it is considered a remarkable occurrence, but Henry L. Estabrook of Wollaston avenue has a greater curiosity, for his woodpile is in blossom. A while ago he cut down an apple tree that he thought was dead, but the dismembered tree is coming to life. One bough about two feet long put forth a shoot now about eight inches long which has a cluster of apple blossoms and buds. The flower is perfect and

The school problem is much the same everywhere. The Brockton Enterprise says: The school problem in Brockton is something that jars upon the sensibilities of the parents of school children. ANARCHY IN MOROCCO

May Be Terminated by Efforts of the American Mission

London, Sept. 18 .- A dispatch from Tangier to The Times says that there is a tendency to underestimate the importance of the American mission to Fez. Minister Gummere will not only present his credentials, but also will lay before the sultan his government's views of the existing state of anarchy in Morocco and demand the payment of American claims and punishment for offenses against American subjects.

The dispatch says the position of America renders her action in these natters easier than in the case of Euopean powers, the hands of whose representatives are tied by the political ituation in Europe. America's relaions with Morocco outside the Algeciras protocol are clearly defined by treaty, and the sultan's intrigues with other powers will certainly not be accepted as an excuse for the infringement of these treaty rights. ALL SEE A VICTORY

Four Gubernatorial Candidates Will Be Disappointed

DIVISION OF REPUBLICANS

Churchill's Great Campaign Has Stirred Up Politics In Granite State--The Struggle May End by Nominating McLane

Concord, N. H., Sept. 18 .- The state Republican convention was called to order today in Phoenix hall. Although the supporters of the five contestants for the nomination for governor are not slow to claim victory for their candidate, conservative observers of the situation declare that all prophecy as to the winner is futile.

The extraordinary canvass which has preceded the convention has largely developed from the entrance into the field of Winston Churchill, who is the representative and leader of the anti-corporation movement launched by the newly formed Lincoln Republican club of New Hampshire. For the past six weeks Churchill has toured the state, making a large number of speeches in support of this platform, which is aimed chiefly at the Boston and Maine railroad and which calls for the abolition of a lobby in New Hampshire politics. The other candidates for the nomination are Charles H. Greenleaf of Franconia, Charles M. Floyd of Manchester, Rosecranz W. Pillsbury of Londonderry and Stephen H. Gale of Exe ter. Greenleaf is known as the north country candidate, while Floyd's strength is said to lie in the southern section of the state. Both Greenleaf and Floyd are known as "regulars," o Republicans satisfied with the party record in the state as well as in nationa affairs. Pillsbury stands upon a platform which alleges extravagance in state finances, and charges, among other things, the creation and maintenance of useless commissions. Gale, for the nomination as governor, issued a general reform platform.

The candidacy of Greenleaf and Floyd is said to have split the so-called Republican machine, United States Senator Gallinger directing the Green leaf campaign, and Henry M. Putney chairman of the state railroad commis sion, heading the Floyd movement.

The canvas of the five contestants has caused a division among the Republicans in all sections of the state. Former United States Senator Chand ler, who was defeated for re-election in 1901 because of his advocacy of views similar to those now incorporated in the Churchill platform, has been a frequent caller at the Churchill headquarters, though in his public statement during the campaign in behalf of reform he has not discriminated between Churchill and Pillsbury. It is stated definitery enough to be event of a deadlock the delegates from Belknap county will join in presenting as a compromise candidate Henry B. Quimby of Laconia. In addition to this there is a persistent sentiment that, although Governor McLane is not in the field as a candidate for renomination, he would be renamed for the office as an agreeable solution of a long continuing struggle between the five aspirants. At the Greenleaf headquarters is it stated that Greenleaf will lead on the first ballot with a total of about 300 votes. Substantially the same claim is made for Pillsbury and for Floyd. The Churchill supporters, on the other hand, claim fewer delegates than this number, but strongly aver that their candidate will be in second place from the very first and will take the lead at an early period in the balloting.

Independence League Principles New York, Sept. 18 .- The big auditorium of Cooper Union was crowded last night to hear state candidates of the Independence League open the league's campaign. Mr. Hearst, candidate for governor, in the course of his address said: "We believe that all men are created equal and have equal divine right of monopoly to tax us, and of special privilege to exploit us. We claim the right of popular government, or self-government, and the right to have our votes counted as cast. We stand with Jefferson in favor of a gov ernment for the greatest good of the greatest number. We say with Jackson, 'if there is a power in this country greater than the power of the people we will destroy it."

Primarles In Empire State

New York, Sept. 18 .- Primaries wil be held this afternoon in 85 of the 150 assembly districts of the state. Upon the issue is expected to depend not only the control of the Republican and Democratic organizations in New York and Brooklyn, but probably the control of the coming Republican and Demo cratic state conventions. Elaborate police arrangements for the orderly conduct of the voting have been made.

An Educator's Sudden Death Durham, N. C., Sept. 18 .- President Charles D. McIver of the North Carolina Normal and Industrial coflege at Greensboro, N. CUT OFF BY WAVES

People at North Carolina Beach Were In Great Panic

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 18 .- For about eight hours upward of 200 men, women and children were cut off from the mainland in imminent peril, while cottages, hotel and railroad property was damaged to the extent of about $10,000 by a fierce northeast storm which swept Wrightsville beach.

The storm came without warning and hundreds of cottagers at the beach received their first intimation of danger upon awakening in the morning to find breakers sweeping clear across the beach to the sound and rolling high up on the mainland, two miles beyond. A trolley car kept at the beach in case of emergency took about 25 early risers across the sound on the trestle and four other cars responded from the city to a telephone message and brought others across while the waves swept the trestle. Those left at the beach were afraid to cross the trestle, which gave way immediately after the last car reached the mainland.

As soon as the storm abated somewhat rescue work was begun. Surfboats were sent across the channel at great risk, bringing first the women and children and later the men, the last of the number being brought last even-

At Carolina beach there was some damage to cottages, but the residents had left there the day before on notice of falling barometer. At Southport the harbor craft had a narrow escape from the storm, several of the passenger boats being damaged.

The storm, which is supposed to have originated just north of Cuba, blew 70 miles an hour for a time.

PLANS FOR PEACE

Appear to Be Making but Little Progress In Cuba

A SIEGE AT CIENFUEGOS

Havana Intend to Enter City When Reintorced--They Won't Change Plans Because of Presence of American Warships

Havana, Sept. 18 .- The only results thus far of President Palma's order for the suspension of hostilities have been that Liberal leaders, who hitherto have had every reason for anticipating arrest, are circulating openly in Havana again and even conferring with members of the government with regard to peace, and that such insurgents in the field as have been consulted, while they express themselves as agreeable to settling matters amicably, at' the same time assume an independent attitude which cannot be said to bode particularly well for a prompt settlenent of existing difficulties.

In the meanwhile Cienfuegos is in a state of siege, communication by telegraph being severed, not only in the direction of Havana, but to Santiago as well. It is known that Cienfuegos had not been attacked up to midnight Sunday, but what has transpired since that time is not known here.

All accounts agree that there are easily 3000 insurgents a few miles utheast of Havana, and rumors are difficulation that they will enter the hills, the beautiful plains and bendity peaceably if they are not molested, out that they will fight if they meet with resistance. All visitors to insurgents' camps in Havana province reurn with this impression, but it is believed no attempt will be made against Havana until the arrival of Pino but faintly; to Evelyn it darkened the Guerra's force, which now is variously reported to be from 20 to 40 miles dis-

The general impression is that the presence in Havana harbor of the American cruiser Denver will not act as a deterrent to such a movement, the auxiliary cruiser Dixie having gone to Cienfuegos and the cruiser Des Moines having gone presumably to bring to wood to the village and the railroad Cuba Secretary of War Taft and Assistation. Did She Meet Him?

[Original.]

During the closing years of the nineteenth century an old widower with a daughter had a summer residence on the eastern end of Long Island. Evelyn Cameron not having a mother, being devoted to her father, and he very careful of her, had not to her nineteenth year seen anything of the world. In Three Thousand Insurgents Near June of that year she was invited to go with a party to West Point to attend the graduating exercises of the cadets. Her father with much trepidation consented to her going. One would have supposed they were parting, the one to go around the world.

To a girl who has never seen any thing of life, especially of military life, West Point in the month of roses is a fairyland. The broad plain, encircled with mountains, the river bending around on the other side, the sounds of martial music, men in uniform constantly hastening hither and thither, all give a picture such as civil life never affords. Among others, one of the graduating class, a handsome, manly young fellow, every inch a soldier, was introduced to Evelyn, and the mingling of their two young hearts was as complete as it was sudden. At the end of her visit Evelyn returned to her father at the seashore and when they were clasped in each other's arms she knew that a new world had been opened to her, a new love had come to her compared with which the old was as twilight before the rising sun. But not dreaming that the new would shut out the old, she told her father all. He bore the news manfully, but the moment Evelyn had gone to her room he sank into a chair and groaned.

Lieutenant Victor Paine received a leave after graduating and spent it by the ocean with Evelyn. If the towering ing river had been inspiring to the lovers, the roll of the waves was equally so. But there was a muttering of a coming war storm far to the south that tinged the eternity of waters with sadness. To the soldier it appeared world. When it broke it found the young soldier full of enthusiasm, while it seemed to suck the life from the girl. One would have thought that it was she, not he, who was going to death's camping ground.

The parting took place at a rustic seat built between three trees. From there a path wound down through a Again and again he strove to unwind "Think of my return. This cannot

He dreaded to have her go to the parting and expected trysting place, for when she returned she was always the more drooping. Finally, when the Spaniards surrendered and all was over, she surprised him by not going to the place at all. Just before the end Victor wrote that he had been ordered on a duty which would prevent his sending letters with any regularity. From that time no news came from him, while the troops sailed for home, and one day a fleet of transports appeared on the horizon. Evelyn watched them first with a glass, then with her naked eyes while they approached, and saw them pass on to Nashville, Sept. 18.—Twenty years the eastward. They were making for

POST PRANDIAL.

After the lunch Admiral Bowles spoke briefly. He said that he felt very grateful to Miss Harriman for the highy efficient manner in which she had christened the Creole.

He added that the gentleman who signed the contract got a bargain. He hoped in the vessel to express his indebtedness to Mr. Curtis, the inventor of the turbine. It was the beginning of the building of turbine ships in the

It impresses us here today, because it is an American enterprise. There was no question but if our coast traffic was developed America would again control ninety per cent. of the merchant service instead of ten per cent, as now. Admiral Bowles then proposed a toast the Creole.

President Harriman in responding said that he stood alone in the construction of this particular type of boat. He told of the adverse report on turbines, and how, after a talk between Admiral Bowles and himself Admiral Bowles had his way. He therefore felt that he was a partner in this enterprise. His reputation as well as Admiral Bowles was at stake, He could not help thinking if some of the enormous sums-expended for war vessels had been expended in a peaceful merchant fleet what great benefit would be derived.

He hoped that the young men would take this matter in hand and regain for this country what belongs to us. He then spoke briefly of the enterprise of the Japanese, who wished to buy the four large vessels building for this line. He did not consider it a patriotic thing to do however.

TURBULENT CONVENTION

Battled Over Ten Hours Before Choice Was Made--Greenleat Long Held Lead, but His Delegates Went Over to Floyd Camp--Churchill a Good Second at the Finish

Concord, N. H., Sept. 19 .- Charles M. the first ballot with 157 votes, he fought his way up until he and Floyd remained as practically the only candidates before the convention. Greenleaf received only 55 votes on the last ballot, representing the machine vote headed by Senator Gallinger. Churchill's followers, while disappointed, console themselves with the reflection that the platform adopted by the convention was the platform of their candidate.

The platform opens with the usual "point with pride" and says that the Republicans of New Hampshire, among the first to indorse the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for president, register their unqualified approval of his administration. As regards state issues it calls for a limit on railroad passes, favors war on the lobby, and demands the enforcement of local option.

Charles M. Floyd was born in Derry in 1861. At the present time he is the proprietor of a clothing store in Manchester. He is a trustee of the Amoskeag Savings bank and a director of the Manchester Building and Loan association. He is also prominent in club and fraternal circles. He is a member of the governor's council.

of opposing factions in the primary elections in New York county Congressman Herbert Parsons, president of the New York county committee, won a sweeping victory for the control of the Republican organization, while Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall retained his position at the head of the organization by a narrow margin. Parsons' victory in the Republican party was a complete rout for the faction led by State Chairman Odell and Lower F. Oning. Parsons had the Lemuel E. Quigg. Parsons had the backing of President Roosevelt and Governor Higgins. He telephoned the president at Oyster Bay last night, telling him of the victory and received Rossevelt's warmest congratulations. Roosevelt's warmest congratulations. "This means," said Parsons, "that Odell will not succeed himself as state chairman. In the Democratic battle leader Murphy had the fight of his life. The friends of Mayor McClellan had banded together to wrest the control of Tammany from Murphy and were very nearly successful. While Murphy is accredited with a victory on the face of the returns, some of the leaders recorded as Murphy men are not pronounced in their affiliation any may swing the result around when the test really comes in the county convention.

The success of Parsons means that the Republican state convention will be controlled by the friends of Governor Higgins. Whether or not Governor Higgins will be a candidate for renomination has not been announced. The effect of Murphy's slight margin

CAME WITHOUT WARNING

Many Lives Lost and $1,000,000 Damage by Terrible Typhoon Hong Kong, Sept. 19 .- A terrific storm broke suddenly here, lasting two hours and destroying innumerable native craft and causing much loss of life. The barbor is literally strewn with wreckage and the streets of the city are blocked with debris. The damage to shipping will reach at least $1,000,000. Although the barometer was low.

nothing presaged the coming typhoon. Under ordinary precautions the usual harbor work was in progress when the storm came without warning.

Vessels pitched ashore along the wa terfront and the decks and sea walls were strewn with wreckage. Ocean liners, junks, sampans and ferryboats were piled up in the streets, and the flooded highways blocked with wreck-

The greatest loss of life was among the natives. Pearl river was crowded with boats and the storm sent hundreds to the bottom. It is impossible now to estimate the number who perished.

The British government officials immediately started to succor the homeess. A complete estimate of the damage will not be obtainable for weeks. No Americans are reported to have been killed or injured.

Handled $250,000 Boodle Fund Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 19 .- Gov. ernor Folk has received a letter from J. H. Ritter, a former member of the St. Louis house of delegates, now living in Denver, claiming to have received $250,000 boodle money which he distributed among members of the "combine." Ritter declares that his conscience demands that he tell what he knows about the boodling. Ritter left St. Louis four years ago and his whereabouts had been a mystery until his letter to Folk.

Found Clinging to Spars

Charleston, Sept. 19 .- The Clyde liner New York brought into port the mate and three seamen of the schooner R. D. Bibber of Bath, Me., lumberaden, wrecked off Frying Pan shoals. The vessel turned turtle and went to pieces. The men were found clinging to the spars. The captain and others of the crew were not found. The normal crew of the schooner was 11 men.

Failed to Reach Castaways

St. Johns, Sept. 19.-Five deaths and seven vessels have been added to the ist of wrecks and deaths due to the recent gale which swept the coast of Lab ador. The steamer Portia, which went o Belle Isle to the rescue of 140 castaways from 11 vessels driven ashore there, was unable to effect a landing It will probably be several days before the castaways can be reached.

Jews' Lives In Danger

Odessa, Sept. 19 .- Policemen, accompanied by soldiers, made tours of the city last night and cut marks on the trunks of trees standing close to a great number of shops belonging to Jews These actions are supposed to be in preparation for an intended attack by the military and a great panic ensued when the people learned what had beer.

Policeman Killed a Man

New York, Sept. 19 .- George Collins, aged 28, was shot and instantly killed by Policeman John McSherry in a fracas which followed the arrest by the policeman of several of Collins' companions. The police declare that Collins attempted to release the prisoners which McSherry was holding and assaulted the patrolman.

Bank Men Indicted

Yarmouth, N. S., Sept. 19 .- The Yarmouth county grand jury returned two bills against Senator John Levitt. president of the failed Bank of Yarmouth, and Vice President Crowell of the institution. Both officials are charged with making false returns of the bank's condition to the federal government.

Past, Present and Future Paint

The best "past" paint is the paint which has worn down evenly, leaving the surface ready for repainting without the need of expensive scraping and "burning-off."

The best "present" paint is the paint which is applied with least labor, covers the most surface per gallon, and looks the best when on.

The best "future" paint is the paint which lasts without cracking or peeling, affording perfect protection for the greatest number of years.

Viewed in any of these ways,

Cuban Government and Insurgents Still Far Apart

CONSPIRATORS IN PRISON

Governments' Opponents Demand That They Be Released Before Negotiating For Peace -- Americans In Isle of Pines Have a Grievance

Havana, Sept. 19 .- Notwithstanding some appearance of activity, no decisive progress has been made in the peace negotiations. A few peace-seekers went westward with the idea of reaching and conferring with Pino Guerra, the insurgent leader in Pinar del Rio province, and others visited Loynaz del Castillo, the commander of the insurgent forces in Havana province, but the only definite thing reported is that the insurgents in the field are not willing to enter on negotiations until all the conspiracy prisoners shall have been released.

While it is possible that those most highly responsible may reach a basis ALBERT J. DURAND of agreement in time to present it to Messrs. Taft and Bacon when they land here, there is nothing to show that such a basis has been reached as yet, while there is every evidence that if it has been reached it will not be accepted by the insurgent following. The impression is general that Secretary Taft will take up the work of peace-making with small consideration for past grievances, the main idea being rather constructive measures for the future.

Stories of the latest encounters show that the government forces are not equal in numbers to the insurgents. The latter consequently had the advantage in the last fight, which took place at Los Palacios between a governmen force under Colonel Avalos and insurgents under Pino Guerra. The fight was stopped by the timely appearance of Guerra's brother and others on a peace mission, but not before Guerra had occupied the town and his follow ers had done some looting. The insurgents in Havana province are resting quietly and awaiting developments. Whether those in Santa Clara province are doing likewise is not positively known, on account of the interruption of telegraphic communica-

A press correspondent yesterday afternoon visited three insurgent camps towns controlled by insurgents.

The people of the whole region west of this city sympathize with the insurrectionists. Late last night news was received that all was quiet at Cien-

Alfredo Zayas, the president of the Liberal party, who has just returned from a trip to the west, in the course of insurgent leaders, states that he has prevailed on them not to come within Johnson Building, City Square, 1382 Hancock 20 miles of Havana. Zayas positively declares that the insurgents will not negotiate for peace until the government releases all those who are held in Telephone 127-6. prison on charges of conspiracy. Zayas is very anxious to talk with Taft and Bacon personally.

The newest feature of the revolution is the appearance of Americans from Civil Engineer and Surveyor. the Isle of Pines, complaining that officials of the courts of the Isle of Pines are searching the homes of all Americans for firearms and seizing all arms which may be found. The Americans there are extremely wrathful, especially so as the conduct of some of the sider the necessity of having firearms within reach. They will appeal to Minister Morgan and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon with a request that a United States naval vessel be sent to 1256 Hancock St., Adams Building, Room 13 the Isle of Pines to safeguard the lives and properties of Americans.

R ports to Washington

Washington, Sept. 19.—Acting Secretary of State Adee received a dispatch from Mr. Sleeper, the American charge at Havana, which is believed to have dealt with the attitude of the Cuban government and the insurgents toward the Taft party and the consideration to be given their mission.

Information was received at the state department from Mr. Spellman of the Colonial Cuban company, at New York, that he had been advised of the destruction of the Esperanza sugar estate near Cienfuegos by a band of insurgents. The Esperanza estate is not far away from the Constantia estate, which was reported to have been destroyed several days ago.

All the ships of the navy destined for Cuba at present are on the sea and it is Office, No. 19 Temple Street, Quincy, Mass. expected that they will constitute a sufficient force unless peace plans fail and Intervention becomes necessary. It is understood that the navy will send a supply ship with food and a collier to REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE.

General Frederick Funston, who is now on his way to Washington under orders from the war department, will probably be assigned to command the army in Cuba if intervention should be found necessary.

M'CARTHY GOES TO JAIL Expert In Naturalization Pleads

Guilty of Fraud

Boston, Sept. 19 .- John J. McCarthy, the noted expert in naturalizations, pleaded guilty in the United States dis trict court and Judge Dodge sentenced him to a fine of $1 and imprisonment for a period of three years in Cambridge jail. McCarthy retracted his plea of not guilty made on the day of his indictment, confessed his connections with fraudulent naturalizations at the federal courts in Boston and made a statement to Judge Dodge in extenuation of his crime. He is charged in four indictments with having testified falsely in the case of four aliens who, in consequence of his testimony, obtained citizenship papers before they had been in the country long enough to be entitled to such documents of naturalization.

Judge Dodge asked him what he had done to verify the claims of the men and McCarthy replied that he had not done anything. His confession and statement seemed to relieve his mind, and he accepted sentence with calm

Splendid Aquatic Festival

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 19 .- The naval water carnival here last night, in which floats from the battleship squadron of the North Atlantic fleet played the most prominent parts, was one of the finest aquatic festivals ever seen here. All of the warships took part in the celebration. The water parade circled all of the warships. The prize for the most elaborate display was awarded the crew of the battleship Alabama. Shot Without Known Reason Burlington, Vt., Sept. 19 .- A mys terious attack was made on Joseph Manning on a street here last night Manning has a bullet wound in the abdomen, but it is thought that he will recover. As some friends were bidding Manning and Miss Ida Guyette good night a stranger on the opposite side of the street made a remark which Manning did not understand. He approached the stranger and as he did so the unknown man shot Manning. The stranger escaped.

Deaths by Poison and Hanging

Newton, Mass., Sept. 19.—Two cases of suicide were reported to the police last night. Patrick D. Connor, 40 years old, a landscape gardener, took paris green at his home. It is believed that his act was prompted by domestic trouble. William B. Colligan, a tailor, 53 years of age, hanged himself in the cellar of the house of a friend. Colligan had recently been released from an insane hospital. In his case insanity is given as the cause.

To Sue Bank Directors

Boston, Sept. 19 .- The failure of the Provident Securities and Banking company, through which a large number of depositors lost their savings several months ago, will be investigated at the special session of the grand jury called or Sept. 24. None of the depositors has received any dividend since the company suspended. The receiver of the company says that he intends to bring civil suits against the officers and directors of the bank.

Alleged Firebug Arraigned Malden, Mass., Sept. 19.—Charged with arson in setting his own house on Forest street, Wakefield, on fire be tween 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning, John Sherman was arraigned in the district court and held in $1000 for trial He pleaded not guilty. It is said by the police that Sherman's wife and three daughters tried to put out the fire while Sherman made his escape from the house with a canary bird.

Robber Shot a Policeman Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 19 .- Convicted upon a charge of attempting to kill Patrolman McNamara of the Cambridge police department, Judge Bel sentenced Frank J. Tracy to five or six years in state prison and added six years to the sentence for breaking and entering. Tracy was found guilty on three counts of breaking and entering and two of receiving stolen property.

Stole an Automobile

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 19 .- Two years in the house of correction was the sentence administered by Judge Brown upon Clarence A. Magee of Boston, who had been convicted of stealing an automobile. Magee was arrested in New York, charged with the larceny of an automobile from Lewis Duncan of Brookline.

Bullet Wounds In Breast Boston, Sept. 19 .- The body of an unknown man was found in the Allston district last night. There were two bullet wounds in the breast and the police are inclined to the belief that the man committed suicide. He was apparently about 35 years of age and was

MARKTWAIN'S LIFETALE

Extracts From Humorist's Autobiography He Is Still Writing.

TWILL LIVE FOR EONS, HE SAYS

Contains 250,000 Words, and After Being Popular 2,000 Years He Thinks It Will Catch Its Second Wind and Start Afresh-Would Need a State Library, He Claims, if He Lives Long Enough.

Reviewing his long and eventful career, Mark Twain, in an autobiography he is now writing, says it is not in the stormy episodes which have illumined his personal record, but in the countless common experiences which make up the existence of the average human being that he sees his own life reflected. Although Mr. Clemens' present literary effort is a truly serious work, he has injected much of the fun and humor inseparable from his character.

Selections from the unfinished autobiography, on which Mr. Clemens has been laboring several years and of which he has written 250,000 words, engineering and designer of the Creole. will appear serially in the North Charles C. Patterson of the Hamburg American Review. From an advance copy of the Review the New York E. O. McCormack assistant traffic Herald is enabled to present some extracts from the first installment.

In a mock heroic introduction Mr. Clemens informs the world that he intends this autobiography shall become a model for all future autobiographies, "when it is published, after my death." He also intends that it "shall be read and admired a good many centuries, because of its form and method-a form and method whereby the past and the present are constantly brought face to face, resulting in contrasts-which newly fire up the interests all along, like the contact of flint with steel. Moreover, this autobiography of mine does not select from my life its showy episodes, but deals mainly in the common experiences which go to make up the life of the average human being, because tnese episodes are of a sort which he Judge W. D. Cornish, counsel of the is familiar with in his own life and in which he sees his own life reflected

"Howells was here yesterday afternoon," continues Mr. Clemens, "and I told him the whole scheme of this autobiography and its apparently systemless system-only apparently systemless, for it is not really that. It is a deliberate system, and the law of the system is that I shall talk about the matter which for the moment interests me, and cast it aside and talk about something else the moment its interest for me is exhausted. It is a system which follows no charted course and is not going to follow any such course. It is a system which is a complete and purposed jumblecourse which begins nowhere, follows no specified route, and can never reach an end while I am alive, for the reason that if I should talk to the stenographer two hours a day for a hundred set down a tenth part of the things which have interested me in my life time. I told Howells that this auto biography of mine would live a couple of thousand years, without any effort, live the rest of the time. "He said he believed it would and asked me if I meant to make a library of it. I said that that was my design but that if I should live long enough the set of volumes could not be contained merely in a city; it would require a state, and that there would not be any multimillionaire alive, perhaps, at any time during its existence who would be able to buy a full set, except on the installment plan. "Howells applauded and was full of praises and indorsement, which was wise in him and judicious. If he had manifested a different spirit I would have thrown him out of the window. I like criticism, but it must be my way." Discussing genealogy in general and his own in particular, Mark Twain goes on to tell a story about the late William Walter Phelps, whom he met when Phelps was minister at the court of Berlin: "One evening he had me to dinner to meet Count S., a cabinet minister," he writes. "This nobleman was of long and illustrious descent. Of course wanted to let out the fact that I had some ancestors, too, but I did not want to pull them out of their graves by the ears, and I never could seem to get the chance to work them in in a way that would look sufficiently casual. I suppose Phelps was in the same difficulty. In fact, he locked distraught now and then—just as a person looks who wants to uncover an ancestor purely by accident and cannot think of a way that will seem accidental enough. But at last, after dinner, he made a try. He took us about his drawing room, showing us the pictures, and finally stopped before a rude and ancient engraving. It was a picture of the court that tried Charles I. There was a pyramid of judges in Puritan slouch hats, and below them were three bareheaded secretaries seated at a table. Mr. Phelps put his finger upon one of the three and said, with exultant indifference:

"'An ancestor of mine." "I put my finger on a judge and retorted with scathing languidness: "'Ancestor of mine. But it is a small matter. I have others.' matter. I have others.

"It was not noble in me to do it. I have always regretted it since. But it Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 18, 1906. NOTICE is hereby given that the collection of ashes by the Board of Health will begin on October 1, 1906. The times of collection will be the same as in the spring.

Per order, Board of Health ROSS K. WHITON, M. D., Sec. 5t

OUR HOSPITAL (Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Quincy earnestly appeal for donations and bequests for the Endowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble Institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, TIMOTHY REED, Adams St., Juincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chase, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very gled confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

Young Men's Christian Association OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

VIEWS OF KENTUCKY GIRLS.

How Old World Impressed Beauties

Back From European Tour. Marse Henry Watterson's unique excursion of thirty Kentucky girls is home again after a somewhat exciting albeit enjoyable tour of Europe, says the Kansas City Journal. The return to the sacred soil of their native state was signalized by great rejoicing not only among the girls themselves, but by the appreciative Kentucky men who viewed with some misgivings the entire enterprise. There were fears that the party might not return intact or at least that the beauties might not all be as fancy free as when they went forth to challenge the admiration of old world masculinity.

If we may rely upon the reports that come out of the Blue Grass State, how ever, the Kentucky girls were not only not impressed with the types of mer they met abroad, but they have come back more satisfied than ever with American men. Epitomized, the opinion formed by the Watterson girls about Europe is this:

Scotland and Switzerland prettiest and most pleasing countries. Scotch people most cordial.

Swiss people most interesting.

Englishmen best looking. Englishwomen worst dressers - don't know how to put on their belts, and they have big, flat feet. Parisian women artificial—powder and rouge, penciled eyebrows and false hair more common than any place on the map. Frenchmen insipid, critical and undersized. They stare and are rude in their French newspapers sharp and unman nerly; their reporters "perfect pests." Belgium the most picturesque country. Germans most sterling, stolid, sincere sort of people. BUT-

America the best ever and Kentucky

God's own state. The entire country will join in the rejoicing that comes from Kentucky because every one of the girls returned with words of praise of the American men. We can't afford to lose any of our Kentucky girls or our girls from any other state for that matter. And we are more grounded in the opinion that if all American girls could have the same opportunity for observation of the men of Europe they would be more happy in the adoration they inspire on this side of the Atlantic.

REAL SKIDDOO PARTY.

Miss Schidu Will Give It Sept. 23 to

Twenty-three Girls. A "skiddoo" party is the latest. Miss Margaret Schidu of Cleveland, O., will give a party on Sept. 23 in honor of her twenty-third birthday at her home. 23 East Twenty-third street, says special dispatch from Cleveland to the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"People have been having lots of fun with our name since the term 'skiddoo' has come into use," said Miss Schidu recently, "so I decided to have a real 'skiddoo' party on my next birthday. My age will be carried out prettily with twenty-three candles in the birthday cake, and a souvenir card lettered twenty-three will be distributed among the twenty-three guests-1 am going to have just twenty-three girls present, you know-while an orchestra of twenty-three pieces will play behind a bank of twenty-three palms. I am trying to get a friend, a composer, to write a ballad entitled 'Skiddoo For You.' I propose to engage autos and change their license numbers to 23. I have an uncle who has a Quincy. farm of twenty-three acres and shall take my guests there in the afternoon where there will be dancing in the evening, with twenty-three dances on the programme."

New Sight For Shooting at Night. The development of accuracy in shooting at night has received a double impetus of late in the British serv ice, says the South China Post. A new sight has been adopted and is being manufactured and issued with all possible dispatch. This sight, a tele copic pattern, is defined by electric light for night work. It has been extensively tried under all conditions and has proved a signal success. Quite recently also a greatly improved thirtysix inch searchlight has supplanted the regulation 'twenty-four inch light which is capable of defining an enemy at over double the distance of its pred ecessor. Owing to the excellent train our (English) naval gunners can now with the aid of their latest sight and searchlight depend on disabling an enemy at from 3,000 to 4,000 yards on a favorable night.

A School For Office Boys. To train office boys in the way they should go will be the aim of an office boy school to be started this fall in Cleveland, O., by the central boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., says a correspondent of the Kansas City Times. This school for office boys will be a unique experiment and is the first one to be established in the United States. The course will consist of a thorough course in office training and instruction in all the latest business systems and methods. It is calculated not only to fit boys to become expert office boys, but to qualify them as clerks, able to handle car systems, correspondence and the detail work of any large business establishment. A model office is to be fitted up for the use of boys who enroll in the school.

School Rod Supply Safe. Organization of the National Hickory association, the purpose of which is "the protecting, fostering and preserving of the present supply of hickory timber," was completed in Chicago recently. H. B. Holroyd of the United States forestry bureau, who addressed the meeting of delegates, declared that unless steps were taken to protect hickory trees the supply of this timber would be exhausted in the United States within fifteen years.

WASHINGTON NOT IDLE

Preparing For Any Emergency That May Arise Is Cuba

Washington, Sept. 20 .- Young officers for command in Cuba, in case the army is sent there, is the plan practically decided upon by the war department. General Funston probably will be in command and his chief lieutenants are likely to be Brigadier Generals

Barry and Duvall. The two latter officers have recently attended the German maneuvers in Europe. Notwithstanding the presence of Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Bacon in the Cuban capital on a mission looking to the pacification of the island, preparations are going forward to meet any emergency that may arise in case the reconciliation of the warring elements in Cuba cannot be accomplished.

It is said at the state department that whatever Taft and Bacon have to communicate will be sent direct to President Roosevelt, as they constitute a special presidential mission which is quite independent of the department of

No information from the diplomatic representatives of this government in Cuba concerning the progress of the negotiations instituted by Taft and Bacon is expected at the state department, for the reason that these representatives are accredited to the Palma government and officially have nothing to do with the inquiry of the special commission and would not assume to report on any of its investigations.

The state department was informed by the owner of a plantation near Santo Domingo, Cuba, that the Cuban insurgents had seized 12 of his horses. The telegram came from the owner, who re sides at Grand Rapids, Mich. His name was not made public. The information was cabled by the state department to Minister Morgan at Havana for

Overt Act by Revolutionists Santiago, Cuba, Sept. 20 .- Fifty armed and mounted men entered the town of Firmeza, where the Juragua iron mines are located. GIVES AN OBJECT LESSON

meeting of members of The Associated Press was held in this city. Important matters in connection with the service were disposed of. Last night the members met with several guests at dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria. General Manager Stone of The Associated Press presided, and with him at the guests' table were Samuel L. Clemens, who discussed "Reform Spelling;" General Horace Porter, Henry A. Shute, the author, and Professor Vincent of Chicago university. Clemens said in

"I am here to make an appeal to the nations in behalf of the simplified spelling. I have come here because they cannot all be reached except through you. There are only two forces that can carry light to all the corners of the globe-only two-the sun in the heavens and The Associated Press down here. I may seem to be flattering the sun, but I do not mean it so; I am meaning only to be just and fair all

"You speak with a million voices; no one can reach so many races, so many hearts and intellects as you, except Rudyard Kipling, and he cannot do it without your help. If The Associated Press will adopt and use our simplified forms and thus spread them to the ends of the earth, covering the whole spacious planet with them as with garden of flowers, our difficulties are at an end. Every day of the 365 the only pages of the world's countless newspapers that are read by all the human beings and angels and devils that can read, are those pages that are built out of Associated Press dispatches. And so I beg you, I beseech you-oh I implore you-to spell them in our simplified forms. Do this daily, constantly, persistently, for three months-only three months—it is all I ask.

"The infallible result? Victory For by that time all eyes here and above and below will have become adjusted to the change and in love with it, and the present clumsy and ragged forms will be grotesque to the eye and revolting to the soul. And we shall be rid of phthysis and phthysic and pneumonia and pneumatics and diphtheria and pteradactyl and all those other insane words which no man addicted to the simple Christian life can try to spell and not lose some of the bloom of his piety in the demoralizing attempt. Do not doubt it. We are chameleons, and our partialities and prejudices change places with an easy and blessed facil ity, and we are soon wonted to the change and happy in it.

"Do I seem to be seeking the good of the world? That is the idea. It is my public attitude; privately I am merely seeking my own profit. We all do it, but it is sound, and it is virtuous, for no public interest is anything other or nobler than a massed accumulation of private interests."

Mr. Clemens then explained that in 1883 when simplified spelling was first seriously broached he scoffed at it What he needed, he said, was an object lesson and he got it. At that time he "was scrambling along, earning the cents a word, compound words at single rates." And he "was the property of a magazine, a 7-cent slave under a boiler-iron contract." One day there came a note from the editor requiring him to write 10 pages on the revolting text: "Considerations concerning the alleged subterranean holopyotal extemporaneousness of the conchyliaceous superimbrication of the ornithorhyneus, as foreshadowed by the unintelligibility of its plesiosaurian anisodactylous aspects." He saw starva-QUINCY tion staring the family in the face and went to the editor for an interview about the rates. Mr. Clemens contended, he said, for pay on a simplified spelling basis, but his proposition was coldly refused, whereupon, to use his own words:

"I seldom say a harsh word to any one, but I was not master of myself then, and I spoke right out and called him an anysodactylous plesiosaurian conchyliaceous ornithorhyncus, and rotten to the heart with holophotal subterranean extemporeaneousness. God forgive me for that wanton crime. He lived only two hours.

"From that day to this I have been a devoted and hard-working member of national association for the prevention of cruelty to authors, and now I am laboring with Carnegie's simplified committee and with my heart in the work.

NO MINCING OF WORDS

District Attorney Charged With Using Office For Political Purposes--Aided In Candidacy by "Yellow Journalism" -- Whitney Will Make the Fight

Boston, Sept. 20 .- In an open letter addressed to "The Democratic Voters of Massachusetts," the political record and aspirations of District Attorney Moran are made the subject of extensive and severe excoriation. The letter was issued last night and was signed by Congressman Sullivan, Josiah Quin-John C. Burke and Nicholas J. Skerrett, a committee appointed at a meeting of Democrats to take steps toward thwarting Moran's gubernatorial aspirations.

The letter is a lengthy document, containing between 4000 and 5000 words. In the beginning the committee call upon their "political brethren throughout the state to consider the dangerous party crisis and ask their co-operation in meeting it." Continuing, the committee say: "We believe that compliance with the demand of John B. Moran, at present the nominee for governor of the Prohibition party, that he should also be given the Democratic nomination for that office, would be a great mistake; that it would, to say the least, jeopardize the great gains our party has made in this state since 1900."

The letter declares that Moran is unfit for the high office of governor; that he is not qualified either in respect to his temperament, methods, experience or mental characteristics to fill the office. Regarding this the letter says: "We believe that an examination of his public record during the 11 months of his service as district attorney, constituting his whole record in public office will convince any impartial inquirer of his unfitness in many of these respects."

The statement is made that Moran is aided in his candidacy by a "yellow ALBERT J. DURAND fournalism, having for the moment its logical outcome in yellow politics." It is charged by the committee that Moran has been using the district attorney's office for political purposes. "Whatever may be the fact," says the letter, "and legal proof is, of course, difficult to obtain, the belief widely obtains among Boston politicians that in HERBERT A. HAYDEN the district attorney's office favors can be done for political friends while unpleasant consequences may be visited upon vulnerable political enemies. This accounts in part at least for the exaccounts in Boston in respect to Moran's candidacy which doubtless puzzles many good Democrats in other parts of the state. We can assure them that if Moran were not district attorney of Suffolk county Adams Building, Quincy. Room 13. tied up seven ferry lines running from certain Boston Democratic leaders who now favor him would not take his political aspirations any more seriously this year than they have in the past." It is pointed out that Moran has secured only one political conviction during his term of office, namely, in the case of the former secretary of Senator Lodge, whose case is now pending in a higher court. The committee claims that Moran is not a Democrat and that he does not represent the principles of Democracy. The letter goes on to say that if Moran is the party nominee the tariff question must be relegated to obscurity as a campaign issue, the committee holding that the tariff question is the most important issue of the campaign. In this connection the letter says: "Mr. Moran's nomination would restore the full control of the Republican situation to Senator Lodge and enable him to go back to Washington and announce that with the help of Moran and his lieutenants he had given a quietus for the time being to the demand of a large body of the business men of the state that its industries be relieved from unnecessary and unjust tariff burdens."

In conclusion the committee state: "We know that if a majority of the delegates are not committed in advance to Moran and desire to nominate some other candidate, Henry M. Whitney would accept the call of the convention to act as standard bearer of the party in the coming campaign."

Massachusetts Ballot a Pattern New York, Sept. 20 .- In a long interview issued last night, W. T. Jerome, a candidate for governor, defines his attitude on a number of issues and Office, No. 19 Temple Street, Quincy, Mass his views on political men and matters in the present gubernatorial campaign. "The first step of paramount necessity," he says, "is for the people to gain control and fight to the last ditch for the ballot used in Massachusetts, namely, a Real Estate, Insurance, Mortgages ballot on which there is no party column. If we had the Massachusetts ballot in this state, together with the privilege of nomination by petition, the decent people of the state always would have it in their power to correct the mistakes and wrong-doing of a political party." Convention Will Be Quiet New Haven, Sept. 20 .- The Republican state convention will today nominate a state ticket and a representative-at-large in congress. Every indication is that the convention will be the quietest in years, all the interesting contests having been settled in the senatorial and county caucuses.

Funeral from late residence, 1061 Hancock the power of money lenders to bind wage-earners to endless financial slavment of wages and specifies a standard form of assignment.

Weekly Payments Extended

The weekly payment of wages to mechanics, workmen and laborers by counties, cities, corporations and contractors has been made practically universal by the legislature of 1906. The state has also taken another step in ad vance in an act providing for the establishment and maintenance of free employment offices under the auspices of the state, as a legitimate aid to those out of work in obtaining means of livelihood. By another act the state board of education has provided a public employment bureau for teachers desirous of employment.

An act was passed this year requiring proprietors of foundries to maintain suitable toilet rooms provided with running hot water, where the men may change their clothes.

With a view to safeguarding the savings of the people, a complete reorganization of the savings bank commislowing suggestions in the governor's inaugural address, several important amendments to the laws governing the savings banks have been put upon the statute books with a view to making these depositories of the people's sayings absolutely safe.

Safeguarding Human Life

The large number of accidents entailing heavy loss of life in factories has resulted in important legislation the present year. The necessity of better | majority rule. care of steam boilers was pointed out in the inaugural address of Governor Guild, and the legislature has provided for the appointment of a chief inspector of boilers and five assistants, and in other amendments to law it is intended to further safeguard human life ir. buildings such as factories, mills and workshops, where boilers are used.

Certainly this is a record which ought to win the support of thoughtful wageearners. The Republican party is always blamed for the defeat of any labor measure in the great and general court. It is therefore only logical that when such legislation is enacted the Republi can party should be given credit for that enactment. Certainly with a legislature strongly Republican the enactment of a measure is due to the Republican majority, which could have defeated such legislation had it seen fit to do so. Some of these measures were probably introduced by Democrats, but that fact does not alter the situation. They could not have been enacted unless by Republican votes, which constitute a great majority of the state legislature. All these measures were signed by Governor Curtis Guild, Jr.

Probing Naturalization Frauds The crusade of United States District Attorney Asa P. French against fraudulent naturalization has resulted in the indictment of seven men for fraud. It is significant that of the seven indicted, four defaulted their bail. One Boston. of the men indicted was John J. McCarthy, who has had charge of the Democratic naturalization bureau in Boston for a number of years, and was until recently in the employ of the city. "POISON SQUAD" PROBLEM.

Tests of Effect of Saltpeter to Begin In October.

The "poison squad" of the bureau of chemistry at Washington is to reassemble on Oct. 15 and will experiment on entirely new lines, says the New York Tribune's Washington correspondent. Dr. Wiley is anxious to discover whether saltpeter, a preservative commonly used in meats and heretofore regarded as harmless, is deleterious in its effects. In order to get the information in the best possible way he will set his poison eaters to work, seemed a success until he got the follow- and by noting the general effect upon just what saltpeter will do to the human system.

He therefore made the important ruling that the meat inspection regulations must specifically forbid their use.

The test to be made with saltpeter deals with practically the only chemical preservative or coloring matter not prohibited now by the regulations. The preparation is used generally for corned beef in all meat packing establishments and often by domestic hotel keepers. It is regarded as probable that the work of the squad will clearly demonstrate that saltpeter is deleterious to the human system, in which case the regulations will be amended to prohibit its use.

tank and motor, with a saddlelike arrangement and water tight box designed to keep the operator afloat. A propeller much like those in use on ordinary motor boats completes the apparatus. All that is necessary in order to put the machine into operation is to turn a diminutive crank, sling the motor box over one's shoulder and get into the saddle. The speed attainable is said to be forty miles an hour.

Barrels Too Dear to Burn. The Thanksgiving barrel burning is doomed, according to the Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin. The day is not so far distant when barrels will not be obtainable. Those who harvest the crops in the fall realize more than others how difficult it is to get barrels for the purpose. A barrel hunter in a neighboring state said the other day it is a shame for people to break up and burn their barrels when they are so scarce. He said he has chased all day for only a few barrels as a result. According to this man, the making of barrels is an industry which is not followed by many, and coopers in the cheap barrel line are becoming scarcer each year, and people wanting barrels for their winter apples have to depend upon burlap sacks or pay double what the other receptacles are worth. In the near future barrels-that is, stave barrels-are going to become too scarce and too dear to burn. The scarcity of barrels promises to end the barrel gangs. Nothing else is likely to do it.

Taft and Bacon Must Exercise Great Diplomacy

Unless Complications Are Soon Adjusted Cuba Must Lose Independence--Financial Circles Aghast at the Situation

Havana, Sept. 21 .- A second day of conferences with the leaders of the factions in the Cuban conflict has not enabled Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon to announce any plan of compromises. Won't Interfere With Americans Havana, Sept. 21 .- In view of complaints from American residents of the Isle of Pines, the government has prohibited further search of American homes there or other molestation. It has developed that the Americans on the Isle of Pines were approached by the insurgents and asked to co-operate to the extent of not resisting a landing by the insurgents and their use of the island as a base of supplies. This the Americans refused, and they declared It was especially unjust to disarm them and invade their homes in a highhanded manner.

A Warning From Corbin

Chicago, Sept. 21 .- Henry C. Corbin, recently retired lieutenant general of the army, in an address at the Hamilton club, pointed to the present crisis in Cuba as a warning to the United States against hasty action in making its pacific possessions independent. He said that zest of the American peowell as in spirit, should be curbed with foresight for the probable outcome of when they are brought face to face with granting entire independence to a weak island country.

PLANS GOMPLETE

Washington Is Prepared For Any Emergency In Cuba

LANDING AT CIENFUEGOS

Bluejackets and Marines Protecting Interests In That City -- Funs: on Reaches Washington on Way to Disturbed Island

Washington, Sept. 21.-Preparation is the watchword of the army regarding Cuba. Not only have complete plans been made, but every department has made arrangements to meet the emergency of intervention if it should occur. Considerable activity has been displayed in getting ammunition for small arms and light field guns ready for movement in case orders for such action are issued. Plans for a possible movement of troops have been progressing for some time and any necessity can be promptly met.

Acting Secretary of State Adee received one cablegram yesterday from Cuba from Assistant Secretary Bacon, relating merely to some official papers about which the department had inquired. Mr. Bacon made no reference in his dispatch to the situation on the island.

A private letter has reached the state lepartment from a man in New York. which conveyed the information that a party of Cuban insurgents, a few days ago, had stopped a train near Esperanza and had destroyed the official mail. It is surmised that this incident may have given rise to the report that the Esperanza estate had been burned by nsurgents, as, thus far, no official confirmation of the reported destruction of the estate has been obtainable.

The navy department has received earnest requests from persons having plantations in Cuba asking that forces be sent for the protection of different estates. The department, with the force under command, is unable to comply. The information of the navy department from Cienfuegos is that Commander Fullam has landed all the available force and utilized it to the best advantage for protecting the threatened interests near Clenfuegos. It is understood that the Dixie has reurned to Santo Domingo, but that she has landed the bluejackets and marines at Cienfuegos. It is expected that the Dixie will be replaced by the Cleveland.

General Frederick Funston, in obedience to orders from Secretary Taft, has arrived here on his way to Cuba He will proceed to Cuba with as much expedition as possible, although no adlitional orders have been issued. It was found that he could not leave Tampa until Sunday night and so he has delayed his departure from this city until Saturday. Funston says that further than his orders from the secretary, he knows nothing of the duty for which he is destined.

General Funston is particularly quainted with the conditions existing in Cuba before the Spanish war and it is pointed out at the department that he is prepared to give Secretary Taft more information than any other man in the army on that subject. Naturally the visit of Funston revives the discussion about his probable command in Cuba, in case the United States interrenes and sends an army to Cuba, but the general had nothing to say on that matter.

Bribery Charges by Weaver Philadelphia, Sept. 21 .- Mayor Weaver, charging that the nomination of D. C. Gibboney for office of district attorney by the City party convention was procured through bribery, announces that he will furnish proof of his charge to the convention, which will meet again tonight. The City party is a reform organization supposed to be the regular Republican party. Weaver's choice for the office of district attorney was Frederick J. Shoyer.

At Least Twelve Killed London, Sept. 21.-Twelve persons are known to be dead and 17 were injured in the wreck of the Scotch express at Grantham early Thursday morning, but it is stated that there are other bedies under the wreck, which has not yet been cleared. The cause of the disaster is still a mystery, as the

A PETITION TO GOVERNOR

Want Commission of Experts to Get Final and Just Solution of Medical Questions Involved In the Marsh Murder Case

Albany, Sept. 21 .- Nearly 3500 physiclans of the state are signers of a petition presented to Governor Higgins in behalf of Albert T. Patrick, the New York lawyer convicted and under sentence of death since 1901 for the alleged murder of the millionaire, William M. Rice, in September, 1900. The petition is as follows:

"We, the undersigned, physicians of New York state, have read the medical testimony presented, on a motion for new trial, to Recorder Goff, in case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William Marsh Rice.

"The conclusions of the experts who testified on the motion are quite at variance and the questions are novel as well as grave and important to the members of society, and especially to the defendant, and therefore should be justly solved. To this end, we petition your excellency to appoint a commission, composed of disinterested experts selected from the medical profession, to examine impartially into the questions at issue and report their findings at as early a date as possibly, and thus avoid the possibility of mistake in the case of Patrick, as well as to get a final and just solution of the questions."

The main medical question involved vital in the conviction of Patrick, is whether the congestion of the lungs, al leged to have been found in the autopsy upon Rice's body, could have been caused by embalming fluid, or must be the result of chloroform, with which Jones, Rice's valet, in one of his several contradictory confessions, said he had killed the old man by Patrick's di

The petition was presented by F. C. Logan, a prominent Chicago business man, who is business partner of John T. Milliken, whose wife is Patrick's sister, and Samuel B. Thomas of New

With the petition were filed about 250 The letters from prominent physicians, several of them addressed to the governor, and sent through Mr. Thomas, reinforcing the informal petition. Governor Higgins received Messrs. Logan and Thomas in his private office behind closed doors and afterwards neither of them would discuss their conwith the governor, leaving him to make the matter public. After they had left the governor explained the nature of their communication, and

"I told these gentlemen that I knew of no authority vested in me by which I could appoint the commission for which they asked, nor of any jurisdiction on my part over the case in the absence of a definite application for a pardon or executive clemency. They are to file with me references to the law upon which they rely in asking for this medical commission and intimated that they might make application for a pardon or other form of clemency in case of the failure of the pending application for admission of the case to the United States supreme court. "This is a case of very great importance, involving issues beyond the simple question of one man's life, and I must have the various legal aspects of it carefully examined before I can tell what is my power and my duty."

Connecticut Republicans Have a

Harmonious Convention New Haven, Sept. 21.—The Republi can full state ticket for the blennial election in Connecticut this fall was chosen at the party's state convention held here, the proceedings being marked by harmony in transacting routine affairs and dignity in the making of nominating speeches. The ticket was as previously arranged, with a contest for lieutenant governor, which required ballot. Rollin S. Woodruff of New Haven was nominated for governor and Everett J. Lake of Hartford for lieutenant governor.

The platform, after endorsing President Roosevelt and the Republican party, gives attention to state needs, more particularly the right of trial by jury and substitution of a salary for a fee system in county administrations, which are two of the planks of the Democratic platform.

An interesting feature of the convention is found in the fact that the nominees and the members of the new state central committee which will direct the campaign are nearly all young men who have come to the front in the last two campaigns.

Connecticut Prohibition Ticket West Haven, Conn., Sept. 21.-The state convention of the Prohibition party of Connecticut named its state ticket, headed by Matthew A. O'Brien of Bridgeport for governor. The platform advocates the election of United States senators by the people, munici pal ownership, honest consideration of labor and trust laws, revision of the Sabbath laws so as to give more recog nition to the Christian Sabbath, and woman suffrage, in addition to the usual planks concerning the liquor

Badly Buffeted by Storm

Brunswick, Ga., Sept. 21.-British put into this port in distress. She was struck by recent storms and badly damaged. Her mate was washed overboard. The vessel lost her entire deckload, all the provisions were spoiled and for several days the crew had been practically without food. The captain and crew struggled heroically to save the schooner. When she arrived there was seven feet of water in the vessel.

Jones Disagrees With Bryan Washington, Sept. 21.-Ex-Senator Jones, twice chairman of the national Democratic committee and the manager of both the campaigns for the presidency of William J. Bryan, has written to Bryan advising him strongly to drop the subject of government ownership of railroads and to take a firm stand in favor of an enforcement of the law that is now on the statute books. Lightship in Need of Repairs Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 21 .- The United States buoy tender Wistaria has arrived here with Frying Pan lightship No. 1, which broke loose from her anchorage during Monday's storm, She was picked up at anchor off the Cape Fear bar. The lightship had her davits and one boat carried away, while another was smashed. She wi repair here.

MAINE BURGLAR HUNT

Two Suspects Still at Liberty, While the Third Is Dead Portland, Me., Sept. 21.-The squad Leave Stops Arrive Leave Stops A of Maine officers who have been searching for two of three burglars who robbed the postoffice at Bridgeton Tuesday night have not captured the fugitives. A man who died from injuries sustained in falling from a freight train near Bartlett, N. H., yesterday is supposed to have been one of the three men who committed the robbery. Last night a Boston detective, after viewing the body, expressed the opinion that it was that of "Smoke" Gibbons, a man who had frequented Howard street in that city. The detective knows two men who associated with Gibbons, and thinks that they are concerned in the Bridgeton affair.

The Maine officers spent the greater part of yesterday searching in the vicinity of North Conway, N. H., where two suspicious persons got off a freight train early in the morning. The officers are working on the theory that the men will endeavor to board a train and attempt to reach Boston.

Postoffice Inspector Robinson, who was shot in the thigh during an encounter with three men supposed to have been the Bridgeton burglars, at West Baldwin, expects to be on duty in a few days.

Rheumatism Badly Cripples A Baldwinsville Farmer

URIC-O Quickly Cured Him. Treated 2 Years With a High-Priced

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer in the town of Van Buren, says: "I visited the best Physician in Syracuse, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spen in that time several hundred dollars and in that time 'several hundred dollars and seemed to grow worse instead of better each day. Being on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's office became very discouraging, let alone the sleepless nights and fearful hours of pain. I was advised to quit doctoring and try Smiths' Specific Uric-O. I purchased a seventy-five cent bottle, took it home and used it that day is directed.

Those fearful sciatic pains left me, "Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely. I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested well all that night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Uric-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment. I know that Uric-O does not contain Alcohol or opiates and that it works in a wonderful way on the blood, bladder, muscles and kidneys and is the only way on earth to cure rheumatism."

> Recently, at a meeting of the Ward Committee at the home of the chairgates to the different conventions were made up. Mr. Freeman, I am told, announced his candidacy to the Senate, and asked to be allowed to make up the delegation, to which there was no objection.

> When it came to the county, member of the Ward Committee asked to go on that delegation, which was granted. But the next day Mr. Freeman went to that gentleman, and on learning that he was opposed to Mr. Cunningham for County Treasurer, frankly said he had promised the Ward delegates to Cunningham, and Mr. Freeman was allowed to fill the delegation with some one who would do his (Freeman's) bidding.

But I am informed that Mr. H. Y. Follett heads a delegation opposed to Mr. Cunningham, and that the intelligent people of Ward 5, who object to being delivered by Mr. Freeman, or any one else, are delighted at the opportunity to register their indignant protest at the present political methods in the ward. Professor Nowack Describes Its Value In Forecasting.

PREDICTS EARTHQUAKES AS WELL

By Means of Small Shrub Vienna Savant Claims to Foretell Weather and Seismie Disturbances Earlier Than Government Bureau Does Expects to Have Several Stations.

Professor Joseph Nowack, Baron de Fridland of Vienna, who declares he is able to forecast atmospheric and seismic disturbances by means of a small plant earlier and for a wider area than the regular government weather but reau, recently arrived in New York from Cuba, says the New York Times.

He says he brought with him 2,400 of bath. $5 per week. MRS. E. M. HAHN, 50 Stewart street, off Edison Park, Quincy Point.

Professor Nowack says that 1,400 of the plants are to go on to a forecasting bureau he has Mready established in London, the other 1,000 remaining in New York, to be used when a similar bureau shall have been established there. He also uses sun spots and a few statistics and other such ordinary

Professor Nowack is sure of the bureau or institute at New York. He says Sir Thomas Lipton has already promised one for Bombay, India, and Japan has promised one for Tokyo. There is already one at Vienna, he declares, and he is practically sure of one at San Francisco. When the entire round of stations is completed, he points out, the whole world will be covered by his system, for he says he can forecast for a territory with a 3.000 mile radius. He also says he can tell nearly a month in advance when an earthquake is coming and what section it will affect directly. He said the other day:

"I came to this country about eight months ago to find new supplies of the weather plant first and then to make arrangements for institutes in addition to those at London and Vienna. With the assistance of J. Pierpont Morgan I went immediately to Mexico and Cuba I found a few of the plants in Yucatan and near Vera Cruz, and then I went to Cuba. There I found a bountiful supply of the plants around the little town of Guanobarcoa.

"I have just come back from your botanical gardens in the Bronx, where they have kindly agreed to give me space for the plants. They have to be treated very nicely in this climate, and the 1,400 that are to be sent on to London must be rested up and strengthened a bit before they start on the last of their journey. I have enough plants now on hand to last 100 years, and there are thousands more in Cuba

"I am sure I can establish a forecasting institute in New York. How shall I get the money? Oh, well, I'll stand my own expenses until I have demon strated what I can do, and then there will be a way.

"I can tell twenty-four to twentyeight days in advance when and where to JAMES F. BURKE, Real Estate Agen there is to be an earthquake if there is Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy. Sept. 20-1f. one of my stations within 3,000 miles of the coming disturbance. I can issue a daily chart showing two to seven days in advance the districts of rainy, foggy and fine weather. I can issue every day a detailed forecast showing two to three days in advance the weather within a radius of forty miles."

Professor Nowack says that he is nided by data concerning the sun spots and by statistics that have been compiled concerning natural phenomena. But all that is subsidiary to the service of the weather plant itself.

The Arbrus precatorius belonged originally to India, but every work of botany says it is not uncommon in the West Indies. It is a small shrub, having red seeds, which are used in England and elsewhere as beads.

Professor Nowack says he found that the plant was sensitive to electric and magnetic influences and that under cultivation its sensitiveness increased remarkably and that changes in the sensitiveness increased loss Hancock street, Quincy, Mass. Sept 15 distribution of the electric and magnetic forces of the atmosphere and the earth cause the leaves and twigs of the plant to perform peculiar and abnormal movements, each movement having its definite signification for the man who has studied the plant and the weather.

"For instance," says Professor Nowack, "immediately a sun spot large enough to influence our earth appears on the surface of the sun the twigs directed toward the district affected perform more or less rapid upward or downward movements. From the rapidity and extent of such movements, the direction in which the twigs point, as also their variation of color, can at once be determined the nature, force and geographical position of the disturbances that will affect our earth about twenty-six days later-i. e., when the spot completes its first rotation around the sun." Tests With Skunks to Kill Wasps.

Experiments recently made at Wilimantic, Conn., show that skunks can rid farms of yellow wasps or hornets, which have been remarkably plentiful and victous in the neighborhood of Willimantic this summer, says a special dispatch to the New York Tribune. Painful encounters with colonies of fornets have been daily occurrences on every farm, and many runaways have been caused by the horses stepping into nests. Skunks eat the hornets with South Terminal Station News Stand much relish and tear the nests to pieces. They are experts at catching the winged hot tails.

CUBAN SITUATION

MEDIATORS' HEAVY TASK

Contending Elements Are Still Far From Agreement -- Peace Emissaries Think That American Occupation of the Island Is the Only Way to End War

Havana, Sept. 22 .- Peace for Cuba, unless accomplished through American intervention, seems further away than when Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon began negotiations to harmonize the opposing factions.

The arrival here yesterday of three of the larger United States battleships and two cruisers, besides those already here, has had little effect on the insurgents in the field, and when the leaders of the revolution were apprised of the big squadron now in Cuban waters they greeted the information with Spanish expressions to the effect that "they cannot come to the bush."

A meeting of the executive committee of the Moderate party was hastily summoned last evening, and it was voted unanimously to accept whatever disposition of the controversy Taft and Bacon may decide upon, in the hope that such a concession will induce the Liberals to yield similarly. The latter, however, have as yet not signified a willingness to accept the decision of the American mediators.

The rumor is abroad that President Palma, the members of his cabinet and the representatives and senators elected last December will resign today, thus conceding practically all that the insurgents have been contending for and opening a way for the settlement of the difficulty without American Intervention. Palma declined to be interviewed on the subject, and other members of the government stoutly deny the rumor.

The American peace emissaries will devote today to hearing what the commanders of the insurgent forces have to say. Some of these are coming from Santa Clara, Pinar del Rio and Havana provinces. If they persist in the demands made in their letters to Taft and Bacon, today's conferences will only increase the complications.

In a talk with a press representative last night Secretary Taft spoke hopefully. Although some progress had been made, he said, no definite program had been reached. He told of the arrangement to meet representatives of the insurgents in the field and of his previous hesitancy to take this step, and said that "something might come

The arguments of the leaders of both the Moderates and the Liberals have been submitted and translated for future reference by Taft and Bacon, but the latter said that nothing of a definite nature had been suggested by a hurried reading of the briefs. The mediators have sifted the grievances and define them as a demand by the insurrectionists for new general elections and an absolute rejection of those demands on the part of the government.

Messrs. Taft and Bacon have practically abandoned hope of finding a middle ground, and fear that a decision in favor of either side would result in no more than temporary tranquility from the island. It is their belief that American occupation is the only way to end the civil warfare, and it is not denied that intervention must be followed by American sovereignty. Secretary Taft has cabled to President Roosevelt regarding the gravity of the situation, and Roosevelt is expected to dictate the future program of his commissioners.

A demonstration was made yesterday by armed revolutionists within a mile of the scene of the peace conferences. At the insurgent camp it was told that the object of the insurgents in coming so close was to show Secretary Taft how completely Havana is in their grasp. Pino Guerra's augmented force is only a short distance away. He was advancing to encamp just outside of Marianao when the fact was called to the attention of Secretary Taft. Taft was greatly displeased, and Senator Zayas and Charles Herrandez, former postmaster of Havana, were dispatched to meet Guerra, with the result that the latter turned back.

In addition to Zayas' party, Major Ladd of the United States army visited Guerra yesterday. As the insurgents marched he carefully counted their Force and reported to Taft and Bacon their exact strength. Guerra's army is well equipped for a long campaign against the city, and in addition to far better mounts than the governmental forces, the insurgents have plenty of arms and ammunition, as well as several machine guns.

At midday Pino Guerra, with 5300 men, 1000 of whom were unarmed, with 500 extra horses, crossed the line of the province of Pinar del Rio and entered the province of Havana, camping at Caimito, 20 miles from Havana. Guerra had effected a junction with the force of General Carillo, consisting of 1300 men, and all resumed the march toward Havana.

A press correspondent joined the rebel forces at Guanajay yesterday morning and continued with them until they encamped. The discipline of the Moon sets-9:21 p. m. force is fair. The revolutionists appropriate all chickens, pigs and horses | Sunday will be fair in New England.

Pine Guerra told the correspondent that he and Zayas were working in perfect accord. Guerra still considers himself a congressman. He said that he was elected, but 'that President Palma was a usurper. Questioned whether he would prefer American intervention to the present government he avoided a direct reply. He said that he would not attempt to enter the city during the peace conference or until the failure of it. Asked as to whether he had a plan for the formation of a provisional government he replied af firmatively, but would not outline it.

Senator Zayas has ordered General Del Castillo to move his army away from Havana. When the insurgents were ordered away from La Lisa Taft requested General Rodriguez to withdraw the rural guards from Marianao, and today only mounted police surround Minister Morgan's villa.

Twelve Warships For Cuba

Washington, Sept. 22 .- It is not the present intention of the navy department to order any more war vessels to Cuba. Including those now in Cuban waters and those en route to Cuba, there are a round dozen of American warships destined for at least temporary service in Cuba. How long the American fleet now assembled in Cuban waters will remain there is quite problematical. In the circumstances it would be practically under the direct orders of the president and would carry into effect any directions he may American Interests Protected Washington, Sept. 22.-A cablegram was received at the navy department from Commander Fullam of the Marietta, at Cienfuegos, saying that the situation there is quiet and that he has a sufficient guard for the protection of American interests in that vicinity. The guard numbers about 225 men.

Insanity Growing In Ireland

London, Sept. 22 .- A special report of the inspectors of lunatics in Ireland was issued in the form of a blue book. It shows that the proportion of insane to the total population in 1901 was 56.2 percent compared with 15.2 in 1851. The number of patients in public asylums rose from 8667 in 1880 to 18,094 in 1903. There was a proportionate increase in the inmates of private asylums. The figures do not include the insane outside of asylums, which is be lieved to be considerable.

Railroad President Arrested

New York, Sept. 22 .- William H. Newman, president of the New York Central railroad, was placed under arrest by order of Health Officer Darlington. He was charged with permitting the use of soft coal by the locomotives and roundhouses of the company in the borough of The Bronx. He protested against his arrest and afterward Darlington consented to allow the foreman of the roundhouse to appear in court in Tangier, Sept. 22.-The situation in Morocco is becoming more menacing. European properties in several cities are threatened. Natives are organizing and equipping as if for a holy war and the sultan's authority is non-existent. The sheiks in the Marakish region have demanded complete autonomy.

Savannah Loses Its Only Theatre Savannah, Ga., Sept. 22 .- The Savannah theatre was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $75,000. There is no other theatre in Savannah. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was erected in 1818. It is said to have been the oldest theatre in the United States.

MRS. ANNA C. FALL.

One of the Cleverest of Boston's Wo-

Mrs. Anna C. Fall of Malden is one of the cleverest of Boston's bright coterie of women lawyers. Mrs. Fall, indeed, was among the very first women to practice law in Boston. She graduated from the Boston university law school in 1891 and tried her first case in November of that year, it being the first jury case tried by a woman in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Fall is the author of a pathetic little story, "The Tragedy of a Widow's Third," which proved a strong argument in favor of increasing the widow's share of her husband's property when the matter was being agitated in the legislature some years ago.

For nine years this bright little woman was a member of the Malden very valuable

So successful has Mrs. Fall been in her chosen occupation that her daughter is following in her footsteps and is a student at the Boston university law school.—Boston Traveler.

Care of the Piano.

A plano should be tuned at regular intervals, preferably after the beginning of each season. It becomes out of tune as much by change of temperature as by use.

Too much stress cannot be placed upon the selection of a tuner, as an incompetent tuner can do great damage and will usually magnify a slight trouble in order to justify a high price. It is best never to engage an unknown tuner, or if he is engaged be careful to examine his references and be satisfied

The fingling or singing sound at times noticeable when the piano is ascertain the cause of this vibration dusted as regularly as the furniture is the key which seems to produce the and every sweeping day will see them difficulty should be struck by one person and another should go about the room listening carefully, and thus the article which vibrates can be discovered and the cause removed.

Any hard substance, no matter how small, when dropped inside of a piano will cause a rattle or jarring noise. If a pedal should squeak remove the bottom panel of the piano and apply a little black lead, powdered from a pencil, at the part where friction exists. Cleaning the case may be accomplished by wetting a piece of canton flannel and dropping upon it a few drops of ordinary olive oil. Rub a small portion of the piano at a time, wiping it off thoroughly with a dry piece of canton flannel. Afterward rub with a soft, clean chamois skin or another piece of clean canton flannel. always taking care to rub with the grain of the wood and occasionally to breathe on it in order to remove every particle of oily substance.

Sanitation In the Country House. The general problem of good water and safe sewage appeals to every owner of a country house. The best soil for these purposes is a sandy one. and wherever a rocky or clayey soil gives possibility of a fissure which might connect water and drainage expert examination should be called in. The individual plant for sewage disposal may often be a well and a cesspool, the cesspool, once a bogy to sanitarians, being now justified by the septic tank and the sand filter, both of which principles are employed in its construction. Two points must be recognized here: Such a covering of the well that the grave danger of surface pollution may be avoided, for it is most essential that no pollution should be washed through covering boards; also the direction of drainage, which is generally toward the nearest water course, must be such that the water supply may not be below the point of sewage disposal. With these simple precautions of soil, covering of well and proper location of water and drainage, the isolated country house owner may feel secure.-Hollis Godfrey in Atlantic.

The Linen Closet.

The woman who can set a whole closet aside for her linens and can have that closet shelved to her fancy is a fortunate individual indeed, for there's never a woman living who doesn't like linens kept just so. Each kind should have its separate shelf, which should be covered with clean white paper, or, better still, with the pads made of dimity or of cheese cloth lined with perfumed wadding. L. Louglas $4 Gilt Edge Lavender is the most pleasent wadding. Lavender is the most pleasant perfume to use for linens, especially the lavender flowers, sprinkled thickly in the padding and perhaps sewed up in little flat bags as well, which are laid here and there among pillow cases and sheets. No other perfume has quite so clean and fresh a quality about it for the purpose. Sheets and pillow case alike should be marked with indelih ink (unless you prefer to embroider everything), giving each set some distinguishing mark, so that they are kept together and meet the same amount of wear and tear. A change for each bed is the usual allowance.

Refurbished Bedstead.

One might term a bedstead recently evolved by an ingenious housewife hybrid, yet it might be said in its faro that it combines the advantages of appearance of the mahogany four poster with the hygienic merits of the metal bed. This is accomplished by using the four posts of the mahogany bed with the springs and frame of the metal bed. A dimity tester and valance with a colonial spread entirely concealed the metal portion in the daytime, and its possessor says she prefers it to the entire mahogany bed. In explanation it might be said that the mahogany bedstead used was bought for a song at a sale, as the only good thing about it was the four fine posts.

How to Dry the Hair.

Some children catch cold very easily after having their hair washed. In order to dry it quickly and prevent this use for the final rinsing quite hot water in which a few drops of alcohol have been added. Then rub the hair well with alcohol and wring it out as dry as possible. Next take two or three towels, divide the hair and wipe each strand separately. Let the child sit in a warm room or, if possible, in the sun: Fan the hair and wipe each strand separately, and it soon will be perfectly dry.

Kitchen Rugs. Very neat and serviceable rugs for use in the kitchen can be made from old trousers legs and heavy dress materials which are past redemption as wearing apparel. Wash the material and cut it in strips about two inches wide. Sew the strips together, making three lengths, which braid together tightly. Make the center of the rug of a heavy piece of material or a scrap of carpet, cut oval or round, and sew the braided strip round and round until the rug is the desired size.

Effective Table Square. A very effective table square was made at small cost from unbleached linen toweling twenty inches wide Two lengths of linen were used and a line of heavy linen lace insertion was used to join the pieces. Narrow linen lace to match edged the square, and small round medallions of lace were let in at eight corners of the cloth.

A Test of Housekeeping.

As good a test of the right sort of housekeeper as the old time one of looking in corners and under beds for dust is that of passing a cloth over the tops of doors and windows. Your true housewife will look to it that they are wiped off with a damp rag.

Plaiting a Skirt.

Plaits that are to be stitched only a certain number of inches from the waist line should be graduated from the front to the back and the depth of the plaits marked by a colored thread. The plaits, however, should be basted to the foot of the skirt and pressed carefully their entire length.

Household Safes. The fashion of small safes concealed in unlikely places is such a popular one that any piece of furniture may now be used to baffle burglars. The latest is a linen chest, a substantial thing of oak or cedar, which contrives to hide a safe. The safe is fire as well as burglar proof.

Pressing Sleeve Seams.

For pressing the seams of a sleeve procure a three-quarter round, short ength of lumber. Pad it and cover with a piece of white ironing cloth.

This furnishes a firm base for the pressing, which is utterly lacking in the customary broom handle.

Sofa Pillows. The best sofa pillows are covered with waxed cotton. This is done by ironing the inside of the cover with a hot flatiron rubbed on a cloth well saturated with beeswax. When treated in this way it is impossible for small, elusive downs to work through. Furniture Polish.

This is an excellent furniture polish where a bright surface is desired: Half a pint of alcohol, half an ounce each of rosin and shellac powdered. Mix these with the alcohol, then add half a pint of linseed oil. Shake thoroughly before using.

One should never tamper with moles. It is unsafe and sometimes is followed by serious consequences. If any treatment is necessary go to a reliable physician for it.

A teaspoonful of vinegar put into an oil lamp or stove that smells or smokes will cause it to burn with a clear light and prevent smoking.

To give the house a pleasant odor take some live coals and sprinkle ground cinnamon on them.

When buying table linen buy the best quality the purse will allow.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Masse A freight car belonging to the Penn sylvania railroad lines contained 450 boxes of 2000 pounds of high explosives consigned to the Rand Powder company at Clearfield, Tenn. Two causes are assigned for the explosion One is that three parties were shooting at a mark on the car and that a bullet entered the car and caused the explosion. The other is that while the car was standing on a sidetrack a carload of pig-iron was switched against it and that the impact caused the explosion. Miss Shefflin had that desire. In visiting New York city she had many, many times observed hard up looking men who were seemingly drifting into careers of wickedness because there a chance. She had often been tempted to address them, but her brother Ben happened to be along or she had seen some policeman watching her or the hard up looking man made a sneak as she was about to

It was when Brother Ben went to Europe on business that his sister determined to carry out her long cherished plans. She had the time and the money, and the steamer was hardly clear of Fire island when she was in the city with her trunk and installed in a boarding house where she had been acquainted for a number of years. In confidence she told the landlady of the object of her visit. It was all very well to donate libraries and to endow hospitals and colleges, but when a man was walking the streets of New York with hunger gnawing at his vitals and hope gone out of his heart, of what use were such institutions to him?

"If you don't make a fool of yourself replied the practical and level headed landlady, as she remembered the names of a few hard up men of the scores that had taken her in for a few weeks' board since she had been in the boarding house business.

"But how can I make a fool of myself, as you term it?" was asked. "If I speak kindly and encouragingly to some hopeless and penniless man, if I help him to a situation; if I give him the opportunity to earn an honest living once more, where can you criticise?"

"Never you mind. You've got money, and you've got a heart, and I've nothing further to say."

He looked at her for a minute and wondered what sort of a "plant" it was. Then he became conscious that he had struck one of those "good things" he had read about and heard tell of-a female philanthropist. Removing his hat and deepening his hopeless look, he replied:

"Miss, I have been out of work for weeks and weeks, and, so help me heaven, I have had no food for two days. I was thinking of throwing myself under a street car and ending it all."

"How wicked to think of taking your own life!"

"But of what use to live and walk the streets penniless and hungry? Didn't you just see a detective drive me along like a dog?" "I did, and I felt almost like shooting him. Please follow me to my boarding house and tell me your story." He followed. He winked at an acquaintance as he followed, and his wink was returned. He ran across the landlady as he entered the house after Miss Shefflin, and he heaved a sigh of relief as he found her face unfamiliar. At the same time, however, he realized that she was not a philanthropic landlady-not one to be taken in by any ordinary tale of distress.

Sitting in the parlor beside the old maid and working up all the pathos he could, the tin horn man told his tale. It was one that brought tears to her eyes. He was honest enough to plead guilty to embezzling $20 from his employer to bet on the races and penitent enough to say that nothing on the face him into crooked paths if he could get Advertisements should be put in the papers to aid him. Miss Shefflin herself would go to various stores and offices and use her personal influence.

"I wish you joy of him," said the landlady when the arrangements had been completed and the young man had gone out to make his first application. "Please do not be so hard hearted,

"I can't imagine it."

"But why would he lie to me?"

"Why have a hundred just like him lied to me?"

"I tell you, Mrs. Thomas, that human nature is good if you will only give it under the wheels of a car ere this, and I should never have forgiven myself. I shall find him a place and make a man of him once again, and he will be grateful all his days." During the next four days the tin horn man was looking for a place between meals, and Miss Shefflin was making personal calls here and there. She met with no luck, but as some of the boarders smelled whisky on Tin Horn they thought he must be doing well.

On the fourth night, after the philanthropist and her subject had had their usual talk and he had shed more tears than usual, he went up to bed at sharp 9 o'clock. He wanted to get an earlier start than usual.

The greatest pollution is that which arises from contact with anything dead, as death is the creation of Ahriman and his greatest triumph over the power of Ormazd. The code of the Vendidad assigns the "nine nights' ablution" for the purification of persons so polluted. It consists in a series of so polluted. Free Kindergarten At Wollaston

Wollaston is fortunate in having an enlargement of its educational opportunities this fall. On Monday, Septemher 24, there will be opened within its district a free kindergarten in the house of Mrs. A. J. Preston, 33 Park street. This kindergarten will be first class in every respect and, it is hoped, will prove a great blessing to the little people of Ward 5.

The kindergartener engaged is Miss Grace Parker, who was graduated from the Garland Kindergarten Training school of Boston in 1900 and has since been teaching. She was kindergartener for three years in the Milton Preparatory school and after that for three years in Miss Hazard's Kindergarten on Marlborough street Boston. She has also done settlement work in Boston. by Officer Curtin for disorderly conduct kindergarten work.

The United States is the first to carry out its agreement.

The act of congress providing for the construction of the derelict destroyer was approved May 12, 1906, and authorizes the building of a steam vessel specially fitted for and adapted to service at sea in bad weather for the purpose of blowing up or otherwise destroying or towing into port wrecks, derelicts and other floating dangers to navigation.

According to the report of the board of officers chosen to provide plans for this new craft, the derelict destroyer will be 204 feet in length over all, 34 salt water will be 1,200 tons. On the main deck will be the offices, galley, sick bay, refrigerator, closets and store rooms. The spar deck will contain the pilot house, large chart room and a spare stateroom for the commanding officer in heavy weather.

The presence of a shark at the bathing grounds caused intense excitement. It measured three feet in length and weighed fifteen pounds. Mr. Hering was about 300 feet from shore when he noticed a shimmering white object shoot by. It was the upthought he was in danger and turned in the water as the slim body made another dash in his direction. Hering caught his assailant's fin with the left hand. A piece of driftwood Alfred J. Barnard. appeared in reach at this opportune moment, and Hering battered his wriggling opponent over the head. Then hold of the other fin and started for SATURDAY NIGHT, shore. Fearful of losing his hold, Mr. Hering kicked his way slowly to the shore and unaided made a landing without relaxing his grasp on the

The presence of sharks is explained by Harvey Brown, an old Coney Island fisherman, as being due to a school of pompano, a rare fish in these waters. Other fishermen returning from a cruise to Jones' inlet, on Long Island, say they saw a number of large sharks chasing a school of fish at that point a

Flowers Also Barred.

New York houses will be as much abloom this fall as ever, says a correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch. Already many of these in the finest residential districts are decorated with various kinds of growing plants, but the apartment houses are almost without exception bare of such ornamentation. Owners have begun to disapprove of the floral decorations. They are too fantastic, and the individual tastes of every tenant had too free a sway. There were flowers of too many colors now scarcely an apartment house in town which allows the tenants to place flowers in their windows.

James P. Magenis For Congressman

James P. Magenis, one of the candidates for the republican nomination in the 10th congressional district, was in town last evening, conferring with his lieutenants and expressed himself as greatly pleased with the outlook.

The tenth district is beyond all doubt at the present time the liveliest political district within the Commonwealth. While the democratic candidates are literally arraigning each other and declaring the individual unfitness of each, the two leading republican candidates Mr Magenis a well known Boston Republican and Mr. Friedman a young Hebrew. lawyer, are going their way in peace, having nothing to say of each other, but doing strenuous work. It is evident in this district which gave Congressman McNary at the last election a plurality of about 7,000 the republicans one republican, in fact to democrats this is not wholly an unexpected outcome of the present democratic contest.

Edison's only comment.

At another time he tried to make some gun cotton, but muttered that it was no good and placed it on the back of an old stove. Several months later when fire was started in the stove there was an explosion. "It was good, wasn't it?" said Edison sententiously.

Cared Little For Money.

This sort of thing went on till Edison made his first leap into fame by inventing the stock ticker. This brought him in $40,000, and he was so unused to handling money that he did not know how to get the check cashed. Edison never did care very much for money, though he has plenty of it now. It is one of the anomalies of life that a penniless boy should invent the stock ticker that is now the rich man's office pet throughout the land.

After that he invented pretty much everything. The few things he overlooked he still has time for. At one time he said he intended to contrive a cradle that would be rocked by lung power-that is, by the baby's cry. The harder the little sinner squalled the faster the cradle would rock.

The great inventor has quite a vein of dry fun. He is also a practical joker upon occasion. A genius can do things with impunity for which other people would be put in jail.

Phonograph Joke on a Quaker.

At one time Edison hid some phonographs about the guest chamber of his house. One night a Quaker was visiting him and was awakened from his slumber by hearing a metallic voice swearing horribly. He turned on the lights and looked carefully, but could find no one. Every time he dropped asleep the thing was repeated. Finally, when he could stand it no longer, he called Mr. Edison and said the house must be haunted by a tribe of the most blasphemous ghosts that had ever broken loose from the nether regions. Edison was the picture of in nocence and helped his guest search for the source of the profanity, but without success. Finally he explained that it must be the phonographs that broke forth at rather unexpected times. That may be a joke, but homi cide has been committed on less prov-

"It depends upon the building." "But is it any good in any case; Would you advise their use on church es, for instance?" ventured the rod

"Well," replied Edison, with a twin kle, "they might be of use on churches It does look as though Providence were a bit absentminded at times." When in New York one day Mr. Edison remarked to a friend on leaving: "I want to go back to the quietude of my own workshop. I can't stand New York. You are too glaring and noisy over here, one of the chief rea sons being that you are using so many of my contrivances."

Everybody has called Edison a wiz ard, and for that reason I refrain. Most wizards are fakirs, and Thomas A. Edison is genuine.

Loves Imaginative Authors.

Strange as it may seem, this most practical of the world's inventors loves such imaginative authors as Edgar Allan Poe and Jules Verne. It is also said that he is a spiritualist and that he ascribes many of his discoveries to spiritual agencies. Certain it is that he was for many years a member of the Theosophical society of New York.

Edison is an inveterate smoker and is so absentminded he never seems to know how many cigars lie does burn Once he complained to his tobacconist of the rapidity with which his cigars disappeared and could not believe he smoked them all himself. The dealer agreed to make some "faked cigars." "I'll fix 'em with horse hair and hard rubber," said he. "Then you'll find there will not be so many missing." Several weeks later Mr. Edison saw the tobacconist again and said:

"Look here! I thought you were going to fix me some faked cigars!"

"Why, I did!" exclaimed the other in hurt surprise. "Don't you remember the box with a green label-cigars tied with vellow ribbon?"

Edison smiled reflectively. "I smoked those cigars myself," he said. A guest once noticed that Mr. Edison lighted a great many matches to keep his cigars going and placed the burned matches back in the box with the unlighted ones. He explained the habit by waving the stub of his cigar at Mrs. Edison and saying:

"She won't let me drop 'em 'round."

Trainer of Electricians.

Thomas A. Edison has not only brought great material results to the world, but has done the more important work of training men. Among the list of those who have graduated from noted scientists as Nikola Tesla and A.

E. Kennelly, president of the Institute of Electrical Engineers. Other noted electricians that were trained by Edison are Charles Batchelor, the late John Krusie and S. B. Bergman, who has become the largest manufacturer has become the largest manufacturer of electrical apparatus in the United States. Frank J. Sprague, editor of the Sprague electric system, and the late Frank MacGowen, the explorer, were also Edison pupils.

It is thus seen that Mr. Edison has not only invented or improved practically all the things that have to do with men, even to the houses they live in, but that he has contrived to invent or improve quite a number of very bright men themselves.

Almost Reached 104th Birthday

Hebron, Conn., Sept. 22.-Darius Drake, who was the oldest man in the state, died here at the home of Frank Raymond. Had he lived until Oct. 1 he would have been 104 years old. Death was due to ills incident to old age. He is survived by two children. Drake was bom in South Windsor in 1802. His father was a Revolutionary soldier. Up to his 96th birthday he was a Democrat and voted the straight Democratic ticket, but in that year he became a Republican and remained so until the time of his death.

To Save Historic Building

Boston, Sept. 22.-After years of vicissitudes, the old Paul Revere house in North square has been saved to posterity through the efforts of the Paul Revere Memorial association, as the society announced last night that sufficient money, $12,200, had been subscribed to the fund by lovers of the historical for this purpose. The march of modern improvement would have demolished the landmark probably within a year had not the society stepped in and saved it.

STUCK TO VESSEL

TOOK TO RAFTS

Heard Their Commander Shout Goodbye and Saw Him Sink From Sight--Suffered Hardships Before Being Rescued

Boston, Sept. 22 .- A story of the wreck of the tern schooner Nellie Floyd of New York and of the loss of her captain was told by six survivors of the wreck who were brought into this port last night by the steamer Nachoochee,

Captain Matheson, a middle-aged man who lived in Provincetown, was in command of the Floyd, and when she foundered off the coast of the Carolinas last Tuesday he stood by his vessel and shouted "good-bye" to the six members of the crew who took to rafts improvised from the schooner's hatches.

After drifting for nearly 24 hours, clinging to the rafts waist deep in the water, with no food and a half-gallon of water, the six men were picked up by the steamer Nachoochee. They are: Chief Officer Joansen, Steward Heughan, Seamen Bailey, Bowman, Granville and Smith, all of New York.

The Floyd left New York Sept. 10 for Savannah, heavily laden with coal. The vessel, which was 27 years old, was leaking very slightly at the start, but with fair weather no danger was Friday night a northeast wind increased to almost hurricane velocity and tossed the vessel considerably. sweeping seas over her. The entire crew was at work at the pumps all Saturday night, but they gained no headway on the water rushing in through the leak and breaking over her sides.

Early Sunday morning the cargo shifted and put the vessel down almost to her rails, and she gradually sank until at 3 p. m. it was necessary to abandon the schooner or go to the bottom with her. All, including Captain Matheson, took to the hatches for rafts. On second thought the captain decided to stay by his vessel and he succeeded in getting back to its deck, which was then almost on a level with the water. He waved his arms and shouted good-bye to the crew, and in sight of all he went down with the vessel which he commanded.

Much depressed by the sacrifice of Matheson, the men held to their rafts with little expectation of being picked up. At noon Tuesday Captain Howlett of the steamer Nacoochee of the Savannah line sighted the six men drifting about 18 miles south of Frying Pan shoals, off the coast of North Carolina. The steamer, which was bound to Boston, was directed toward the shipwrecked victims and they were taken

The passengers of the Nacoochee told of the heroic work of rescue by the crew. The drifting shipwrecked vicdifeboats while a high sea prevailed. The rescued men were covered with bruises and so weak from exhaustion and hunger that they could barely

D. Bibber, which was wrecked off Frying Pan Monday morning. For five days they were without food or water and Sayres was helpless when taken aboard. The negro was apparently all right and suffered very little. Mate Stone and the remainder of the crew of three men were taken into Charleston by steamer New York Tuesday.

Obstruction to Navigation

Pasque Island, Mass., Sept. 22 .- The government gasoline boat Mary is attempting to blow up the steamer Tro ian, which was sunk in collision last spring near Cuttyhunk island. The Trojan carried a cargo valued at $500. 000. The wind and sea have been unfavorable for effective work and little progress has been made by the Mary.

Steamer Sunk In Collision

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 22.-Steamer Atlantic, belonging to the Cape Fear Fisheries company, was sunk by steamer Navahoe near Fort Caswell. Only the mast and smokestack of the Atlantic was left out of the water. Pilot Harry Corbett is the only one hurt. The Navahoe was not damaged.

The Mongolia Again Afloat Honolulu, Sept. 22 .- Steamer Mongolia, which went ashore on Midway Island, was floated last evening. She is expected to reach here under her own The agents here of the Pacific Mail Steamship company think that the Mongolia has sustained little damage.

THE MAGIC DIAL.

A Puzzling Feat That Seems Akin to Mind Reading.

Ask any of your playmates to think of some hour of the day. Tell him to deduct it from 20 and remember the remainder. You produce your big clock dial and inform him that you are going to count around on the dial and that when you have counted the number corresponding with the remainder that he must remember, he must stop

Suppose he thought of 5 o'clock. Five taken from 20 leaves 15 remainder. You now count promiscuously (mentally, not orally), pointing at each count with a pencil to one of the hours on the dial (which must be provided in advance and is made by cutting out a circle of cardboard and marking on it with ink the twelve figures of the clock

Be sure when you make the eighth count to point to the "12" and thence in regular rotation backward toward the left. When you come to the figure "5" you will be stopped, as this will be the fifteenth count, corresponding to the remainder, 15, which he was to remember. You will thus know that 5 o'clock was the hour thought of.

If this trick be repeated more than two or three times it is well to vary the number from which the deduction is to be made. Thus instead of deducting, as in the foregoing example, 5 from 20, the person addressed may be told to deduct the hour thought of from 18, but as 18 is only six hours more than 12 you must be sure to make your sixth (not the eighth) promiscuous count be at the figure "12"

In the first example, with 20, the eighth count was made at "12" because 20 is eight more than 12. If 22 be the number adopted the tenth count must be made on figure "12," 22 being 10 more than 12, and so on with any other number

When your friends see you are able to tell the time they thought of from different numbers to be deducted from then they will be more mystified than ever and will become convinced you are a real mind reader if you don't let them into the secret.

THE FUNNY FROG.

How Would You Like to Be In His Bed All Winter Long?

Among the many creatures that sleep in the winter are the frogs, with their very long hindlegs, short forelegs and with big black eyes on each side of their very big mouths.

When the cold days come and the water begins to freeze in the pond the frogs know that it is time to go to bed for the winter. Down they go and their families with them to the bottom. Then they begin to dig with their long hind feet into the soft mud. are in operation. They work themselves down into their beds backward until at last they are covered under the mud, all except the tips of their noses.

There they go to sleep. After awhile and they can sleep safely all winter. They do not get hungry all this time. When spring comes and the sun grows bright and warm and Jack Frost carries away their covering, old father frog begins to push his nose up out of the mud until his ears are uncovered. Then he nudges mother frog. "Wake up!" he says. "Don't mains unshaken. you hear everybody busy up there?" And, oh, how sleepy she is, poor thing! But he had tried the water and found it warm, and they must not rest any longer.

Conundrums. What is it that has neither flesh nor blood, yet has four fingers and a thumb? A glove.

What is it that no one wishes to have and yet when he has it does not wish to lose it? A bald head,

Why is a historical event like a parcel untied and tied again? Because it is recorded.

A Spoiled Story. Young Tommy was a reckless chap As ever you did spy. He crept into the pantry once And ate a pot of lye— No, no; I mean a lot of pie!

The pie did not agree with Tom.

So very large a piece. He felt so ill he hastened off To find a pot of grease— Dear me, I mean a grot of peace!

He wept with pain and doubled up As tight as any clam.
"Oh, dear, I feel as bad as when I ate that jot of lamb-No, no; I mean that lot of jam!"

This story gets so mixed at times Under my very eyes, I'll stop. So far what I have said Seems like a lack of pies-Dear me, I mean a pack of lies!

-J. D. Benedict in St. Nicholas. PLOT AT PETERHOF

Was Directed Against Lives of Two Powerful G and Dukes

Vienna, Sept. 22 .- Two members of the Russian revolutionary committee escaping from St. Petersburg have argived here. They declare that it is not true that the plot discovered at Peterhof was planned against Emperor Nicholas or his immediate family and say it was entirely directed against Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, who now holds all the thread of power, and Grand Duke Vladimir, who has returned to Russia under the strictest incognito.

Grand Duke Nicholas informed General Dedulin, the commandant of the palace, who is his personal appointee, that he was firmly persuaded that revolutionists or allies of the revolutionary committee existed at Peterhof, for twice he had found death sentences on his writing table and that Grand Duke Vladimir had received a similar missive the morning after his arrival, causing great surprise, as his return had been accomplished with the utmost secrecy.

General Dedulin instituted a close search of Peterhof, examining all the officials and every apartment. While thus engaged he saw a group in the garden house, who fled at the general's approach. Guards pursued and arrested three men, two of whom were footmen in the service of Grand Duke Nicholas and the other a palace gardener. One of the footmen had in his possession a complete plan of the Peterhof palace, with the doors and gates carefully marked. The three men were taken to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul.

Police Officials Killed by Bomb Tiflis, Sept. 22 .- In the course of a domiciliary search of a suspected house here the police discovered in the apart ment of a young man named Alleloll a box containing printing materials Directly the box was touched it exploded and three police officials were killed and three were wounded. Two other uncharged bombs were found in the apartment. The tenant of the room disappeared.

Cursed With His Last Breath Odessa, Sept. 22.—The first field court martial was held here yesterday and a terrorist Jew named Tarle was sentenced to death and executed for the killing of a policeman. Tarle was in a pitiful condition when brought be fore the court, from loss of blood from five wounds received before he was ar rested. His last words were curses and expressions of contempt for his captors.

Trio of Bomb Throwers St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.-The suburb of St. Petersburg adjoining the Narva gate was shaken by the explosion of a powerful bomb, which was thrown by one of three well-dressed men, and which tore an enormous hole in the ground and broke all the win dows in the vicinity. There was no loss of life. The bomb throwers disappeared before the arrival of the police

Rush For Naturalization Fapers

curred at the county courthouse yesterday when hundreds of aliens appeared, seeking citizenship papers. The crowd broke open the door at the entrance of the building and it required a detail of policemen to beat them back and restore order. Two reasons were given for the rush. One was that on account of the Jewish holiday many men were at leisure. The other was that new and more stringent naturalization laws go into effect Sept. 27 and many aliens are anxious to take out their papers before the new requirements

The roof of the old part of the building is now completely slated and water tight. The remodelling was so extensive that all the rooms required new plastering, and during the past so that some progress is being made. Two steel trusses are in place for the new assembly hall in the rear of the addition, and the roof will soon be over that part. The boilers were in place several weeks ago, and the big coal pocket is ready for coal. When any part of the building will be ready for occupancy is still an open question.

Long Trip.

Councilman Gilson has been away again seeing the country. When he left Mr. McIntosh, the lecturer, in Erie, Pa., Aug. 28, he supposed that he was through with him, as he had secured from there an operator. Much to the doctor's surprise on Wednesday he received a telegram from him from New York begging him to meet Mr. Mc Intosh at Lenox for Thursday night, The doctor did, and then Mr. McIntosh insisted that he go from there to Hot Springs, Va., for Saturday night. The doctor thus makes over 1,400 miles travel to illustrate one lecture. This is believed to be the longest trip ever made by one operator for one lecture. Councilman Gilson left Virginia on Sunday morning and will be back in Quincy in time to attend the Council committee meeting tonight.

Finding of Dismembered Remains of Unknown Man

THE HEAD STILL MISSING

Body Was Found In an Excavation. While Legs and Arms Were Recovered In Freight Car-Skilful Surgery Work

New York, Sept. 24.-A burlap bag stamped with the name "Z. K. Mano," a strip of a woman's skirt and an oilcloth table covering bearing a rude sketch of the landing of Columbus, are the only immediate clues to the perpetrators of a revolting murder committed in the early hours of Sunday morning and accidentally revealed by gruesome discovery in West 36th

The dismembered body of a man, apparently an Italian, wrapped in the burlap bag, was found in a hole 24 feet deep, forming a part of an excavation at 604 West 36th street, where an addition to a brewery is to stand. The discovery was made by the day watchman for the building contractors and later a systematic search by the police resulted in finding the parts of a man's legs from the knees down and the arms and hands.

These were wrapped together in a newspaper of the date Sept. 10 and bound about the bundle was a strip of a woman's skirt. All was neatly and securely tied with a string, suggesting deliberate preparation. This latter bundle was found under a covering of hay in a freight car at 36th street and 11th avenue. The car was unloaded of a shipment of horses Saturday. The head and the thighs are missing.

It is the theory of the police that the murder was committed near where the body was found and that three packages of the dismembered parts had been made with the purpose that they be disposed of at some distance from the scene of the crime. The police believe that the persons carrying the bundles became alarmed and hurriedly disposed of them at the nearest convenient hiding place. They expect to find a third package in the same vicin-

Coroner's Physician Weston, who examined the body, said that the work of dismemberment had been deliberately and skilfully done, suggesting the work of one familiar with surgical instru-

Dr. Weston uncovered the body, which had been first wrapped in a news paper, then covered with a table cover of oilcloth. Weston said from appearances the remains were those of an Italian or Syrian, in life about 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighing approximately 130 pounds, and from the appearance of the hands probably a mechanic. The body had been washed after death, which had evidently pre ceded the discovery of the murder only a few hours. The physician said death had occurred after Saturday mklnight. There were three stab wounds on the body, one immediately over the heart, another in the left shoulder and the third in the right breast. The burlap bag bore the name of "Z. K. Mano" and was of the type which are in use in the importation of Syrian Hack, Livery and Boarding Stable nuts to this country. In the directory the name Z. K. Mano appears as a nut importer of 67 Washington street, and inquiries there show that Mano, a Syrian, died six weeks ago and that about three weeks since his wife auctioned off the stock in trade of her late husband's business. Something like 60 sacks, similar to the one in which the body was found, were among the effects sold. Of these 15 were sold to Balan & Balish of 63 Washington street, also in the nut business, a number to a rug importer, while another is reported to have bought some of them.

The trunk and limbs were removed to the morgue and Inspector Walsh took charge of the case.

WANT US TO INTERVENE

Belief That It Is the Only Way to Secure Permanent Tranquility--Popular Sympathy With Insurgents--Tatt's Power

Havana, Sept. 24.-All classes are now waiting for the conditions under which tranquility will be restored in Cuba, and keen disappointment is expressed on every side because of the likelihood of peace being brought about without armed American intervention

That the differences of the opposing factions could be reconciled was not be lieved to be possible until yesterday, when it was announced that the Liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to represent them be fore the American mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring forcible intervention and possibly annexation Secretary of War Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace cannot last unless it is enforced by an American army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the republic another chance and be lieves that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than was required to su-Cuba longer than was required to supervise the laying down of arms. He says that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the ates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith. That peace will come as the result of the mediation of the United States is now believed by all Cubans, regardless of party affiliation, but whether it will be on terms which will insure permanent tranquility is questioned. ates harmonize their differences the

The nearest insurgent camp, near La Lisa, just west of Marianao, was visited Sunday by great crowds of Havapese. Encouraged by the reports that peace was imminent, the people for the first time dared to gratify their curiosity and to show their great sympathy with the revolutionary cause. Although it was raining, many extra cars were in operation and every kind of conveyance was used by the crowd, conveyance was used by the crowd, but these were insufficient and many persons walked the 12 miles from Havana to the camp. It is feared that the effect of this enthusiasm may be bad in the event that the peace terms require the rebels to make decided concessions. Despite the armistice which is now in effect, a clash between government troops and Pino Guerra's force was threatened yesterday. General Avalos, with 400 cavalry and 300 infantry, arrived at Guanajay at noon, having come by train from Pinar del Rio to come by train from Pinar del Rio to Columbia, near Haavna. This meant passing through the rebel camps. General Guerra sent a message to Avalos that this might lead to an encounter and that he would not be responsible for the outcome. Avalos declared his intention to continue the march, but General Rodriguez, by direction of Secretary Taft, ordered him to take his force away, which will be done. There was considerable comment over the fact that a salute of 19 guns was given Taft when he visited the warships. Previously he had been given the usual 17 guns, to which the secretary of war is entitled. The two extra guns means that he is recognized as an ambassador extraordinary on a special mission with plenary powers from President Roosevelt. It is known that he now has been authorized to exercise his own judgment in all matters pertaining to the negotiations and that the squadron with its entire force is under his immediate control. Taft said vesterday: "The United States forces are under my orders. I have given no order for them to land and not a man shall land until I give such an order." President Palma spent the most quiet day he has passed since the outbreak of the revolution, remaining with his family in the residence portion of the palace nearly the entire day. Desertions of government troops to the rebel ranks are still occurring.

Won't Recede From Demands Havana, Sept. 24.—General Ferrara says the war in Santa Clara province has been conducted on humanitarian lines. He asserts that the commissioners of the revolutionists will not recede from their demands that the alleged electoral frauds shall be declared void. He also says that, while the 1422 HANCOCK STREET. rebels have ceased hostilities, they will be resumed unless the government stops concentrating troops.

sarasate once found his memory deserting him at a recital, but he discovered the reason of the mishap in time to prevent a failure. A lady was fanning herself in the front row of the stalls. The violinist stopped playing. "Madam," he said, "how can I play iu two-four time when you are beating sixeight?" The lady shut up her fan, and the recital was concluded successfully. Councilman Writes Concerning Deals

Editor of the Daily Ledger.

There appeared in Thursday's issue of the Daily Ledger an article written by a Republican voter of Ward 5, refergates are well known men whose names ring to the deal by which Mr. Freeman are a sufficient guarantee that Quincy's proposes to deliver the voters of Ward best interests will be well cared for and 5 in a body, wherever it may appear to $36,000 in purses and special attrachim that it will serve his personal interests and advance his chances of success. in his candidacy for the Senate.

Of many rumored, the particular deal referred to in this article is his agreement to secure in our ward and in other wards throughout this city by general arrangement with the machine which is now attemping to dominate the political affairs of Quincy delegates to the County convention who will support James H. Cunningham for County Treasurer.

That the intelligent voters of Ward 5, of Ward 3 or in general terms of all the wards of Quincy, will thus allow their most sacred right of citizenship to be made an article of commercial or political value to be bartered and traded by self seeking politicians is repugnant to all disinterested and loyal voters

It is safe to say that with a knowledge of the facts on that part, no man can "deliver the goods" except through the guise of so called "unpledged delegates," who as a matter of fact are as much obligated to support one of the chosen candidates as though oaths had been administered before a justice of the peace to do so; or by having a "quiet caucus" and the filing of one list of delegates, there being no opportunity to vote for any but the chosen few, when these gentlemen win by de-

It appears that opposition to this program has developed spontaneously. Whether-in time or how well organized. such contests, the writer is not familian with this aspect of the matter.

That there is a well organized machine in Quincy which is assuming to apportion all the offices, high and low, by deal or otherwise, and which is exerting a dangerous influence upon the affairs of our city, is perfectly apparent to one who is in a position to know of its far reaching effect. As stated before, the rank and file o the voters are not of the stuff to become the pliant tools of the politician, and cast their ballots in the caucuses as may be planned for them by the intriguing of a ward and city committee, providing they have a chance to do otherwise. As regards the two gentlemen whose names have been mentioned as caudidates, many believe that the most con spicuous qualifications of either for the high positions they seek, is to play the game in which they are now engaged. and unless the voters take matters into their own hards they and their associ ates will have an easy though empty MIS3 A. It is the fault of the voters themselves if there are no delegates on the caucus ballots who will represent them at the conventions. A few voters can place delegates in nomination, but the trouble is the voters do not wake up in time. In Wards Two, Four and Six, today, Republican voters cannot vote against R. R. Freeman or J. H. Cunningham if they wish, because the only delegates nominated are favorable to these two gentlemen.

While father and son were in conference Olsen told of the capture of Stensland at Tangier and of how persistently Stensland had labored to reach some by a pursuing steamer before she reached her destination. certain as a result of a long conference committee announced that there was practically no differences remaining between them and Secretaries Taft and tween them and Secretaries Taft and Bacon and that they would receive a draft of the peace plans today. The store of E. J. Murphy is the Uric-0 store in Onione.

Secretary Taft said he could give no details of what transpired at the conference for the reason that it was now necessary to treat with the government leaders and that the publication of the peace proposals might interfere with their prompt acceptance.

Messrs. Taft and Bacon went to the palace last night and informed President Palma of the outcome of the negotiations with the Liberals. The absence of a definite statement from the commissioners makes it impossible to say whether or not the plans carry the resignations of the present administration and the congressmen elected last year. There is a strong impression that President Palma will remain and reorganize the cabinet, but that new elections will be held for half the senators and representatives-in other words those who were elected last year, and The WEEKS-HILL Pharmacy, possibly, also, for provincial officers. In discussing the situation, Secretary

Taft said that today he would go over with Alfredo Zayas, the leader of the Liberals, the variations that the Liberal leaders desire in the memorandum of the peace program. "If we reach a conclusion," Taft said, "we hope to announce it tonight."

Mr. Taft evinced great pleasure at the progress made and it is evident that he regards the remainder of the negotiations as a matter of working out the de tails of the peace agreement. This lation here that the government had abandoned much of its opposition to receiving the Liberal leaders, and it is apparent that the peace commissioners feel that, while there was no reason for rebellion in Cuba, there was real foundation for Liberal complaint against the election methods of the administration party. Practically all the time of the conference was occupied by Taft's review of the situation. He warned the insurgent committee that the continued independence of Cuba depended upon their calmness, wisdom and discretion during the process of settlement.

Last night-Zavas telegraphed to all the important commanders in the field that there were prospects that peace terms would be signed and that the terms would be satisfactory to them. The immediate cessation of hostilities means everything. This winter's to bacco crop and the seed beds must be planted within a fortnight in order to insure a crop.

Palma Administration Not Pleased Havana, Sept. 25 .- An unsatisfac tory conference was held at the palace last night, when the mediators called to the attention of the Cuban administration the status of the peace negotiations with the Liberals and insurgents. The peace terms proposed are known to be against the government. The visit to the palace of the American commissioners was, therefore, not particularly pleasant. Another meeting will be held today. The big doors of the palace closed as usual at 11, but the president and the members of the cabinet remained in conference until long after

Twelve Companies of Military Assisting City Authorities In Preserving Peace--Extreme Sentence Inflicted Upon White Rioters--Negroes Leaving City

Atlanta, Sept. 25 .- Three mounted county officers, who with others were riding along their beat in South Atlanta, near Clark university, a negro college, were ambushed from an alley last night, with the result that Policeman Heard and another officer were killed and the third officer was fatally shot. Still another officer is reported missing. A squad of militiamen with the police are pursuing the negroes into the woods. The casualties on the other side are not known.

At Howell's station, three miles west of the centre of the city, the railroad operator has been killed, and another man in the same office either has been killed or wounded by negroes.

The city marshal of Edgewood was shot, but not seriously hurt, while trying to arrest a negro last evening. Other rumors of killing lack confirma-

The authorities feel so confident that they have the situation well in hand that an order was issued dismissing five of the companies of state militia that were ordered here. Twelve companies of military, with the city and county police of 300 men, remain on guard patrolling the streets of the entire city

The saloons are closed and will re main closed until further orders. Po lice have been stationed at each of th city schools. Orders have been issued prohibiting the sale of firearms and am munition without the written order o the military authorities. As a matter of fact, these stocks were practically exhausted Saturday night.

The lynching of Zeb Long, a negro at East Point, a suburb, early yesterday furnished the most exciting event of the last 24 hours. Long was arrested Sunday evening, charged with disorderly conduct. He was heavily armed and made a strong resistance. He had threatened the marshal of the town and appeared to be prepared to carry out his threats. He was taken from the East Point jail, a flimsy structure and was hanged in the woods half a mile from the town.

In the city police court Judge Broyles inflicted the extreme sentence of the law on six young white men, charged expense to consumer. with inciting to riot, giving each 30 days in jail and binding them over to the higher courts under $1000 bonds. The grand jury brought in true bills against two negroes charged with assault with intent to commit criminal assault on two young white women. Both assaults occurred within the last two weeks. In anticipation of possible further trouble, Mayor Woodward issued an order that all boys under 21 years must keep off the streets after 8 o'clock at night. He says this order is to be enforced strictly. He has also asked all citizens to remain in their homes at night until the present troubles have

The number of dead as a result of the riots thus far is still a matter of uncertainty. The police have the names of five negroes known to have been killed, and one unknown dead negro is held at an undertaker's office here.

Although Monday was quiet in the down-town districts, there were a number of disturbances in the outlying sec tions. A squad of Macon militiamen on duty in a negro settlement surprised and dispersed a company of negroes drilling on a back street. A gang of negro boys, 15 to 18 years old, beat a young white boy yesterday afternoon until he took refuge in a house. The young negroes said in explanation: "They would get even." Many negroes have left the city.

Governor Jelks on Mob Law .

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 25 .- "The two races can never get along until there is an understanding on the part of both to make common cause with the law abiding against criminals of any color." Thus spoke Governor Jelks, discussing the Atlanta riot. He continued: "The lynching of any person for whatever crime is inexcusable anywhere but the killing of innocent people under any provocation is infinitely more horrible, and yet innocent people are likely to die when a mob's terrible lust is once aroused."

Train Wreck In Minnesota

Minneapolis, Sept. 25 .- Four persons are dead and 15 or more are injured as a result of a rear-end collision of a passenger train and a switch engine in the railroad yards at New Prague The accident was caused by a switching engine running onto the main track on the time of the passenger train, which and injured were in the smoking car.

Cassatt Had Whooping Cough New York, Sept. 25 .- Regarding reports circulated in Wall street that President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad was critically ill, the road's directors authorized a statement that Cassatt is rapidly improving and that the slight loss of strength which he suffered as the result of a recent attack of whooping cough is being rapidly re-

FATAL BOXING MATCH

McKenzie Was In Poor Condition When Knocked Out Portland, Me., Sept. 25 .- A boxing

match at the Portland auditorium last evening between Terry Martin and Jack McKenzie, bith of Philadelphia, came to a sudden termination in the fifth round with the collapse of McKenzie and his death 10 minutes later. Just before the close of the round

Martin delivered a stiff uppercut, which struck McKenzie over the heart and then glanced to his jaw. McKenzie DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN staggered back, but immediately recovered and returned two blows before the gong rang. He went back to his corner and while his sconds were administering the usual restoratives he suddenly became unconscious and died on being carried to the dressing room.

Martin and his brother, who acted as his second, Steve Mahoney of Boston, Jack Sheehan of Boston and John Caulev went to the police station immediately after McKenzie's death and remained there to await the action of County Attorney Eaton.

McKenzie, who was 26 years old leaves a widow and child in Philadelphia. Martin was scheduled to fight Herman Miller of Baltimore, but the latter did not appear and the management induced McKenzie to go into the ring in his place. McKenzie, not expecting to take part in any boxing contest, had not observed any training regulations. He was therefore in rather poor physical condition when he came into the ring.

Policemen Perhaps Fatally Hurt Providence, Sept. 25.-Frank E Demers and Lawrence J. Durante, New Bedford, Mass., police officers, were thrown from an automobile in this city last evening and sustained probably fatal injuries. Both have fractured skulls and are otherwise injured. They had come here for the day, in company of Eugene H. Bien, a New Bedford hotelkeeper. Bien ran his car against and upon a curbing and then against an iron pole supporting an electric trolley wire. While the automobile was badly wrecked, Bien, who clung to his steering wheel, escaped injury.

Broken Dam Creates Havoc

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 25 .- With a rush and a roar that could be heard a mile away, the big dam which held in check the waters of a millpond at the head of Town brook gave way. Bridges were swept away, holes were torn in the sides of a brick power house, dwelling houses were undermined, while young fruit trees, small out-houses and grape arbors were carried away by the turbulent flood, and the residents in th vicinity of Newfields street and Willard place were given a terrible scare.

Name Used Without Sanction Boston, Sept. 25 .- John Golden of Fall River, whose name was presented as a candidate for lieutenant governor at the state convention of the Independence League, announces that his name should not have been used in connection with the office. He has requested Secretary Davis of the league to remove his name from the list of vice presidents of the league, on the ground that it was placed there without his

Child Fooled With Shotgun Brockton, Mass., Sept. 25 .- Anson | Notary Public. Neudzen, a Polish farmhand, was instantly killed by the discharge of a shotgun in the hands of a 6-year-old child, George Howe. The gun had been left in an express wagon and the little boy with his sister climbed in and found it. Neudzen was found on the floor of the barn with the top of his head blown off. Neudzen was 21 years old, and had no relatives in this country.

Right to Protect His Property Great Barrington, Mass., Sept. 25 .-Thomas Kelly, a hostler, went into Rob ert Weeks' barber shop and asked for a shave. He was intoxicated and Weeks ejected him from the shop. Kelly fell, striking his head, and death ensued immediately. Weeks was arrested and arraigned yesterday, Judge Sanford discharging him on the ground that a man had a right to protect his own property.

New Battleship In Commissism Boston, Sept. 25 .- In less than four days after her arrival at the Charlestown navy yard from the shipbuilders at Bath, Me., the battleship Georgia, costing $3,500,000, has been fitted out, and yesterday went into commission, being officially manned by a complete complement of men. Captain Davenport was given command of the ship.

Thaw's Counsel Wants to Hurry New York, Sept. 25.-The application of counsel for Harry K. Thaw, who was indicted for the murder of Standford White, for the removal of the trial of Thaw from the court of general sessions to the criminal branch of the supreme court, was argued before Justice Bischoff. Decision was reserved. Assistant District Attorney Smyth said: "The case cannot be tried in the supreme court any more quickly than in the court of general sessions. There are now 32 homicide cases awaiting for trial. Because this defendant has money and has caused considerable newspaper talk makes no difference with the court. I ask that the application be denied."

Head and Thigh Missing

New York, Sept. 25 .- The first arrests growing out of the police investigation of the murder of the man whose dismembered body was found wrapped in burlap in an excavation in this city were made last night when two men were taken into custody as suspicious persons. The search for the missing head and for the undiscovered thigh continues. One of the victim's thighs was found yesterday in a freight car, where it had been concealed after being bound in burlap. A butcher knife, with which the murder and subsequent mutilation is supposed to have been done, was also found.

Shirtwaist Gives Clue to Murder Pittsburg, Sept. 25.-Frank Riora, 42 years old, was found dead of stiletto wounds on the porch of 4003 Laurel avenue. How to Vote And How to Count As many voters are not familiar with the present system of voting at caucuses, the Daily Ledger prints in part the instructions issued by City Clerk Keith the caucus officers, as follows:

The provisions of the election laws apply to joint caucuses, except as hereinafter otherwise stated. When the voter presents himself at the guard rail, he must give his name, and, if requested, his residence, to one of the ballot clerks, who shall thereupon distinctly announce the same. If the name is found upon the voting list, the ballot clerk having charge of the list shall repeat the name and residence in a clear and audible voice and the name shall then be checked. If the name is marked Dem. or Rep. or Soc., he must be given a ballot of the party indicated. If the name is not marked at all, the voter must then be asked by the ballot clerk in charge of the ballots the following question:- "Which party ballot do you desire?" The voter's ballot clerk in charge of the voting list in the space indicated in front of the name, as follows:-

Democratic party, Dem. Republican, Rep. Socialist, Soc.

When the voter arrives at the ballot oox one of the inspectors in charge of the box, after finding the came on the check list, must check the same, but must not check the party selection.

HOW TO COUNT.

When the ballots are removed from the TO LET—House, No. 65 Spear street, eleven roems, furnace, modern conveniences, box, they must be first sorted into three piles, one for each party, and each pile hould be counted separately. Count the Democratic party ballots first, the Republican party ballots next, and the Socialist party ballots last, and the clerk should record each count as it is announced.

The votes must then be counted, beginning with those on the Democratic ballots, according to the rules set forth for counting votes at elections, that is, in blocks of fifty, and particular attention is called to the provision that "each block of ballots shall be called off and tallied by two election officers representing different political parties, and each election officer in so calling" off and tallying, shall be under the supervision of an election officer of a different political party." Thus four officers must be engaged in the count of each block of ballots.

The votes on the Democratic ballots having been counted first, the result must be announced and recorded, the ballots placed in the envelope for the Democratic ballots and this envelope sealed, before counting the Republican votes.

The votes on the Republican ballots must then be counted, the result announced and recorded, the ballots placed n the proper envelope, and the envelope sealed. The votes of the Socialist ballots must then be counted, the result anounced and recorded, the ballots placed in the proper envelope, and the envelope sealed. Elmer W. Baker will open his dred more American marines were ordered to Cuba yesterday by the navy department. Five hundred marines from the Atlantic fleet will sail today on the battleships Indiana and Kentucky from Provincetown, Mass., 800 or 900 marines will sail tomorrow from Boston, Norfolk and Philadelphia, and the remainder will probably leave New Orleans for Havana on a steamer scheduled to leave Friday or Saturday. Orders were first issued for 1000 marines from the various stations along the Atlantic coast to proceed to Cuba, but following dispatches from Secretary Taft, indicating that he has little hope of an amicable settlement of the troubles in Cuba, 500 additional marines from the North Atlantic fleet were instructed to prepare for Cuban service.

Boston, Sept. 26 .- The attempt to oust Lieutenant Governor Draper from means of a reciprocity lever operated by E. N. Foss of Boston failed at the Republican primaries held throughout the state. Efforts to supplant Congressman Ames in the Fifth district and Ernest W. Roberts in the Seventh, with other Republican candidates, also proved fu

On the other hand, returns from the few Democratic primaries showed that District Attorney Moran of Suffolk county had defeated the party leaders opposed to his candidacy for governor, and also showed that he had secured more than half the number of delegates necessary to secure his nomination.

There was a spirited contest in the Tenth congressional district between two aspirants for the Democratic nomi nation and returns indicate that Joseph O'Connell has defeated State Senator Logan. The Republican nomination for congress in the Eleventh district, which has been represented by a Demo crat since its creation four years ago will go to State Senator Lane.

There were contests for Republican nominations in 16 of the 40 senatorial districts of the state, while in the Democratic caucuses in Boston there were several candidates for the party nomination in other senatorial districts. Although the result of Foss' campaign was disappointing to his support-

Paint Which Lasts

Painters, and all others who understand paint, know that white lead and linseed oil make the best paint. Good, lasting paint cannot be had if either pigment or oil is adulterated.

Many of the so-called white leads sold now-adays have barytes, rockdust, silica, gypsum, etc., in them, and little real white lead.

Linseed oil is also frequently adulterated. Such mixtures are dear at any price.

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories. Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernest G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

Boston Politicians Take a Hand At Milton

Nearly 250 votes were cast on Wednes lay evening at the Democratic caucus in Milton, against 6 votes the preceding year. The supporters of both O'Connell and Logan for Congress put forth every effort to get out the voters, the former having a lead of only 279 in the palance of the district. Early that morning both forces were on hand and made a house-to-house canvass of the whole town, so that of the screws will be held on Dec. 3, and when the polls were opened at 7.30 at he Town Hall, several hundred men were assembled. There were more Light, The Naval Board of Inspection nor-voters than voters, the crowd including many Boston politicians. Both the candidates were present.

Ten automobiles were employed to bring the voters to the caucus. Red fire was burned outside the hall, and there was so much disorder inside thcock, Elizabeth A. Garrity, Josephine parish. Deaconesses are not frequently hall that Chief of Police Pierce had the seen in New England, but in Germany, hall cleared, and after that officers were stationed at the entrance who admitted only the voters and the two candidates, The office of deaconess was clearly an Messrs. The real fight of the evening was for he delegates to the Representative convention, and those chosen, it is said, are in favor of Wallace Wilson of Brainree. If this is so, it is against the plans formed by the town committee of 1906, when that body, at a former meeting with Avon and Holbrook, agreed to let the latter town have the choice for Representative.

It is said that the delegates to the arious conventions are unpledged.

Largest Warship Ever at Boston

Word has been received at the Charlestown Navy Yard that the new battleship Vermont, now nearing completion at the Fore River shipyards in Quincy, will arrive here on Nov. 29, says the Transcript, and that she is to be floated into drydock No. 2 at flood tide the following day. The ship will be cleaned and painted while in the dock, and is likely to attract a great deal of attention, for she will be the largest warship which ever came into Boston harbor, with a thousand tons more displacement than the battleships of the Georgia class, the heaviest which have so far entered the drydock.

The Vermont is coming here direct from her builders' yard for the purpose of being made ready for her official speed trials off the Maine coast near Rockland. The tests for standardization the four hours' speed run the day following on the way back to Boston and Survey will be on board and will have charge of the trial, while a builders' crew and captain from the Fore River works will sail the ship.

The Vermont will have a displace ment of 16,000 and 16,500 indicated horse-power. On her four hours' endurance run she will be required to make at least eighteen knots per hour, The ship's measurements are: Length, 456 feet; breath on water line, 77 feet; mean draft, 24 1-2 feet, and her bunker capacity will be .. bout 2200 tons.

Expedition marked the final day of the Republican state convention. From the time when it became known that Charles E. Hughes would be nominated for governor by acclamation, the other proceedings practically became formal and were pushed to completion with the utmost speed. The convention had an opportunity to hear and see Representative Herbert Parsons, whose meteoric career in politics has suddenly made him one of the most interesting figures of his party. Parsons made the speech proposing the renomination of Bruce, the ticket, and whom he praised highly.

Viewed in the light of past political elected. events, the Parsons achievement is considered remarkable. Opposed by almost every leader up state, he won a victory despite the fact that they made every maries. effort to find a candidate of their own

Hughes Acceptence Pledge

New York, Sept. 27.-Charles E. Hughes received the notification of his nomination for governor by the Republican convention while at his home at 570 West End avenue, with his wife and his two daughters. The news came to him in the form of a press telephonic message and a little later the confirmation was found in an official telegram from the convention itself.

Immediately he forwarded a formal message of acceptance through Senator Page. Hughes was content to al utterance at this time on the subject of his nomination, a message in which now reads "Drupks to all parts of according to his conscience, and in which he declared that, if elected, it would be his ambition to give "a sane, of base ball with Weymouth High next free from taint or bossism, or of servi-

His national prominence as the legal representative of the investigating committee of the life insurance charges brought him hundreds of invitations to deliver addresses in various parts of the country. MORAN FOR GOVERNOR Sure of Enough Delegates to

Secure His Nomination

Boston, Sept. 27.—John B. Moran, who was elected district attorney of Suffolk county less than a year ago, captured more than a sufficient number of delegates in the Democratic pri-maries held Wednesday night and last night to insure his nomination for governor at the state convention a week from today.

Of the 960 delegates entitled to seats in the convention, returns from all the 33 cities and 34 of the towns show that 562 are pledged to Moran and 161 are unpiedged, although it is said that a number of the unpledged delegates are favorable to Moran.

The opposition to Moran in his own party was even less evident in the primaries held last evening than in those of Wednesday, and unpledged delegations to the state convention which will be held in this city a week from Thursday are very few.

In the eastern portion of the state the Moran supporters had everything their own way, sweeping the big manufacturing centres, such as Fall River and Lynn, and nearly all the small towns In the western part of the state it was apparent that either the Moran leaders had neglected to organize or that he was not so well known, for a num ber of unpledged delegations were

Washington Officials' Opinion In Regard to Cuba

THE PURPOSE OF TAFT

Effort to Give Cubans Another Chance to Govern Their Own Close Touch With Situation

abating in any degree the preparation. for transporting troops to Cuba in accordance with the wishes of the president, the ranking officials in army and navy circles are still of the opinion that Secretary Taft will succeed in effect- Sept. 24. ing an arrangement which will obviate the necessity for the landing of a single American soldier on Cuban soil.

They believe that events in Havana are shaping up directly in accordance with the plans of the secretary of way and that, while the situation appears to be desperate, the present aspect is really only one phase of the program to clear the field for a complete reconstruction in Cuba, but that this did now necessarily involve intervention in the sense of occupation of the island by American troops. President Palma's withdrawal, or at least that of the conservative advisers who surrounded him, was, however, believed to be es sential to the working out of this plan. It is conjectured by the officials that Taft's purpose is to carry out direct instructions from President Roosevelt and give the Cubans another chance to govern their own island. The only way this could be worked out, they say, would be for him to call together som of the most patriotic and judicious of the Cubans, without regard to party affiliations, and ask them to create a provisional government. They point out that the insurgent generals would be asked to give their allegiance to this government, temporarily at least, and the military forces of the Palma gov- As much as you can use that won't ment would be expected to suppor that the provincial government rould be pledged to call new elections, under conditions that would insure control of the permanent government by a majority of the Cuban people, and that if they fail again to maintain order and security in the island, then intervention must ensue, resulting in prol able annexation.

President Roosevelt is expected to arrive in Vashington next Monday night and army officers are of the opinion that there will be no sensational developments in Cuban affairs before that time. The president has been constantly in communication with Military Secretary Ainsworth and eral days. All their plans for preparing to meet any emergency which may Chief of Staff Bell of the army for sevdemand the sending of troops to Cuba have been approved at Oyster Bay and the president has repeatedly concurred 3 DAYS OUTING, $3.40 the president has repeatedly concurred in recommendations by general staff officers that everything possible be in readiness for any turn the Cuban crisis may take.

At the president's suggestion officers in all parts of the United States have been advised to prepare for a call to service in Cuba, upon which call the men and officers of the army can be ready to sail long before transportation can be provided for them.

Although President Roosevelt has constantly cautioned the army to be prepared, he has been unwilling to have the quartermaster's department con-

The unwillingness of the administration to take this final step is regarded by array take this final step is regarded by array. take this final step is regarded by army men as an indication that President Roosevelt still hopes to avoid landing troops on Cuban soil. The war department cannot prepare commercia! shipa for transport service in less than a week after taking possession of them. Consequently if there were urgent demands Furniture and Piano Moving. for troops in Cuba at this time orders to rent steamers for transports would doubtless have been issued before this.

The army cannot depend on the navy for transport service and a score of more of merchant vessels must be chartered in case military occupation of the island be decided upon.

No sooner had the meeting assem oled than the pent-up indignation against the American peace commisoners broke forth. Several men be gan in loud voices and at the same ime to condemn Messrs. Taft and Ba eon, who were declared to have shown partiality in backing the rebels and dis erimination against the Moderate side of the controversy.. The speakers shouted denunciation of the American government and hotly insisted that the Moderate party should appeal to the powers of the world for protection against the usurpation of the sovereigny of Cuba by the United States.

It was declared that the governmen forces should fight to the death rather than submit to the terms insisted upor by the rebels, and one speaker depicted ne horrors of negro denomination which would result, he said, from the hreatened Liberal ascendancy, brought about with the alleged assistance of the

Some of the most radical present asserted that the government had plenty of dynamite in Havana which could be used to precipitate those international complications that accrue from the de-Hack, Livery and Boarding Stable struction of foreign property. Several prominent men said that by using dynamite they could bring about intervention by Germany, or perhaps by Great Britain, while others declared rashly that they knew that the foreign diplomats here would favor such a course and it was argued that the destruction of the German bank and the damaging of English railroad property would oon result in European intervention. Certain American properties also were specifically mentioned as convenient for such attacks. Several speakers even said that they would prefer Germany or Great Britain in Cuba to the United States. "Zayas' report is indicative of future trouble with the lawless element of the rebels. I feel certain that a settle ment of the trouble is possible only along the lines suggested by us. After an exhaustive investigation, we in formed both the Moderates and the Liberals that unless they were willing to listen to reason the United States mus enforce a settlement. I told them that a proclamation would be issued establishing a military government in the isl and, but that this would continue only so long as necessary to restore order general elections. I made it plain that this military government would surrender the conduct of affairs to the per sons fairly elected as soon as they could fairly establish themselves."

STENSLAND SENTENCED

er's Arrival In Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 27 .- Paul O. Stensand, to whose confessed embezzlement of $400,000 was due chiefly the col lapse of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, of which he was president, was sentenced in record time to serve from one to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Within three hours after Stensland's arrival in Chicago from Morocco, whither he fled before the bank failed, the former bank president pleaded guilty and received sentence. Before another three hours had elapsed the convicted banker had begun service of the sentence at Joilet prison.

Stensland pleaded guilty on two inlictments, charging embezzlement and violation of the state banking laws. A fine of $120 was imposed on the latter charge, which was based upon the acceptance of $60 in deposits after the bank was insolvent. The prison sentence imposed, which will operate concurrently, are from one to five and from one to 10 years, making the longest term possible 10 years.

State Attorney Healy says: "Stensland made a full confession of everything connected with the affairs of the bank. He has told us of his own acts and facts of others. What he has re vealed makes the bank affair less dark for himself."

Light on Butchery Mystery

New York, Sept. 27 .- Aaron Tashjion, aged 22 years, was arrested last night, charged with connection with the murder of his brother, Marhar Mararion, 35 years old. Mararion is the Armenian equivalent of the Turkish name Tashjion. The arrest was made on the theory that it was the older brother's body which was found dismembered in an excavation last Sunday, and followed a lively chase which started at the home of the men, where the police claim that they found evidence of the crime.

SMUGGLING CHINESE

Revenue Cutters Seeking Yacht

With Celestials Aboard Boston, Sept. 27.—Nipping in the bud gigantic plot to smuggle in a horde of Chinese coolies from the yellow skin colony at Newfoundland, the federal authorities have the cruisers Dexter and Gresham at sea, lying in wait for the 50-foot Boston yacht Frolic, which left Placentia, N. F., Sept. 22, with a live freight for Boston. The Bonita, another Boston yacht, is declared recently to have landed at Marblehead more than 50 Chinese, who are in hid-

School street, Boston, at 10 A. M. Mr. Lorenzo H. Loud of Dorchester, whose wife was Miss Eliza Nightingale of Quincy, died on Tuesday in his 85th year. He was a pioneer boot manufacturer at Weymouth, and years ago prominent politically. He lcaves a widow, a son and three daughters.

District United Against Quincy

Twenty-three votes will be necessary at the Repuliern Senatorial convention to nominate a candidate and it is said the Quincy candidate lacks two or three and that the balance of the district will be united against Quincy, because they have an idea this city is asking for too much, with its County Commissioner and County Treasurer, and a Senator as recently as 1901 and 1902.

There is therefore considerable question if Mr. Freeman will be successful in landing the nomination for Senator at the convention next Monday. The loss of two delegates in Quincy was a more serious one than would at first appear. Had Mr. Freeman received the solid Quincy delegation his nomination would have been practically assured.

Mr. Freeman claims all of the Weymouth delegates but there is an element of doubt about this. Others say that Mr. Freeman did not secure all of these delegates, and one at least if not two will cast their lot with Mr. Jenney at Hyde Park.

It is probably now that Charles F Jenney of Hyde Park or Fred M. French of Randolph will receive the nomination from the figures below:

Brockton's Festival.

The dates for the Broctkon Fair are

Oct. 2, 3, 4, 5. This is called the greatest and best of the fall festivals, where there is every year every form of outdoor entertainment, and where the horseman, the admirer of vaudeville, the man interested in agriculture, or the woman who cares for the domestic arts, and the mere man of the world who loves to watch a huge and interested crowd, all assemble to enjoy themselves, and go away to come again another day. Every year, without fail. the Brockton Fair is a perceptible improvement over all its predecessors. This year will be no exception. In addition to all other features are two eyeopeners: The somersaulting auto, and Knabenshue and his airship. The first is a beautiful young lady and auto turn ing a complete somersault in mid-air. Knabenshue says he'll fly, and fly for sure this year. October 5 is Firemen's day, and the usual muster and play-out will take place. It would take a column to enumerate all the Brockton Fair attractions. The main thing just now is not to forget the dates.

Hearst People Looking Beyond New York Governorship to the Presidential Chair-Battle of National Importance

New York, Sept. 28 .- The day after the close of two state conventions was not marked by any degree of activity in the working ranks of Republicans or Democrats, but was given up to discussion and a preliminary straightening out of the ranks into lines of battle for the campaign.

Most of the delegates to the Demoeratic convention at Buffalo returned last night on special trains. District Attorney Jerome came in on one of the trains, except No. 15. Returning on regular trains to and including the following Monday, last night on special trains. District Tammany specials. In reply to a request for an expression of opinion, he has given out no statement of acceptance and at his headquarters it is stated that Hearst has not as yet received official notification of his nominates of the same of the sa nation by the Democratic convention.

A factor that must not be overlooked. as an incentive to the Hearst people is the size of the prize. It is not the governorship of New York that is really at stake, but the presidency of the United States. Bryan indorsements would melt away under the convincing argument that somebody else could carry New York. Democrats in Arkansas and Arizona ask only one question about any prospective candidate for the presidency: "Can he carry New York?"

Having done so once was the sole qualification of Alton B. Parker. It Hearst should carry this state in November his nomination in 1908 would apparently depend upon himself. The fight here for the next six weeks there fore will be of national importance Half of the next presidential campaign takes place here in the next month, and New York's verdict in November will furnish a new basis upon which to estimate the country's future at least until

Among the Democratic leaders the attitude of Bourke Cockran in Wed nesday's convention has caused the most comment. In the midst of the most violent personal attacks and de monstrations, Cockran arose and de clared himself for Hearst, although in such tones and with such sarcasm as served to further increase the uproar Tremendous excitement was occasioned when he burst out: .

The Heart Can't Stand Rheumatic Acid Poisoning

To Free and Correct the Blood a Uric-O Treatment is Advised.

There is great danger in those sharp shoot ag pains through the chest around the region of the heart. It means that poisonous urie and rheumatic acid are there ready to spring and rheumatic acid are there ready to spring and grip tightly the muscles controlling the heart's action. Don't neglect these warmings, they are the danger signals Nature flashes to you for help. You must neutralize and drive these dangerous poisons from the system, or sooner or later they will overcome you. The only true way to cure Rheumatism is to get at it from the inside with Uric-O. It acts with marylous swiftness upon the myseles with marvelous, swiftness upon the muscles idneys and blood. Clears out the sand-like leposits in the muscles, forces the kidneys therform those duties for which they were lesigned and neutralizes the acid within the lead.

Your physician will admit that this is the lly true way to cure Rheumatism perma-ntly, and should know that Uric-O is the er remedy that will do it successfully and ermanently. Uric-O is a liquid taken in-rnally, 3 times daily and does not contain a iernally, 3 times daily and does not contain a drop of alcohol, opium or other dangerous poisons. It is good for Rheumatism in any form. Sciatica, Miscular, Inflamatory and Articular Rheumatism all yield readily to Uric-O. The store of E. J. Murphy is the home of Uric-O in Quincy, and if you call on him, he can tell you of many wonderful cures that Uric-O has made right here in your own home city. He sells it for 75c. and $1.00 the bottle or you can obtain a trial bottle free by writing to the makers of Uric-O, the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y.

A Delayed Wedding

[Original.]
Mr. Melanethon Peter—his name should have been Peter Melancthon, but it wasn't-had called on the morning of his wedding for a final word with his fiancee in order to make sure that nothing had been forgotten. They were to be married at high noon, and it was now 11 o'clock. But the groom was in costume, even to the boutonniere, and the bride needed only to put a few finishing touches to her toilet. After giving and receiving a few final reminders Mr. Peter, accompanied by Miss Blossom, his bride to be, went into the hall and through the front door, backing himself out in order to keep up his instructions and his eyes on his fiancee till the last moment. He descended the steps in this reverse order, then turned, and the door closed at the same moment. Now, in anticipation of a coal strike

Miss Blossom's father was getting in his annual supply of fuel. A coal wagon had just driven away, and the heaver had forgotten to replace the lid on the coal hole. The consequence was that as Mr. Peter turned and took a step forward he felt himself sink, and n another moment he was knee deep in a coal heap.

The only injury he suffered was scraping the skin off his left arm. He looked up and saw that he could almost reach the round opening above him, but to do so would require a jump. To jump on a heap of coal is like jumping on a quicksand.

When he was thinking what to do Berkshire Hills, Saturdays, Sept. 29th Brockton Fair, the biggest out-door suddenly the lid was clapped on the and Oct. 6. Tickets good on regular show in the east and all they really coal hole. Some one passing had seen trains leaving Boston 8.30 and 10.15 A. want to know are the dates. Four big the opening in the sidewalk and, sup-M., returning on regular trains to and days: Children's day; Governor's day; posing he was doing a kindly act, put including the following Monday. This Boston day; and Firemen's day. If on the lid. Mr. Peter cried out, but too

From an anticipated wedding ceremony in a fashionable church, in the presence of a fashionable assembly thoughts will pass through the brain at such a time. Many a person upon learning of some calamity has had an absurdity thrust itself into his brain. Mr. Peter was a college bred man and, being impressed with the readiness with which he had reached his present position, remembered an adage of the ancients, "Easy is the descent to hell." This he kept repeating-or, And we can rather it kept repeating itself without asking his permission-till he was re-PROVE IT asking his permission—thi he was to minded that he had better be devising some method of escape. But there was no escape. The only egress was a shute for the coal, but this was not practicable for Mr. Peter, because it must be opened from the outside. In fifty minutes his wedding would be due. He saw the people assembling, the bride and her attendants going to the church, then waiting for him in the vestibule; ushers going to the doors and looking up the street for him, anxious faces; the bride troubled and finally in tears.

This is what Mr. Peter saw in the coal hole, and it was what occurred. He took no note of time till a clock in a church tower near by struck the hour of 12. Then he knew that the wedding party was waiting that period of suspense which must lead to he knew not what had begun. At the last stroke of the clock he neard a step in the adjoining apartnent-doubtless the cellar. Only a poard partition separated him from it. He cried out. There was an interval of silence, then a voice:

"What is it? Who is it?" Mr. Peter, dreading lest the person would take to flight, cried lustily for help. After some delay the coal shute, which fortunately was above the partially filled bin, was opened by a servant, and Mr. Peter stepped out. The first thing he did was to look at his watch. It was five minutes past 12.

Dashing up the stairs, he gained the bathroom, and a glance in a mirror showed him a dusky face. Plunging it and his hands into a basin of water, he buttoned his coat as high as possible over his smudged collar and, descendshould not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness I was H. Flight Franke Ludge of Three ushers were straining their eyes up and down for him. Mr. Peter was hustled inside, where he was greeted by the bride to be with a mingling of anger, tears and sighs of re-Contractors. Her. There was no the guests had already too long waiting. Mr. Peter took his proper position, with his supports, on the opposite side of the vestibule, there was a creaking of the organ

Mr. Peter's coat being black and his trousers dark gray, his shirt collar being largely covered and his sleeves check for Five Hundred Dollars ($500) payable pulled down over his cuffs, showed no to the City of Quiney, which check shall be marks of his residence in a coal bin. More Bosses Than Workmen

An example of Boston politics has en shown in Quincy for the past few days in the laying of the underground telephone conduits on Merrymount road between Hancock street and the new building. The distance the ducts are to be laid is less than 200 feet, yet for the past few days there have been between 25 and 30 bosses on the job besides the men who do the labor.

These bosses hang about the job, dressed in their Sunday clothes, and are trying hard to kill time. This they do by kicking their heels against the barrels and boxes used for seats, and reclining under the trees. These bosses are said to be Boston ward heelers who have to be taken care of.

Boys Organize To Raise Funds

Last evening 50 boys and men enjoyed Yankee bean supper served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. The boys met to talk over methods of raising funds to furnish the new rooms that have been added to the Association building for their exclusive use.

Mr. W. H. Bentley, master of Coddington school, presided. He presented a subscription scheme to the boys. Two teams were formed to contest to see which could raise the largest sum in the two weeks between Saturday, Sept. 29, and Saturday, Oct. 12. Ambler Welch and Stapley Sherman are captains of these teams. With a corps of four lieutenants and twenty workers they both hope to raise a good round sum.

DETAILS OF STORM

Raged With Unprecedented Severity Along Gulf Coast

MANY DEATHS PROBABLE

Cat Mobile, Where Shipping Suffered More Than Anything stroyed. Else--Vessels Floated Into the the Waterfront devastated and a property loss of fully $3,000,000 is the effect of a tropical hurricane in the city of Mobile.

The storm struck Mobile Wednesday midnight and raged for many hours, the wind reaching a velocity of 90 miles an hour. Water from Mobile bay was blown into the city by the gale and for a time the sea stood seven feet deep in the wholesale quarter of Mobile. The loss of life is believed to be mainly among negroes, although conditions are so chaotic that information is indefinite. Shipping suffered severely.

Among the steamers sunk were the J. P. Schuh, the Mary E. Staples, the Mary S. Blees, Cama, Overton, Hattie B. Moore, City of Camden, the United States revenue cutter Alert and many other smaller craft. It is feared that the crews of these boats were lost, but nothing of a confirmatory nature can be given at this time.

Mobile has been placed under control of the militia. Nobody is permitted on the streets except newspaper men and persons wearing badges. Much apprehension is felt for the suburban towns, as it is feared that they have been obliterated. The chances are that the loss on Dauphin island is heavy. Many fishermen live on Dauphin island and other outlying marshy tracts, from which no tidings have been received.

The suffering in Mobile is severe. The annihilation of transportation facilities has shut off supplies and, unless help reaches Mobile from the outside world soon, great distress will result.

Every church in Mobile was damaged. The damage to Christ church cathedral is estimated at $40,000 and St. Francis Street Baptist church at Mobile's shipping suffered more than anything else. Many of the river boats are now beached or sunken and complete wrecks. The docks are fearfully wrecked. The revenue cutter Alert was rammed by some unknown vessel in Mobile river and sank immediately. Her crew is believed to have escaped, but nothing has been seen of them. The city was put under martial law at dark Thursday. No person is allowed to enter the wholesale district.

Telegraphic communication is paralyzed, with poor prospects of wires for several days. Electric light companies, street railways and in fact all business and half a dozen girl companions were has been suspended. Their girls when the wagon box was thrown lumber and timbers are scattered over from the gear and the girls were scatthe city and floating down the slowly falling river.

Much fear is entertained for Fort Morgan, where the government quar--antine station is situated and many soldiers live.

In the city many persons and much live stock were rescued after heroic efforts. Such cases are numerous. Provisions are almost exhausted. Restaurants feed many, but have no supplies on hand. Ham and eggs constitute their food supply. These, too, will soon become exhausted. Wholesale houses lost many thousands of dollars from the flood and willingly paid as high as $1.50 an hour for common labor and earnestly begged men to accept such pay, so frantic were they to save goods. Even at this figure few men would accept work.

The office of the Western Union Telegraph company was six feet under water. The batteries were flooded and it will be some time before business can be resumed. The Postal Telegraph building, while not so low, also suffered severely.

also the trestles and bridges. No communication can be had with the navy yard, but it is believed that the yard has been badly damaged.

War vessels at the Pensacola navy yard, undergoing repairs, were the gunboats Vixen, Machias, Isla de Luzon and Gloucester, besides several smaller craft and the quartermaster's steamer Poe. They were in an exposed position and it is feared they may have been beached.

Thieves Sept. 29.-Loss of life estimated at 50 are breaking open trunks all along the persons, many people injured, 5000 beach, entering unoccupied houses and houses damaged, the business quarter stealing what they can carry off. Several arrests have been made, but it is impossible to protect property.

Commencing at 7 o'clock Thursday night, the wind blew at 50 miles for three hours, then increased to 65 miles. From that time until 5 o'clock Friday morning it remained about 80 and 90 miles an hour. The tides from the bay backed into the city for blocks, destroying homes and making rivers out of streets. When the gale was at its highest, and women and children were running frantically about the streets in the darkness, an alarm of fire was sounded and this added to the confusion. The fire started in the Pitt mill. With the tin roofs flying about them, trees and wires falling over them, the firemen took their hose wagon by hand and rushed down the streets to the scene and after hours of work controlled the blaze.

Yesterday afternoon the water rose. Business districts present an almost indescribable scene. Of the 50 or 60 big steamers and sailing vessels lying in the harbor, only five or six are there now. They have been driven ashore and along the waterfront is a mass of wreckage of steamers, towboats, launches and sailing craft of all descriptions. Thirty fishing vessels in port have been destroyed or damaged and the three big fish houses, with their wharves, are gone. Great iron ships have been driven not only ashore. but have gone through houses a block from the waterfront.

Harvard Medical School Buildings Form Beautiful Group.

ALL ARE BUILT OF WHITE MARBLE

Features of Most Perfectly Equipped Department of Medical Instruction vided For Animals.

The dedicatory exercises in connection with the opening of the new buildings of the Harvard Medical school will be held at Boston on Sept. 25 and 26. They will fittingly inaugurate the largest and most perfectly equipped group of buildings devoted to medical instruction and research in the world and, from an architectural standpoint, one of the most beautiful groups in America, says a Boston correspondent of the New York Post.

For the construction and endowment of this new undertaking the university is indebted to the generosity of J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller. Mrs. Collis P. Huntington, David Sears, James Stillman and a number of other benefactors. The estimated cost of the undertaking was $4,950,000, all of which was secured before the plans dropping a raw egg in each, seasoning

The buildings now completed, exclusive of the large and well equipped power house, are five in number-one designed primarily for administration and four for laboratory purposes-i. e., (1) anatomy, comparative anatomy, histology and embryology; (2) physiology rut, and my advice was lost. Yet in and chemistry; (3) pathology, bacteriology and surgical pathology; (4) hygiene, pharmacology, comparative pathology and surgical research. The size and magnificence of these buildings the time she brought them in from a illustrate most strikingly the new era in medical teaching. A few years ago a building the size of any one of the plod along in the same dull repetition four main buildings constituting this of cookery. Lack of help in the house group would have been thought adequate for all purposes.

All the buildings are constructed of white marble, and the departments are so arranged that those most closely affiliated with each other are in the same building, while the rooms for change. each department are connected in the same way. All the buildings are connected by corridors on the basement level. In the center of each building is an amphitheater occupying two stories, and in the second story of each is a library. These are accessible from

Each laboratory building is equipped with every facility for carrying on the unequal sizes, as shown in the illustrawork of that special department-e. g., the anatomy and histology building has its separate driveway for introducing anatomical subjects, large refrigerator for storage, isolated dissecting rooms and an elevator so located as to properly serve the dissecting and demonstrating rooms; the physiology and chemistry building has its pens, cages, exercise yards, etc., for animals on the roof, while each department conducting operations on animals has its animal operating suit, equipped with most approved hospital appliances, the chemistry wing is constructed with special reference to the varied methods of research and investigation now attracting the attention of scientists; in the bacteriological and patho logical building four large students' laboratories occupy one wing, while the south wing is divided into mezzanine stories for research work.

Animals used in these departments are kept in a special animal house, and rooms and pens are provided to accommodate various animals, from cows with hooks, upon which can be hung and sheep to birds and frogs. PAPER BAG HOUSEKEEPING.

With a Little Thought It Could Be Made a Source of Comfort. Much is said in criticism of the tendency to live in paper bags so far as food is concerned. Now, on the other side it can be claimed justly that paper bags make housekeeping possible where none could exist if food could not be bought in small quantities from day to day or even meal to meal. Space is so contracted in city homes that it is often wiser to let the items In the World to Be Soon Dedicated of the dinner remain in the market at Boston - A Special House Pro- and grocery until nearly time to use them. Buying in small amounts is not > tion to waste. By giving thought to it the housekeeping that is limited to half and quarter pounds of supplies may yet yield much comfort. Monotony and lack of thought are the especial danger. It gets to be easier to live on bread and tea and canned stuff than to cook, but it need not be so, and these faults are noticeable where there is opportunity for a broader system of housekeeping. "My husband has no appetite and is

tired of meat and potatoes," said a woman with a large kitchen and outfit for cooking. "Why don't you cook him a couple of eggs in tomatoes?" was my reply, explaining the method of scooping out the seeds from the tomatoes, and baking them. "This would give him the elements in both meat and vegetables, and if seasoned tastily with salt and pepper it is most appetizing." "Oh, but it would be such a lot of work!" she exclaimed, shrinking from doing anything out of her usual what is termed paper bag housekeeping another woman would have served the tomato and eggs hot from a chafing dish or gas range in half an hour from grocery, while the first housekeeper, with her pantry and coal fire, would has also made what is sometimes given the name of light housekeeping a necessity, and in the present state of things it is hard to see how this sort of living can be eliminated or why it cannot be made a source of comfort.-Ex-

WAITING FOR CZAR

Terrorists Actually Within Peterhof Palace Enclosure

TWO ARRESTS ARE MADE

Armed Man and Woman Had Chance of Succeeding In Attempt Upon Czar's Life--Conspiracy Widely Extended

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.-A well-laid plot against the life of the czar, and one with all the chances of success on its side, was uncovered by the arrest of two armed terrorists, a man and a woman, in the quarters of one of the palace servants within the enclosure of the Alexandra palace, Peterhof, the czar's secluded and closely guarded summer residence on Cronstadt bay. The servant's son and another lackey named Klepnikoff, who were concerned in smuggling the terrorists through the guards and arranging their hiding place, were arrested for being implicated in the plot.

Emperor Nicholas had been expected to return to Peterhof this week and it is presumed that the terrorists intended to lay in wait and seize a favorable opportunity to shoot him while he was promenading or playing with his children in the palace grounds.

Part of the great park at Peterhof is protected on one side by the waters of the bay and on three sides it is enclosed by a high wall surmounted with iron spikes. This wall is constantly patrolled by trusted Cossacks. Inside the palace grounds the only buildings are the unpretentious palace and a few smaller houses where the servants are

The firm of Curtice & Co., stock brokers, was the medium through which a wealthy syndicate had manipulated the stock market to its own advantage. cessfully. And now upon this bright morning in early summer Jack Bentley was feeling decidedly well satisfied with life in general. His part of the transaction heat. "Now give them to me." had been well handled, his share in the way of commissions was distinctly gratifying, and in addition he had cleaned up a neat little sum by going into the deal on his own hook.

It was getting well into July, and as Bentley's automobile whirled up Fifth avenue his mind turned longingly from bling hands he opened a tin box and the city, sweltering in midsummer heat, to the vision of a clubhouse in the heart of the Berkshire hills.

It was a picture often in his thoughts. The long, low, rambling clubhouse, with its old fashioned garden at one side, a little winding brook sparkling and splashing between clumps of fern and low banks, willow fringed; a girl, sweet and gracious, her white frock cool against a great moss covered bowlder, the sunlight falling through the leaves in flickering shadows on her soft, fair hair.

In the height of the fight he had received her letter. "You'd better come," she wrote. "It's as lovely as ever here," and at the end again, "Do come." He had smiled as he telegraphed his answer There was no doubt of his attitude where Constance Elliott was concerned.

A great longing for country sights and sounds swept over him, for the woods and hills and her. A little while and he would have them. A few days' attention to straightening out the aftermath of the great fight and then-Constance had no parents to object, and even her old curmudgeon of a guardian-strange how he had always mistrusted that man-could not fail to be impressed by the tidy sum he had pulled out of the late deal.

Where Fifth avenue broadens into the plaza he mechanically lessened speed, his mind still with the girl in the Berkshires as the huge car turned smoothly into Central park.

And the first person his eyes lighted on was Constance Elliott.

The next instant he was before her, cap in hand, and she rose in astonishment to meet him. For a second they faced each other, he scarcely crediting the evidences of his senses, she coloring prettily and holding out one slim hand in cordial greeting.

He regarded her gravely. "Through some stock deal," she went on, with feminine vagueness. "Perhaps you've heard of it. Mr. Sheldon has made ever so much money lately-yesterday-and I am to make a lot in the same way. He has all my securities. I gave them to him this morning."

Had Sheldon appropriated the girl's money to his own use? That same instant Bentley was sure of it. His brain, used to quick deductions, leaped from the rumor on the street that Sheldon had been badly hit to the sudden wire to Constance-the secrecythe misrepresentation. and slip something small and shining into the pocket of his long, loose coat.

The situation from Sheldon's point of view was bad enough without the interference of Jack Bentley, who had entered his private office with scant ceremony.

"Mr. Sheldon," said that young man abruptly, "I learned an hour ago that you have, through misrepresentation, appropriated certain securities belonging to Miss Elliott." For once Sheldon's self possession deserted him. "What lie is this?" he cried, half rising from his chair. "And," continued Bentley coolly, "I

I was much impressed with the great amount of good work done there, and with the skill and kindness of the doctors, surgeons and nurses, who do so and had held numerous offices in that much to alleviate the sufferings of the many brought there for treatment.

During my convalescence, I was able to walk about the corridors and wards, and found everything neat and comfortable, as well as bright and cheery.

The nurses were unremitting in their attentions both day and night, and the matron was always ready with a bright smile and cheerful word.

I feel that in every way the Hospital is well worthy the support of the citizens of Quincy, and I hope that the day will not be long in coming when the Nurses' Home, which is so much needed, will be built and the Hospital years. itself be enlarged so as to give accommodation to a greater number of sufferers, as I understand many have to wait their turn for want of room.

Quincy Music Hall

The season at Quincy Music Hall is opening most auspiciously. Already there have been a number of engagements and more are booked.

The Hall has been elaborately decorated throughout by the New England Decorating Company of Boston. From the center chandelier ten streamers of solid colors, red, white and blue, go to the windows. Over each window there is an artistic red, white and blue drapery these being then linked together by white and blue streamers. The front of the gallery is covered with red, white and blue folds; the front of the stage with solid red. The single lights around the Hall are decorated with flags, and palms are used on the window sills and on the stage. On either side of the stage a big flag is gracefully draped. The whole effect is unusually pleasing.

A new fire escape has been added there are now six separate exits from ties, and they were very much surprised at its being put in, but the Management of the Hall wished to still further increase the excellent exit facilities that already existed.

Bellevue Park and Montclair.

Mr. and Mrs. David McLane of Dorchester have moved into the house recently occupied by Thomas A. Whalen. Mr. John N. Berlo of Sagamore avenue, Montclair celebrated his birthday, last Sunday by giving a party. Over one hundred people were there, many of which were relatives. Music was furnished through the day by the Independence band, of which Mr. John W. Berlo, Jr., is a member. Many of their friends came in automobiles and in the afternoon gave all the children a ride through Montclair. Mr. and Mrs. Berlo are to move to South Boston in a short time, for the winter.

Mrs. Young, mother of Mr. Edret Young, and granddaughter Miss Ethel Young, returned to their home in Brighton last week. They have spent part of the summer with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Young of Eliot avenue, Bellevue Park.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

The Location is the best of any hall in the city. The street cars pass the door with a turnout right in front of the Hall.

The Special Decorations which have just been put up are most effective, and add much to the appearance of the Hall.

The Floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect dition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing. The Ventilation-a most important consideration-is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded hall and without causing any drafts. The Hall is Lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light. The Heating is direct-indirect, ample, and giving the most healthful results. The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery. For Advertising, the Music Hall Billboards throughout the City are of very

To Darken the Hall, there are special window fittings so that at noonday the Hall can be made as dark as at midnight.

In case of fire there are pails of water and chemical fire extinguishers throughout the Hall. There is an asbestos fire curtain by which the Stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper. There are ten (10) doors opening from the Hall and

Humphrey Hopeful Of Nomination

[From Brookline Chronicle.]

The unpledged delegates won out in narrow margin over the vote cast for for County Treasurer. The result is These cases are specially assigned for due to energetic electioneering on the part of supporters of Mr. Cunningham. There has been some criticism of the methods used to obtain votes for the unpledged delegation, and it is said that persons of doubtful standing in the party, if indeed they are members of it at all, voted at the solicitation of Mr. Cunningham's lieutenants.

Of the unpledged delegation, at least two are known to favor Mr. Humphery, and three more have not expressed a choice, so it is not unlikely that Mr. Humphrey will have the votes of at least four or five of the thirteen delegates. However, this makes little difference, as he stated recently that if he could rely on the assurances he had received 3252, Nickerson vs. Boston Elevated from those working in his behalf, he would surely receive 60 or 65 out of the 101 votes in the convention.

> Should the Brookline delegation decide to back up the local candidate, Mr. Benjamin P. Richardson, who has just entered the Treasurership contest with a sound endorsement, it is not improbable that Mr. Humphrey's majority over Mr. Cunningham would be weakened to such an extent as to give the Brookline candidate a good fighting chance. One of the delegates, Mr. Charles H. Pearson, said before the caucus that he was in favor of a Brookline candidate for treasurer, and there is every reason why the delegation should unite on Mr. Richardson, as his fitness is unquestionable.

Village Schoolmaster Who Became Cuba's President

Tomas Estrada Palma, Whose Regime Is the Issue In the Pearl of the Antilles

Gentle In Temperament, He Favors Peace, Not War - Though Born Rich, He Scorns Gorgeous Display of Power-Bereft of Fortune and Parents and Exiled For Many Weary Years, He Devoted His Talents to the Good of His Countrymen who during the past few weeks has loomed measurably large in Spain a prisoner. The official interrogator, after taking his name and his place of residence, asked:

"What is your occupation?" "I am president of the republic of Cuba," replied the prisoner.

The interrogator shrugged his shoulders. The reply was not satisfactory. He regarded it as flippant. Again he asked the prisoner what was his occupation and again received the same reply. The Spanish inquisitor was furithe shrug, and he said sternly:

The man was Tomas Estrada Palma, now the actual president of the real re- Spaniards, he took his mother's maiden public of Cuba. He was then, in 1877, name of Palma, adding it to his faprovisional president of the insurgent ther's name without the connecting republic, which carried its capital on horseback through the forests and over derlying democracy. He has been called in turn the Franklin of the public eye was taken to Cuba, the "Father of His Country" and the Theodore Roosevelt of Cuba. Like Benjamin Franklin, he ably represented his native land abroad in its struggle; like George Washington, he fought for independence in the field and became the first chief executive of his liberated country, and, like Theodore Roosevelt, he was born rich, was highly educated, became a lawyer, but devoted his talents to political efforts in behalf of his people.

But all such characterizations fail to ous. This time a snort was added to assign Palma to his proper place as a historical personage. So many points in his career differentiate him from any other man in history that he is unique. Says one admirer, "Let us call

It is related that Palma wept when some weeks before his inauguration he landed at Gibara and again set foot upon his native soil. Again when he visited his birthplace and met a sister whom he had not seen for thirty years he wept. And again when he caused, the disinterment of his mother's remains and their reburial at the old home, the mother having died from Spanish tortures and cruelties during the ten years' war, General Palma's grief is said to have been as touching as if his mother had just died. This tender heartedness, this love of family, is one of the Cuban president's most distinguishing characteristics.

"The Little Schoolmaster."

Palma came to New York after his release from the Spanish prison in 1878. Being penniless and unable to speak English, he soon found that New York was not the place for him. General Maximo Gomez, with whom he had fought for years and who had been his secretary of war during Palma's brief experience as provisional president, was then in Honduras. He wrote to Palma, urging him to go to that country. Palma borrowed money from friends and went to Honduras, where the president of that little republic appointed him postmaster general. The Cuban revolutionist soon married the president's daughter, and a son was born to the couple. Another president coming into power, Palma lost his official position and brought his family to New York, determining to become an American citizen. He settled at Central Valley, in Orange county, forty miles above the metropolis, and opened the Estrada Palma institute in a roomy, old fashioned farmhouse, where he took up his residence. Here for nearly eighteen years he lived, teaching English to Cuban and other Spanish-American boys and teaching Spanish to the boys of his neighborhood. Head Master Palma, or Estrada, as he was known in Central Valley, soon became proficient in English himself, though he still speaks it with a strong Spanish accent. He was known affectionately in Central Valley as "the little schoolmaster." There five more children were born to the family, making the future Cuban executive's brood equal in number to President Roosevelt's.

When in 1895 the second and successful war for Cuban independence began Schoolmaster Estrada was unanimously chosen by the Cuban revolutionary societies in various countries to represent the revolutionists as their general agent for the raising of funds with which to carry on the war. Palma opened a dingy little office in New York city and for three years worked incessantly, raising hundreds of thousands of dollars for the cause.

The war ended, Cuba free by grace of the intervention of the United States, Palma returned to his home at Central Valley. He had closed his school upon taking charge of the "junta." He was poor. There was still a mortgage upon his house and twenty-four acres of land at Central Valley. But the land was fertile, and the old patriot, like Cincinnatus, set his hand to the plow and started in to make a living as a gardener. In semisarcasm somebody called him "a gentleman farmer."

Such was Tomas Estrada Palma when there came from Cuba an irresistible demand that he should stand for the presidency of the new republic. At first he demurred. He was sixty seven years old. Married in middle life, his children were still growing up around him. He was deeply devoted to his family and his quiet home life. Moreover, ha felt that the place of executive power, the honor of being the first president, belonged to another.

"General Gomez," he said, "is entitled to it. He has been fighting in the field. I have been away for many years. Gomez should have it."

But Gomez himself came to New York and urged Palma to accept the candidacy. The rest is history.

Compliments of the Ten Years' War. Up in Central Valley the common folk still call the president of Cuba "Mr. Stradder." They knew him chiefly as the village schoolmaster, an undersized, grayish man, of modest demeanor, somewhat rusty black clothes and a nervous manner. Quite handsome he might have been but for two reasons-bullets. These were Spanish compliments of the Ten Years' war. One had blazed a bare spot on the right side of the upper lip, so that the old patriot's mustache on that side grew in two sections. The other had clipped his right eye, nearly closing it. Frequently he rubbed this eye, as if it pained him. Then he had a habit of tapping nervously with one foot or with one hand while talking. When a newspaper man visited him at the president elect his foot tapped the bare floor of the room in which the guest was received, for the floor was carpetless; also some of the boards were warped.

Down in Cuba in the palace at Havana there are no warped boards in "I would rather be shot as president | the floors, and the carpets are thick and velvety. President Palma draws an annual salary of $25,000, voted to him by the Cuban congress.

When Jose Palma, eldest son of the president, married a pretty girl in New York three years ago without the knowledge of the parents on either side the president of Cuba upon learning of the elopement sent his son a time being refused to forgive their daughter, though she had married a president's son. INSPECTED MEAT TAGS

Eteps Taken Toward Observing New Government Law.

LABELS TO AID THE CONSUMER.

Famous Gelatin Stamp Will Be Put on All "Primal Cuts" of Fresh Meat, Important Label Will Be Placed With a Rubber Stamp on Ham and Bacon-Special One For Export.

Since the agitation of the last few months over the meat inspection law it will be of interest to consumers to know what the new labels provided by the government will look like. Some of these are reproduced by the Washington Star for the benefit of the consumer, who will thereby know what to look for in his butcher's shop if he is supposed to be getting government inspected meat.

Perhaps the most important of the lot is the one that will be placed on all of the "primal cuts" of the fresh meat before it leaves the abattoir. This is the famous gelatin label about which so much was heard during the last weeks of Dr. Salmon's incumbency as chief of the bureau of animal industry, The chances are that the consumer will never see the label in its entirety. It is a peculiar device made on a mosquito net backing and the netting filled with the thinnest sort of a laver of gelatin. The legend is in indelible ink and reads, "United States Inspected and Passed," with an arbitrary number indicating the packing house. This label is stuck on the moist piece of meat. The gelatin dissolves out, and it together peels off. But the black ink stays for keeps till the meat is cooked. This label or some part of it is very apt to appear on the piece of meat on the block if it has passed the government inspection. The only legitimate reason for its not appearing is that the meat may be of home originthat is, killed in some packing or slaughter house within the limits of the state, in which case it need not bear the inspector's stamp of approval. Of course the label may be cut up in course of slicing down the meat at retail, but the object of the inspectors will be to stick it on where it will be left undisturbed the longest during the cutting process.

Another of the important government labels is that which will be placed with a rubber stamp on such meat as ham and bacon where there is a skin that will take such a mark. It reads the same in abbreviated form, "U. S. Ins. Psd.," with the same sort of a number indicating the packing house from which the goods originated. This label is about two inches square. These are the two principal marks in which the consumer will be interested. though there is another more like an internal revenue stamp printed on paper and about 2 by 3 inches. This is a fine piece of engraving, bearing the eagle and shield in one corner with an elaborate ornamental border. The inscription reads, "United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, Inspected and Passed." This label will be canceled after it is used by a red stamp with the name of the inspector and the number of the establishment whence the goods came. This stamp is for box goods and will be on the wooden boxes of canned the owner's private label approved by the department of agriculture. Boxes of canned goods cannot be carried by the railroads in interstate commerce without bearing this stamp.

For meat that is done up in burlap wrapping, as much of the fresh meat twelve inches long and less than half an inch broad. This has a special catch on one end so that when the sharp end of the tin is run through the cloth wrapping and into the catch it is impossible to get it out again. The tin strip is stamped, "Inspected and Passed," like the other labels and is for the guidance of the railroads who have to transport the meat.

There are several other stamps and labels that the public will seldom if ever see. One of these is the special label for export. It is the same as the paper box maker for use in the United States, except that it has "special to countries where the laws permit the use of dyes and preservatives.

There is a big, vicious looking rubber stamp that it is hoped the public will never see. It reads, "U. S. Inspected and Condemned." It is the tank for fertilizer.

ties. He stood between the czar and destruction. Autocracy itself was ranged behind the stalwart form of Trepoff. He was the one barrier between that tempestuous and cruel sea of mobs and popular passions that raged around the imperial throne and autocratic institutions. It was significant that the czar, accustomed to all kinds of breakdowns and all sorts of treasons, should say of Trepoff, "He is one of the few men I can thoroughly rely It was he who became the guiding spirit of the reaction after Nicholas II. had issued his famous manifesto in the Trepoff was specially ruthless in his treatment of students who had any connection with revolutionary societies, and in 1897 he was shot and badly wounded by Vera Sassoulich because he had had her affianced husband publicly flogged for failing to salute an officer of the gendarmerie. Her trial was a cause celebre. It was the first and the last public jury trial in Russia of a political prisoner. The girl entered the plea that she had shot at Trepoff in order to call the country's attention to Trepoff's brutality toward victims were sent to the diphtheria the students. Public sentiment was intensely aroused, and the jury unanimously acquitted her. Dimitri received his education in the page corps and followed his father's footsteps in the police department. With a better education, but even more firmness and resolution, he rose quickly, and after acting as police master at various provincial towns, where he always "kept the lid on," he attracted the attention of Sergius, then governor general of Moscow and the most reactionary of the grand dukes. and by him was named police master of Moscow. Trepoff soon became Sergius' right arm in fighting the revolutionary student agitation, of which the ancient capital was the hotbed. One of the latest attempts on Trepoff's life occurred on Jan. 1, 1905. while the general was bidding farewell to Grand Duke Sergius as the latter was departing on a railway train at the Moscow station. A man named Poltavatsky appeared upon the scene and fired three pistol shots at close range at the general. another conspiracy, having attempted to execute a sentence of the terrorists. One of them was a baroness, the wife of a guard officer, the other Mlle. Leontieff. Under the direction of the latter, after the male members of the band had failed, they fired their revolvers at Trepoff in his cabinet. Neither shot took effect. The girls fled. The baroness committed suicide by throwing herself under a moving train, and the other took poison, but was saved. After this Mlle. Leontieff disappeared, and it was supposed she was confined in the Sts. Peter and Paul fortress, but she later appeared as the assassin of Herr Muller at Interlaken.

In his dungeon-like room in the center of the palace, where no bomb could reach him save by shattering a dozen walls, with the telephone constantly at his side, Trepoff issued orders, received reports and imprisoned this man and exiled that one. At night he made excursions through the city in a Red Cross ambulance sleigh to personally inspect his troops. His personal courage was beyond all question. He had almost a contempt for death.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"My Tom Boy Girl," the American musical comedy drama spectacle by Chas. E. Blaney, with that little queen of comediennes, Miss Lottie Williams, in the leading roles, will be next week's attraction at the Boston Grand Opera House. The supporting company will include fifty people. It was a lucky inspiration that led Mr. Blaney to the exploitation of "My Tom Boy Girl," as the play is a romantic novelty drsma of life in the North and South. The leading role for Miss Williams is a masterful combination of thrilling dramatic action, sparkling wit and sweet and entrancing melodies. Matinees will be given as usual on Tnesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Railroad Victim Still Unknown

The police have been diligently at work trying to place the identity of the man killed by the cars at the Squantum street bridge Sept. 22. Many believe that the family of Frank Uranio, about Monatiquot lodge, No. 83, K. of P., whose house the man was Friday night has appointed a committee to run a know something of him, although they stoutly deny that they do.

The police have interviewed the several members of the family but have been unable to obtain any satisfaction in that line. The claim made was that is being prepared. It is expected that an elder daughter in the family knew the rank of Esquire will be conferred the man and that his purpose in hanging about the house was to see her. This the girl stoutly denies. This is the only possible clue that the police had and it is doubtful if the identity of the man is ever learned. Mr. Uranio says that had he been at home when the man came prowling about that he would have shot him. The members of the Democratic dele-
